Teitl: Rheoliadau'r Gwasanaeth Iechyd Gwladol (Trefniadau, Pryderon, Cwynion ac iawn) (Cymru) (Diwygio) 2011

Gweithdrefn: Negyddol

Mae'r Rheoliadau hyn yn diwygio rheoliadau'r Gwasanaeth Iechyd Gwladol (Trefniadau Pryderon, Cwynion ac iawn) (Cymru) 2011 ("y prif Reoliadau").

Mae rheoliad 2(1) yn gohirio'r dyddiad y daw Rhan 7 o'r prif Reoliadau i rym, o 1 Hydref 2011 tan 1 Ebrill 2012. Mae Rhan 7 o'r prif Reoliadau yn ymdrin â'r modd y mae iawn i'w ddarparu pan fo Ymddiriedolaeth GIG yng Nghymru neu Fwrdd Iechyd Lleol yng Nghymru yn ymuno mewn trefniant i ddarparu gwasanaethau iechyd gyda chorff GIG yn Lloegr, yr Alban neu Ogledd Iwerddon.

Materion technegol: craffu

O dan Reol Sefydlog 21.2, ni nodir unrhyw bwyntiau i gyflwyno adroddiad arnynt mewn cysylltiad â'r offeryn hwn.

Rhinweddau: craffu

O dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3(ii), ei fod o bwysigrwydd gwleidyddol neu gyfreithiol neu ei fod yn codi materion polisi cyhoeddus sy'n debyg o fod o ddiddordeb i'r Cynulliad, mae'r Pwyllgor yn adrodd i'r Cynulliad fel a ganlyn.

Cefndir

Mesur Gwneud iawn am Gamweddau'r GIG 2008 oedd y Mesur Cynulliad cyntaf i gael ei basio gan y Cynulliad. Mae'r Mesur yn galluogi Gweinidogion Cymru i wneud Rheoliadau sy'n caniatáu ar gyfer gwneud iawn mewn amgylchiadau pan fydd atebolrwydd cymwys mewn camwedd mewn perthynas â darparu gwasanaethau cymwys. Gall gwneud iawn gynnwys ymddiheuro, eglurhad, camau gweithredu, camau unioni ac, os yw'n briodol, iawndal ariannol.

ADRODDIAD DRAFFT Y PWYLLGOR IS-DDEDDFWRIAETH

Y gyfres gyntaf o reoliadau a gafodd eu gwneud gan Weinidogion Cymru o dan y Mesur hwn oedd Rheoliadau'r Gwasanaeth Iechyd Gwladol (Trefniadau Pryderon, Cwynion ac Iawn) (Cymru) 2011 ("y prif reoliadau"), a osodwyd gan Edwina Hart AC, y Gweinidog dros Iechyd a Gwasanaethau Cymdeithasol ar y pryd, ar 7 Chwefror 2011.

Diben y prif reoliadau yw ei gwneud yn haws i gleifion fynegi pryderon os nad ydynt yn fodlon neu os oes problemau â'u gofal yn y GIG. Byddant hefyd yn sicrhau bod ymagwedd y GIG at sefyllfaoedd o'r fath yn fwy cyson ac yn arwain at ganlyniadau tecach i gleifion a staff.

Yn 2007, cymerodd y Pwyllgor Is-ddeddfwriaeth, fel y'i gelwid bryd hynny, dystiolaeth ar y Mesur a chyflwynodd adroddiad arno. Roedd y Pwyllgor yn argymhell y dylid cael lefel gryf o waith craffu ar gyfer Rheoliadau a wneir o dan y Mesur ac y dylid cael ymgynghoriad eang arnynt.

Cafodd y prif reoliadau eu hystyried gan Bwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol y Trydydd Cynulliad ar 17 Chwefror 2011. Cyflwynodd y pwyllgor hwnnw adroddiad ar rinweddau'r prif reoliadau a gwnaeth y sylwadau a ganlyn:

"Rydym wedi ystyried y Rheoliadau presennol mewn perthynas â'r materion a godwyd uchod, yn enwedig a fu digon o ymgynghori ynghylch y rheoliadau ac a yw'r Rheoliadau fel y'u cyflwynwyd yn adlewyrchu'n ddigonol y materion a godwyd yn ystod yr ymgynghoriad ...

Er y credwn fod y pryderon cyffredinol ynghylch Mesurau 'Fframwaith' yn parhau i fod yn rhai dilys (ac er ein bod yn nodi'r amser sylweddol a aeth heibio ers pasio'r Mesur), rydym yn fodlon y bu'r ymgynghoriad ar y Rheoliadau draft hyn yn drylwyr a chynhwysol a'i fod wedi ymateb i'r pryderon a godwyd."

Roedd y prif reoliadau yn ddarostyngedig i'r weithdrefn gadarnhaol a chawsant eu cymeradwyo gan y Cynulliad yn y Cyfarfod Llawn ar 8 Mawrth 2011. Daethant i rym ar 1 Ebrill 2011, ac eithrio darpariaethau yn Rhan 7 o'r rheoliadau y bwriadwyd iddynt ddod i rym, yn wreiddiol, ar 1 Hydref 2011.

Cafodd Rheoliadau'r Gwasanaeth Iechyd Gwladol (Trefniadau Pryderon, Cwynion ac Iawn) (Cymru) 2011 ("y rheoliadau diwygio") eu cyflwyno gan Lesley Griffiths AC, y Gweinidog Iechyd a Gwasanaethau Cymdeithasol, ar 12 Gorffennaf 2011.

Diben diwygio'r rheoliadau yw gohirio'r dyddiad y daw Rhan 7 o'r prif Reoliadau i rym, o 1 Hydref 2011 tan 1 Ebrill 2012.

ADRODDIAD DRAFFT Y PWYLLGOR IS-DEDDFWRIAETH

Mae Llywodraeth Cymru o'r farn bod angen hyn er mwyn caniatáu i gyrff GIG Cymru a gweddill y DU gytuno ar fanylion y trefniadau gweithrediadol. Yn ôl y Memorandwm Esboniadol a ddaw gyda'r Rheoliadau:

“The reason for this change is to allow more time for this work to be completed since the initial assessment that a coming into force date of 1 October 2011 would be sufficient time to agree these amendments, is not now achievable.”

Gwneir newid arall i reoliad 52(5) o'r prif reoliadau i adlewyrchu'r dyddiad newydd y bydd Rhan 7 o'r Rheoliadau yn dod i rymac mae'n ei gwneud yn glir na fydd y trefniadau trawsffiniol y cyfeirir atynt yn Rhan 7 yn berthnasol i wasanaethau a ddarperir gan gyrff y GIG yn Lloegr, yr Alban na Gogledd Iwerddon ar ran cyrff y GIG yng Nghymru cyn 1 Ebrill 2012.

Ystyriaeth gan y Pwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol a Deddfwriaethol

Explanatory Memorandum to the National Health Service (Concerns, Complaints and Redress Arrangements) (Wales) (Amendment) Regulations 2011

This Explanatory Memorandum has been prepared by the Department for Health, Social Services and Children and is laid before the National Assembly for Wales in conjunction with the above subordinate legislation and in accordance with Standing Order 27.1.

Minister's Declaration

In my view, this Explanatory Memorandum gives a fair and reasonable view of the expected impact of the National Health Service (Concerns, Complaints and Redress Arrangements) (Wales) (Amendment) Regulations 2011.

Lesley Griffiths AM

Minister for Health and Social Services

11 July 2011

1. Description

The effect of these Regulations is to delay the coming into force date of Part 7 of the NHS (Concerns, Complaints and Redress Arrangements) (Wales) Regulations 2011 (the Regulations) which deals with cross border arrangements, from 1 October 2011 to 1 April 2012, to allow the detailed operational arrangements to be agreed. A further amendment to regulation 52(5) also reflects this change.

2. Matters of special interest to the Constitutional and Legislative Affairs Committee

There are no matters of special interest to highlight to the Committee.

3. Legislative background

The power to amend the Regulations is found in sections 1, 11(2)(d) and 11(3) of the NHS Redress (Wales) Measure 2008. These are powers of Welsh Ministers.

4. Purpose & intended effect of the legislation

The effect of these Regulations is to delaying the coming into force date of Part 7 of the NHS (Concerns, Complaints and Redress Arrangements) (Wales) Regulations 2011 (the Regulations) which deals with cross border arrangements, from 1 October 2011 to 1 April 2012 to allow the detailed operational arrangements to be agreed.

The reason for this change is to allow more time for this work to be completed since the initial assessment that a coming into force date of 1 October 2011 would be sufficient time to agree these arrangements, is not now achievable.

One of the tasks is to review the current contractual arrangements to include details about the operating arrangements cross-border and recovery of costs from English NHS bodies, to support the arrangements in the Regulations. It is proposed to establish a virtual working group of representatives from Wales and England with planning and contract experience to scope out what is required within existing and new contracts to facilitate the process of offering redress. This work will also need to take account of the use of sub-contractors by English NHS bodies for delivering a package of care or aspects of care, such as physiotherapy, and the subsequent indemnity arrangements where there is a qualifying liability in tort.

The aim is to develop model clauses for insertion into commissioning contracts. This would ensure there is a consistent approach to dealing with these matters and will ensure, for the mutual protection and benefit of contracting parties and, ultimately, Welsh patients that all relevant matters are covered in commissioning contracts.

It is necessary to support staff in Welsh NHS bodies and English NHS bodies in understanding and applying the cross-border redress arrangements. In conjunction with the Department of Health and NHSLA it is proposed to develop detailed operational guidance for Welsh and English NHS bodies to effectively implement and operate the cross border arrangements. This will outline how the process will work and provide guidance on the day-to-day management of cases. Similar guidance will need to be developed by Welsh Government officials to assist LHBs on the rare occasions when they may enter into an arrangement with an NHS body in Scotland or Northern Ireland.

A further amendment to regulation 52(5) of the Regulations reflects the new coming into force date for Part 7 of the Regulations and makes it clear that the cross border arrangements in part 7 will not apply to services provided by English NHS bodies, Scottish NHS bodies or Northern Irish NHS bodies on behalf of Welsh NHS bodies before 1 April 2012.

The current regulation 52(5) provides that complaints about services provided by such bodies on behalf of Welsh NHS bodies before 1 October 2011 will not be considered under Part 7.

The change is considered necessary as patients can have up to a year to bring a complaint (sometimes longer), therefore, under the provision as currently drafted it would be possible for a complaint to be reported about a service that was provided before the new contractual arrangements were in place. Whilst it is possible to draft the contracts to take this into consideration, this is not ideal as it would involve the contracts having an element of retrospectivity which would be particularly difficult where a body with whom a Welsh NHS body contracts for the provision of a service in turn sub-contracts for the provision of that service to a third party. It would also, if the provision remains as drafted, cause difficulty if a complaint was made about a service provided a year earlier under a contract that had expired as there would be nothing to amend to insert the relevant provisions relating to recovery etc. that are needed to implement redress.

If the legislation is annulled and the original coming into force date of 1 October 2011 remains unchanged, then this could cause considerable difficulties in setting up a workable process in good time. It would be better to spend more time in detailing the requirements, as this will ultimately benefit patients.

5. Consultation

The Welsh Government is already in discussion with the Department of Health and the NHS Litigation Authority in relation to these requirements. In terms of formal consultation, there have been two previous consultations on the principles behind the main Regulations. This change (a delay in the coming into force date) is administrative in nature, is required to ensure the best possible arrangements are put in place for the benefit of patients, and will be taken forward with the involvement of NHS colleagues on both sides of the border. It has therefore been concluded that it is not necessary to carry out further consultation on this occasion.

6. Regulatory Impact Assessment (RIA)

It is considered that no RIA is required to accompany this amending legislation since a full RIA was carried out on the main Regulations which were made earlier in the year and that document did not specifically cover the cross border implications - the likelihood of any impact in these situations being insignificant. This amending legislation has no impact on the statutory duties (sections 77 -79 GOWA 06) or statutory partners (sections 72-75 GOWA 06).

Teitl: Rheoliadau Cymwysterau a Chofrestru Prifathrawon (Cymru) (Diwygio) 2011

Gweithdrefn: Negyddol

Mae'r Rheoliadau hyn yn diwygio Rheoliadau Cymwysterau a Chofrestru Prifathrawon (Cymru) 2005 drwy newid y diffiniad o "Cymhwyster Proffesiynol Cenedlaethol ar gyfer Prifathrawiaeth yng Nghymru" yn rheoliad 3(2) o'r rheoliadau hynny. Bydd gofynion y "Cymhwyster Proffesiynol Cenedlaethol ar gyfer Prifathrawiaeth yng Nghymru" yn newid o gwblhau cwrs hyfforddiant a gymeradwywyd gan Weinidogion Cymru i gyflawni safonau penodol a gymeradwywyd gan Weinidogion Cymru.

Craffu technegol

Ni wahoddir y Cynulliad i dalu sylw arbennig i'r offeryn hwn o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.2.

Craffu ar rinweddau

O dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3, gwahoddir y Cynulliad i dalu sylw arbennig i'r offeryn canlynol:-

Daw'r offeryn hwn yn sgîl adroddiad Estyn ar y Cymhwyster Proffesiynol Cenedlaethol ar gyfer Prifathrawiaeth yng Nghymru, ac yn sgîl gwaith ymchwil Llywodraeth Cymru. Daeth adroddiad Estyn i'r casgliad fod y cymhwyster yn aneffeithiol a:

- bod nifer y rheini sydd wedi ennill y cymhwyster yn fwy o lawer na nifer y swyddi prifathro/prifathrawes; ac
- nad yw'r broses ddethol o reidrwydd yn dewis y bobl sydd fwyaf addas i fod yn brifathrawon; a
- bod angen diwygio cynnwys y rhaglen.

Nododd y Times Educational Supplement fod undebau'r athrawon yn croesawu'r newidiadau i'r cymhwyster a'u bod ar yr un pryd yn mynegi pryder y gellid cael effaith andwyol ar nifer y prifathrawon cymwys pe na bai rhywbeth yn cael ei gyflwyno'n ddi-oed i gymryd lle'r cymhwyster. Mynegwyd pryder hefyd am gyllid ar gyfer hyfforddiant ym maes arweinyddiaeth. Wrth ymateb, dywedodd Llywodraeth Cymru nad oedd y cyllid ar gyfer y cymhwyster yn cael ei dynnu'n ôl ac y byddai'r ymgeiswyr cyfredol yn cwblhau'r rhaglen. Dechreuwyd cynllun peilot ar y cymhwyster diwygiedig yn gynharach eleni.

Explanatory Memorandum to The Headteachers' Qualifications and Registration (Wales) (Amendment) Regulations 2011

This Explanatory Memorandum has been prepared by the Department for Education and Skills and is laid before the National Assembly for Wales in conjunction with the above subordinate legislation and in accordance with Standing Order 27.1

Minister's Declaration

In my view, this Explanatory Memorandum gives a fair and reasonable view of the expected impact of The Headteachers' Qualifications and Registration (Wales) (Amendment) Regulations 2011.

Leighton Andrews

Minister for Education and Skills

15 July 2011

1. Description

These Regulations amend the definition of the National Professional Qualification for Headship (“NPQH”) in the Head Teachers’ Qualifications and Registration (Wales) Regulations 2005. The NPQH will now mean such standards as the Welsh Ministers may from time to time approve as opposed to a formal course of training in order to ensure full flexibility for the future.

2. Matters of special interest to the Constitutional and Legislative Affairs Committee

None

3. Legislative background

The power to make these Regulations is contained in sections 135 and 145 of the Education Act 2002. These Regulations amend the Head Teachers’ Qualifications and Registration (Wales) Regulations 2005.

The Regulations follow the negative resolution procedure.

4. Purpose & intended effect of the legislation

Currently, the Head Teachers’ Qualification and Registration (Wales) Regulations 2005 state that, with certain exceptions, no person may serve as a Head Teacher in Wales without holding the NPQH. The NPQH is defined in regulation 3(2) of the Head Teachers’ Qualifications and Registration (Wales) Regulations 2005 as the successful completion of such course of training as the Welsh Ministers may from time to time approve.

The Department for Education and Skills are piloting a new rigorous approach to the NPQH to ensure that the most capable candidates are available for headship posts when they arise. This involves an assessment of practical experience against Leadership Standards based on a portfolio of evidence that teachers will develop throughout their career rather than a training course based approach.

In order to provide maximum flexibility during the pilot exercise and beyond, the definition of the NPQH is being amended in these Regulations to the fulfilment of such standards as approved by the Welsh Ministers. This will ensure flexibility to amend the programme following completion and evaluation of the pilot and indeed in the future.

5. Consultation

This is a technical amendment to existing legislation, and as such no formal consultation exercise has taken place.

We consulted in 2002 on the introduction of a mandatory requirement for first time headteachers in Wales to hold the NPQH with 81% of respondents in favour. In September 2004 a further consultation exercise was undertaken to consult on the draft Headteachers' Qualifications and Registration (Wales) Regulations 2005 as well as the content of the NPQH guidance document (Circular 001/2008).

Extensive discussions have taken place, and are ongoing, with stakeholders regarding the changes proposed to the NPQH arrangements. These have formed part of the wider review of Professional Standards, CPD and Performance Management of teachers and the school workforce.

6. Regulatory Impact Assessment (RIA)

A Regulatory Impact assessment has not been prepared as the Regulations do not impose any additional costs on businesses, employers or other third parties.

“PWYNT ADRODD TECHNEGOL RHIF 1: Rheoliad 4 (c) – Gwall teipograffyddol yw'r testun “(Cymru)” yn nheitl y Rheoliadau. Nid oedd unrhyw reoliadau cyfatebol ar wahân a oedd yn gymwys i Gymru'n unig. Mae rheoliad 4(c) yn dirymu O.S. 1994/2853 o ran Cymru yn unol â phwerau Gweinidogion Cymru i wneud hynny.

Ymhellach, ac o ran eu cymhwyso i Gymru, mae rheoliad 4(a) yn dirymu prif reoliadau sef Rheoliadau Carcasau Eidion (Dosbarthu) 1991: O.S. 1991/2242. Mae rheoliad 4(a) yn dirymu O.S. 1991/2242 fel y'i diwygiwyd. Felly mae modd dadlau nad oes gwir angen dirymu O.S. 1994/2853.

Bwriedir cywiro'r gwall teipograffyddol pan fydd y Rheoliadau yn cael eu cyhoeddi. Sef, dileu'r cyfeiriad “(Cymru)” yn rheoliad 4(c). Bernir bod cywiro'r gwall wrth gyhoeddi yn ddigonol am y rhesymau a roddwyd.

PWYNT ADRODD TECHNEGOL RHIF 2: Rheoliadau 2(1) a 26 – Derbynnir y dylai fod diffiniad o “darpariaeth moch Ewropeaidd” yn nhestun Cymraeg y Rheoliadau. Bydd y Rheoliadau yn cael eu diwygio i gywiro'r gwall hwn cyn cynted â phosibl.

PWYNTIAU CYHOEDDI: Bydd y pwyntiau a godwyd fel rhai sy'n addas i'w cywiro wrth i'r Rheoliadau gael eu cyhoeddi yn cael eu gweithredu hefyd. “

The Beef and Pig Carcase Classification (Wales) Regulations 2011

This Explanatory Memorandum has been prepared by the Rural Affairs Department and is laid before the National Assembly for Wales in conjunction with the above subordinate legislation and in accordance with Standing Order 27.1

Minister's Declaration

In my view, this Explanatory Memorandum gives a fair and reasonable view of the expected impact of the Beef and Pig Carcase Classification (Wales) Regulations 2011. I am satisfied that the benefits outweigh any costs.

Alun Davies AM – Deputy Minister for Agriculture, Food, Fisheries and European Programmes

21 July 2011

1. Description

This instrument

- Revokes and replaces the (i) Beef Carcase (Classification) Regulations 1991 (S I 1991 No. 2242) and (ii) Pig Carcase (Grading) Regulations 1994 (SI 1994 No. 2155 as amended) in relation to Wales; and
- enforces EU provisions on beef and pig carcase classification and associated price reporting where applicable as contained in EU legislation - Council Regulation (EC) No. 1234/2007 establishing a common organisation of agricultural markets and on specific provisions for certain agricultural products and Commission Regulation (EC) No. 1249/2008 laying down detailed rules on the implementation of the Community scales for the classification of beef, pig and sheep carcasses and the reporting of prices thereof.

2. Matters of special interest to the Constitutional and Legislative Affairs Committee

These Regulations do not amend any provision of an Act or Measure and the Welsh Ministers have determined that they are to be subject to the negative procedure.

3. Legislative background

These Regulations are made in exercise of powers contained in section 2(2) of the European Communities Act 1972. The Welsh Ministers were designated to exercise these powers, in relation to the EU Common Agricultural Policy, by virtue of the European Communities (Designation) (No. 5) Order 2010, SI 2010/2690.

This instrument is made under the negative procedure.

4. Purpose & intended effect of the legislation

This instrument is being made using the powers under the European Communities Act 1972 and has been the subject of consultation with interested Stakeholders.

Section 80 of the Government of Wales Act 2006 places Welsh Ministers under a statutory duty to give effect to EU obligations where they have the powers to do so. Welsh Ministers must give effect to the relevant EU legislation. Welsh Ministers are required to create a statutory enforcement mechanism to give effect to Commission Regulation (EC) No. 1249/2008. In the rest of the UK this was achieved in 2010.

The Beef and Pig Carcase Classification (Wales) Regulations 2011 will:

- Revoke and replace the (i) Beef Carcase (Classification) Regulations 1991 (S I 1991 No. 2242) and (ii) Pig Carcase (Grading) Regulations 1994 (SI 1994 No. 2155 as amended) in relation to Wales; and
- Enforce EU provisions on beef and pig carcase classification and associated price reporting where applicable as contained in EU legislation - Council Regulation (EC) No. 1234/2007 establishing a common organisation of agricultural markets and on specific provisions for certain agricultural products and Commission Regulation (EC) No. 1249/2008 laying down detailed rules on the implementation of the Community scales for the classification of beef, pig and sheep carcasses and the reporting of prices thereof.

5. Impact

This instrument applies in relation to Wales. Similar instruments have already been introduced in England, Scotland, and Northern Ireland. Introducing this Instrument will bring Wales up to date and in line with the rest of the UK and avoid any distortion issues.

The EU legislation lays down rules on the implementation of the community scales for the classification of beef, pig and sheep carcasses and the associated price reporting to the EU Commission. EU beef and pig classification and deadweight price reporting continue to be compulsory for Member States, though under the EU legislation carcass classification according to the Community scale remains optional for the sheep sector; it has therefore been decided that the instrument will not cover the sheep sector.

Most of the new EU implementing legislation does not represent any significant change from the previous EU Regulation, except in the way beef carcasses may be presented on the slaughter line (their 'dressing specification') for classification and pricing. Ongoing discussions over a long period have been held with interested stakeholders (including farmer organisations and the meat industry) to reach agreement on a new UK beef dressing specification, which was subsequently approved by the European Commission in mid 2008. Following this agreement, Defra and the Rural Payments Agency (RPA) met with stakeholders in July 2008 to discuss the implementation of the new UK beef dressing specification, the details of which were subsequently incorporated into Commission Regulation (EC) No. 1249/2008.

There is no impact on charities or voluntary bodies, or the industry at large. No significant impact on the public sector is anticipated.

6. Consultation

The draft Regulations were the subject of a five-week consultation (which ended on 05 May 2011) with stakeholders in the Welsh red meat industry. Four responses were received [Farmers' Union of Wales, Hybu Cig Cymru - Meat Promotion Wales (HCC), the National Beef Association (NBA) and NFU Cymru]. No objections were received although a few corrections to the SI were suggested which have been considered and incorporated.

Regulatory Impact Assessment

Part

The Beef and Pig Carcase Classification (Wales) Regulations 2011

1.2. Purpose and intended effect of the regulations

1. 2.1 The European Commission has consolidated legislation governing agricultural commodity markets into a single common organisation of the markets (Single CMO) regulation. This incorporates three regulations setting rules on the classification of and price reporting on beef, sheep and pig carcasses. Most of the EU implementing regulation does not represent any significant change, except in the way beef carcasses may be presented for classification and pricing.

1. 2.2 Wales (and the rest of the UK) is required to introduce measures to enforce EU legislation which was directly applicable from 1 January 2009 The purpose of the regulation is to comply with this requirement. This instrument applies in relation to Wales.

1.2.3 This instrument is being made using the powers contained in section 2(2) European Communities Act 1972 .

1. 2.4 Section 80 of the Government of Wales Act 2006 places Welsh Ministers under a statutory duty to give effect to EU obligations where they have the powers to do so. Welsh Ministers must give effect to the relevant EU legislation. Welsh Ministers are required to create a statutory enforcement mechanism to give effect to Council Regulation (EC) No. 1234/2007 and Commission Regulation (EC) No. 566/2008. In the rest of the UK this was achieved in 2010.

1. 2.5 These Regulations will be made in exercise of powers contained in section 2(2) of the European Communities Act 1972. The National Assembly for Wales was designated to exercise these powers, in relation to food and the primary production of food, by virtue of the European Communities (Designation) (No 5) Order 2010, SI 20102690.

Policy objective

1.2.6 The policy objective is to implement the consolidated articles of the Single CMO on carcase classification and price reporting into domestic legislation across the UK. A secondary objective is to reduce the number of dressing specifications for beef carcasses used in the UK from 5 to 3 with the new UK specification recently approved by the Commission becoming the standard one used in GB. It is aimed at improving transparency in price reporting on cattle sold between farmers and the meat industry.

Options - Compliance with EU legislation

1.3.1 The EU legislation must be given effect by domestic legislation. There is no option to do otherwise and a failure to make a SI could lead to infraction action being taken by the European Commission which could involve significant financial penalty. After considerable discussion between stakeholders, industry as well as Government agreement was reached and the UK specification approved by the EU in 2008. There has been consultation in other parts of the UK on parallel regulations which were introduced in 2010.

1.3.2 EU regulations are directly applicable in Member States and non-compliance or under-implementation would be in breach of EU obligations. Failure to make these Regulations could lead to costly infraction proceedings by the Commission against the UK with Wales having to meet the considerable sum from allocated funds. It is considered that the regulations should be introduced as they will ensure that the Welsh Government can fulfil its obligations under the EU law. The compelling argument is therefore to introduce as required. . There are no implications in respect of equality and fairness.

1.3.3 The instrument will not have any impact on economic, social or environmental sustainability issues.

4. Consultation

1.4.1 This RIA formed part of a formal consultation which raised no objections. There is a duty to introduce these regulations. The impact on the industry is expected to be minimal partly due to the fact that the EU regulations have already been implemented in other parts of the UK and the industry throughout GB is already working to these rules. It is recommended that the regulations are introduced in Wales as per the proposed SI.

Teitl: Gorchymyn y Cwricwlwm Cenedlaethol (Trefniadau Aseu wrth Dderbyn i'r Cyfnod Sylfaen) (Cymru) 2011

Gweithdrefn: Negyddol

Yn ôl adran 108(2)(b)(iii) Deddf Addysg 2002 gall Gweinidogion Cymru bennu'r trefniadau aseu y maent yn ystyried yn briodol ar gyfer y cyfnod sylfaen drwy orchymyn. Mae'r Gorchymyn hwn yn sefydlu'r trefniadau hynny.

Materion technegol: craffu

Ni nodwyd unrhyw bwyntiau i fod yn destun adroddiad o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.2 mewn perthynas â'r offeryn hwn.

Rhinweddau: craffu

O dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3(ii) gwahoddir y Cynulliad i roi sylw arbennig i'r offeryn hwn - (ii) ei fod o bwysigrwydd gwleidyddol neu gyfreithiol neu ei fod yn codi materion polisi cyhoeddus sy'n debyg o fod o ddiddordeb i'r Cynulliad.

Mae erthygl 5 yn cynnwys y ddarpariaeth anarferol ganlynol -
"Caiff Gweinidogion Cymru wneud unrhyw ddarpariaeth sy'n rhoi effaith lawn i ddarpariaethau'r Gorchymyn hwn neu'n ychwanegu atynt rywfodd arall (ac eithrio darpariaeth sy'n rhoi neu'n gosod swyddogaethau fel a grybwyllir yn adran 108(6) o Ddeddf 2002) ac sy'n ymddangos yn hwylus iddynt."

Y pŵer galluogi yw Adran 108(11) Deddf Addysg 2002 ac sy'n nodi-
"An order under subsection (2)(b)(iii) or (3)(c) may authorise the making of such provisions giving full effect to or otherwise supplementing the provisions made by the order (other than provision conferring or imposing functions as mentioned in subsection (6) or (7)) as appear to the Welsh Ministers to be expedient; and any provisions made under such an order shall, on being published as specified in the order, have effect for the purposes of this Part as if made by the order."

ADRODDIAD OS DRAFFT

O ganlyniad bydd Gweinidogion Cymru'n gallu gwneud darpariaethau pellach i roi'r Gorchymyn presennol ar waith yn llawn neu ychwanegu at ei ddarpariaethau, heb orfod gwneud gorchymyn diwygio a fyddai'n destun craffu i'r Cynulliad. Serch hyn, defnyddiwyd y pŵer hwn gan y Cynulliad ar sawl achlysur (yn wreiddiol rhoddwyd y pŵer i'r Cynulliad) a gan Weinidogion Cymru (trosglwyddwyd y pŵer i Weinidogion Cymru yn dilyn Deddf Llywodraeth Cymru 2006).

Nid yw hyn yn ddefnydd anarferol nac annisgwyl o'r pŵer yn adran 108(11), sydd i'w nodi o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.2(ii), ond mae'n bŵer anarferol, ac felly yn un pwysig.

Explanatory Memorandum to the Education (National Curriculum) (Assessment Arrangements on Entry to the Foundation Phase)(Wales)
Order 2011

This Explanatory Memorandum has been prepared by Department for Education and Skills and is laid before the National Assembly for Wales in conjunction with the above subordinate legislation and in accordance with Standing Order 27.

Minister's Declaration

In my view this Explanatory Memorandum gives a fair and reasonable view of the expected impact of the Education (National Curriculum)(Assessment Arrangements on Entry to the Foundation Phase)(Wales) Order 2011.

I am satisfied that the benefits outweigh any costs.

Leighton Andrews AM, Minister for Education and Skills

Description

This order will apply to all practitioners/teachers and head teachers of maintained schools that are delivering the Foundation Phase from September 2011 and to leaders of funded non-maintained settings from September 2012.

This order will require all children to be assessed, against six Developmental Areas when they first enter the Foundation Phase. Those areas are:

- Personal, Social and Emotional;
- Speaking and Listening;
- Reading and Writing;
- Sort, Order and Number;
- Approach to Learning, Thinking and Reasoning; and
- Physical.

Although the prime purpose will be to inform each child's developmental needs around which their learning programmes can be prepared; the information will also be collected centrally to provide a national picture of each cohort's basic skills and developmental needs.

Matters of special interest to the relevant Assembly Committee

There are no matters of special interest raised by the statutory instrument.

Legislative Background

The Order is made in exercise of the power conferred upon Welsh Ministers by sections 108(2)(b)(iii), (5), (6) and (9) and 210 of the Education Act 2002.

The Statutory Instrument is to be made using the negative resolution procedure.

Purpose and intended effect of the legislation

This order introduces assessment arrangements appropriate to the new Foundation Phase curriculum which will be fully implemented from the start of the 2011/12 school year.

The Education (Baseline Assessment) (Wales) Regulations 1999 currently contain the assessment arrangements for the start of the first key stage. However, all references to the first key stage will be removed from primary legislation to coincide with the Foundation Phase being fully rolled out on 1 September 2011. The Foundation Phase will of course replace the first key stage. These regulations will therefore become redundant and will have no legal effect. The enabling power under which those regulations were made has in any event been repealed, albeit that the repeal has not been commenced. It is our intention to commence this repeal on 1 September 2011.

A new Child Development Assessment Profile has been developed for use with the Foundation Phase and will be used by all schools and funded non-maintained settings that are delivering the curriculum for 3 to 7-year-olds. The introduction of the Profile will ensure that all learners will be assessed against the same developmental areas when they enter the Foundation Phase. The Order will require schools and funded non-maintained settings to use the Profile.

We intend to collect the results of the assessments centrally to provide a national picture of each cohort's basic skills and developmental needs. Without the introduction of this new Order and the single national assessment profile it would not be possible to collect any meaningful data.

Consultation

There is no statutory requirement to consult prior to making the Order. Officials have and will continue to engage with stakeholder on the development of supporting guidance.

a) Options

Option 1: Do nothing

If the Education (National Curriculum) (Assessment Arrangements on Entry to the Foundation Phase) (Wales) Order 2011 is not made, the result would be that:

- there will be no consistency or standardisation on how children's developmental needs are assessed on-entry to the Foundation Phase in order to take their learning programmes forward;
- the funded non-maintained settings would continue to have no statutory duty to undertake any assessment of children as they enter the Foundation Phase;
- schools would be required to administer assessment arrangements which are not fit for purpose.

Option 2: Introduce new Order

If the Education (National Curriculum) Assessment Arrangements on Entry to the Foundation Phase) (Wales) Order 2011 is made, the result will be that:

- all children will be statutorily assessed on entry to the Foundation Phase (whether in a funded-non maintained setting or in a maintained setting) against the same developmental areas;
- we will be able to introduce the Child Development Assessment Profile which has been developed to specifically address the assessment requirements of the Foundation Phase and to replace the current schemes which are not fit for purpose;
- the introduction of a single national assessment profile will enable meaningful data to be collected centrally which will provide a national “baseline” of children as they enter the Foundation Phase.

b) Costs and Benefits

Option 1: Do nothing

There are no discernible or specific benefits or costs from not introducing the Order.

If it is not made, schools will continue to be required to administer a baseline scheme that is not fit for purpose or relevant to the Foundation Phase.

Funded non-maintained settings would not be required to undertake a statutory assessment of their children on entry to the Foundation Phase and potentially not providing the appropriate developmental learning programmes for all children.

Option 2: Introduce Order

A number of benefits will accrue from implementation of this Order;

- there will be a uniform assessment procedure in place for all providers delivering the Foundation Phase whether in a funded non-maintained setting or a maintained school;
- children’s developmental needs will be assessed on-entry to the Foundation Phase against the same developmental areas in order to take their learning programmes forward;
- the introduction of a single national assessment profile will enable meaningful data to be collected centrally which will provide a national “baseline” of children as they enter the Foundation Phase.

This is the most effective option which fully addresses the policy aims and objectives of the Foundation Phase – the delivery of a holistic development curriculum which aims to give all children the best possible start in life and meet the diverse needs of children including those who are at an earlier stage of development and those who are more able.

The costs of providing these rich experiences for children of 3 to 7- years is directly supported by a specific grant to local authorities to support the implementation of the Foundation Phase and the associated workforce development and training. The introduction of the Profile and the on-entry assessment requirements will be accommodated and funded by this specific grant. The costs of £60,000 of producing the Profile and the associated guidance will be met from DfES publications budget.

c) Competition Assessment

The Order will have no detrimental effect on competition.

d) Consultation

There is no statutory requirement to consult prior to making the Order. Officials have and will continue to engage with stakeholders on the development of supporting guidance.

e) Post implementation review

The effect of the Order and the introduction of the profile will form part of the full evaluation of the Foundation Phase which will commence during the Summer of 2011. That evaluation will consider the administrative arrangements for the on-entry assessment both in schools and non-maintained settings, the appropriateness of the Profile and the benefits that accrue to children as they move through the Foundation Phase and into Key Stage 2.

Gweithdrefn: Negyddol

O dan adran 108(2)(b)(iii) o Ddeddf Addysg 2002, caiff Gweinidogion Cymru bennu drwy orchymyn unrhyw drefniadau asesu sydd, yn eu barn hwy, yn briodol i'r cyfnod sylfaen. Mae'r Gorchymyn hwn yn darparu y caiff disgyblion eu hasesu yn y flwyddyn olaf o'r cyfnod sylfaen gan athro neu athrawes, ac mae'n nodi diben yr asesiadau hynny.

Materion technegol: craffu

Ni nodwyd unrhyw bwytiau i'w hadrodd o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.2 mewn perthynas â'r offeryn hwn.

Gwahoddir y Cynulliad i roi sylw arbennig o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3(ii) mewn perthynas â'r offeryn hwn - (ii) ei fod o bwysigrwydd gwleidyddol neu gyfreithiol neu ei fod yn codi materion polisi cyhoeddus sy'n debyg o fod o ddiddordeb i'r Cynulliad.

Mae erthygl 5 yn cynnwys y ddarpariaeth anarferol a ganlyn - "Caiff Gweinidogion Cymru wneud y darpariaethau hynny y mae'n ymddangos yn hwylus iddynt eu gwneud ac sy'n rhoi effaith lawn i'r darpariaethau a wneir o dan y Gorchymyn hwn (ac eithrio darpariaethau sy'n rhoi neu'n gosod swyddogaethau fel a grybwyllir yn adran 108(6) o Ddeddf Addysg 2002) neu sy'n ychwanegu atynt mewn ffordd arall."

Y pŵer galluogi yw adran 108(11) o Ddeddf Addysg 2002, sydd fel a ganlyn -

"An order under subsection (2)(b)(iii) or (3)(c) may authorise the making of such provisions giving full effect to or otherwise supplementing the provisions made by the order (other than provision conferring or imposing functions as mentioned in subsection (6) or (7))

as appear to the Welsh Ministers to be expedient; and any provisions made under such an order shall, on being published as specified in the order, have effect for the purposes of this Part as if made by the order.”

Felly, bydd Gweinidogion Cymru yn gallu gwneud darpariaethau pellach i roi effaith lawn i ddarpariaethau'r Gorchymyn presennol neu i ychwanegu atynt heb orfod gwneud gorchymyn diwygio y byddai'n rhaid i'r Cynulliad graffu arno. Fodd bynnag, mae'n bŵer sydd wedi'i ddefnyddio gan y Cynulliad ar nifer o achlysuron (rhoddwyd y pŵer i'r Cynulliad yn wreiddiol) a chan Weinidogion Cymru (trosglwyddwyd y pŵer iddynt yn sgil Deddf Llywodraeth Cymru 2006).

Nid yw hyn yn ddefnydd anarferol neu annisgwyl o'r pŵer yn adran 108(11), yr adroddid arno o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.2(ii), ond mae'r pŵer ei hun yn anarferol, ac felly mae'n un o bwys.

Explanatory Memorandum to the Education (National Curriculum) (End of Foundation Phase Assessment Arrangements and Revocation of the First Key Stage Assessment Arrangements) (Wales) Order 2011

This Explanatory Memorandum has been prepared by Department for Education and Skills and is laid before the National Assembly for Wales in conjunction with the above subordinate legislation and in accordance with Standing Order 27.

Minister's Declaration

In my view this Explanatory Memorandum gives a fair and reasonable view of the expected impact of the Education (National Curriculum) (End of Foundation Phase Assessment Arrangements and Revocation of the First Key Stage Assessment Arrangements) (Wales) Order 2011.

I am satisfied that the benefits outweigh any costs.

Name of Minister: Leighton Andrews AM, Minister for Education and Skills

Description

This order will apply to practitioners/teachers and head teachers of maintained schools that are delivering the Foundation Phase and who are responsible for undertaking assessments when a child is at the end of the final year of the Foundation Phase.

The provisions of this order apply for the purposes of ascertaining the attainment in three of the Foundation Phase Areas of Learning. Those areas are:

- Personal and Social Development, Well-being and Cultural Diversity;
- Language, Literacy and Communication Skills in either Welsh or English;
- Mathematical Development.

The Order provides for pupils to be assessed by a teacher at the end of the Foundation Phase and sets out the purpose for such assessments. The Order also provides for Welsh Ministers to undertake an evaluation of the assessment arrangements.

Matters of special interest to the relevant Assembly Committee

Legislative Background

The order is made in exercise of the power conferred upon Welsh Ministers by sections 108(2)(b)(iii), (5), (6), (9) and (11) and 108(3)(c), (7) to (11) and 210 of the Education Act 2002.

The Statutory Instrument is to be made using the negative resolution procedure.

Purpose and intended effect of the legislation

This order puts in place assessment arrangements which are appropriate to the new Foundation Phase curriculum which will be fully implemented from the start of the 2011/12 school year.

The current order which, will be replaced, sets out the assessment arrangements which were designed for the first Key Stage of the National Curriculum and which has been replaced by the Foundation Phase

The effect of the proposed changes to the assessment arrangement is that the existing Order covering end of the first Key Stage - the Education (National Curriculum) Assessment Arrangements for English, Welsh, Mathematics and Science) (Key Stage 1) (Wales) Order 2002 - will be repealed and replaced with the Education (National Curriculum) (End of Foundation Phase Assessment Arrangements and Revocation of the First Key Stage Assessment Arrangements) (Wales) Order 2011.

The proposed end-of-phase assessment arrangements mirror those already in place for the end of First Key Stage. Currently the core subjects of English or Welsh, mathematics and science are statutorily assessed and the results collected centrally as part of the National Data Collection exercise. The results are included in the annual report to parents along with their child's progress in all other curriculum subjects.

In effect the three Areas of Learning replace the National Curriculum core subjects which are statutorily assessed at the end of the First Key Stage. As with the current arrangements for the core subjects, the end-of-phase results will be collected centrally and included in the report to parents, as will the other Areas of Learning that make up the Foundation Phase.

Consultation

There is no statutory requirement to consult prior to amending the order. Officials will, however, engage with stakeholder on the development of supporting guidance.

Regulatory Impact Assessment

a) Options

Option 1: Do nothing

If the Education (National Curriculum) (End of Foundation Phase Assessment Arrangements and Revocation of the First Key Stage Assessment Arrangements) (Wales) Order 2011 is not made, the result would be that:

- schools would continue to be required to administer National Curriculum assessment arrangements against the First Key Stage of the National Curriculum which has been replaced by the Foundation Phase. The current arrangements would therefore not be fit for purpose.

Option 2: Introduce new order

If the Education (National Curriculum) (End of Foundation Phase Assessment Arrangements and Revocation of the First Key Stage Assessment Arrangements) (Wales) Order 2011 is made, the result will be that:

- the existing regulations covering end of the First Key Stage - the Education (National Curriculum) Assessment Arrangements for English, Welsh, Mathematics and Science) (Key Stage 1) (Wales) Order 2002 - will be repealed and replaced with the Education (National Curriculum) (End of Foundation Phase Assessment Arrangements and Revocation of the First Key Stage Assessment Arrangements) (Wales) Order 2011;
- all pupils will be statutorily assessed by a teacher at the end of the Foundation Phase against three key “Areas of Learning” covering: Personal and Social Development, Wellbeing and Cultural Diversity; Language Literacy and Communication Skills; and Mathematical Development.

b) Costs and Benefits

Option 1: Do nothing

There are no discernible or specific costs or benefits from not introducing the Order. If it is not made, schools will continue to be required to administer assessment arrangements that are not fit for purpose or relevant to the Foundation Phase.

Option 2: Introduce Order

The benefit from implementing this Order will be that the statutory requirements placed on schools to assess children will be appropriate and relevant to the Foundation Phase. Therefore this is the only realistic option if we are to fully implement all aspects of the Foundation Phase curriculum and its associated assessment arrangements.

There are no direct cost implications with the introduction of this order as it simply replaces current Key Stage 1 requirements with equivalent ones that are appropriate to the Foundation Phase.

c) Consultation

There is no statutory requirement to consult prior to amending the Order. However, officials have, and will continue to engage with stakeholder on the development of supporting guidance.

d) Post implementation review

The Foundation Phase will be the subject of a full evaluation which will commence during the summer of 2011. That evaluation will consider the administrative and assessment arrangements for the Foundation Phase, and the benefits that accrue to children as they move through the Foundation Phase and into the Second Key Stage.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order, which extends to England and Wales, varies Schedules 5 and 8 to the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981. Schedule 5 lists animals protected under section 9 of that Act, and Schedule 8 lists plants protected under section 13 of that Act.

Article 2 amends Schedule 5 (animals which are protected) by—

(a) adding four new animals and conferring limited protection on these animals;

(b) extending the protection afforded to two animals, and decreasing the level of protection afforded to two animals; and

(c) removing two existing entries from protection.

The amendment relating to “Shark, Angel” removes the exclusion from the protection afforded to the Angel Shark in respect of the excluded waters (the part of the territorial waters adjacent to England and Wales which is more than 6 nautical miles from the baselines from which the breadth of those waters are measured), and thus extends the protection afforded to the Angel Shark throughout the territorial waters adjacent to England and Wales.

Article 3 amends Schedule 8 (plants which are protected) by—

(a) adding two new plant entries, conferring general protection on one plant type and limited protection on the other; and

(b) removing four existing entries from protection.

A full impact assessment of the effect that this instrument will have on the costs of business, the voluntary sector and the public sector is available from <http://www.defra.gov.uk/corporate/consult/wildlife-act/100127-wildlife-act-condoc-ia.pdf>.

THE WILDLIFE AND COUNTRYSIDE ACT 1981 (VARIATION OF SCHEDULES 5
AND 8) (ENGLAND AND WALES) ORDER 2011

2011 No. 2015

1. This explanatory memorandum has been prepared by the Department for Environment Food and Rural Affairs and the Welsh Government. It is laid before Parliament by Command of Her Majesty. It is also laid before the National Assembly for Wales.

2. Purpose of the instrument

2.1 The Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 (Variation of Schedules 5 and 8) (England and Wales) Order 2011 adds four new animals to Schedule 5 of the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 (WCA) and removes two existing entries from protection. The Order also extends the protection afforded to two animals and decreases the level of protection afforded to two animals. The Order also adds two new plant entries to Schedule 8 and removes four existing plant entries. Schedule 5 lists animals protected under section 9 of the Act. Schedule 8 lists plants protected under section 13 of the WCA. These Schedules are amended under section 22 of the Act.

3. Matters of special interest to the Joint Committee on Statutory Instruments

3.1 None

Matters of special interest to the Constitutional and Legislative Affairs Committee

3.2 This Order is made following representations by the GB Conservation bodies through the Joint Nature Conservation Committee. It is made on a composite basis to ensure consistency of application between England and Wales.

4. Legislative Context

4.1 The WCA protects all wild birds, certain wild animals and certain wild plants. Under Section 9 species listed in Schedule 5 to the Act are afforded certain protection. Depending on the protection detailed it can be an offence amongst other things, to: intentionally kill, injure or take any such wild animal, to have any such wild animal in one's possession or control, intentionally to damage or destroy any structure or place used for shelter or protection, or to sell or expose for sale any such wild animal (and in certain circumstances, things deriving from any such animal).

4.2 Section 13 affords particular protection to plants listed in Schedule 8, and makes it an offence, amongst other things, (a) intentionally to pick, uproot or destroy, or (b) sell or expose for sale, or have in one's possession for sale, any such wild plant.

4.3 Under Section 24 of the WCA the JNCC is required to review Schedules 5 and 8 every five years and to advise the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers whether, in the collective opinion of the conservation agencies, any animal or plant should be added to or removed from the Schedules.

4.4 The Secretary of State's and the Welsh Ministers' powers to vary the Schedules are set out in section 22 of the Act.

4.5 Part 1 of the WCA applies in relation to the territorial waters of Great Britain: 12 nautical miles from the baseline (usually the low water mark around the coast). The WCA does not apply in relation to the offshore marine area or international waters.

5. Territorial Extent and Application

5.1 This instrument applies to England and Wales, and is being made on a composite basis with the Welsh Ministers.

6. European Convention on Human Rights

6.1 Parliamentary Under Secretary of State Richard Benyon has made the following statement regarding Human Rights:

6.2 In my view the provisions of the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 are compatible with the Convention rights.

7. Policy background

7.1 Defra's new business plan, which was launched in November 2010, incorporates the Department's Structural Reform Plan which includes among its three key priority areas 'enhance the environment and biodiversity to improve quality of life'. The Welsh Government's Living Wales Programme initiated in September 2010 seeks to secure a more integrated approach to managing the natural environment to ensure that Wales has increasingly resilient and diverse ecosystems that deliver a range of social, environmental and economic benefits. The programme will deliver a new Natural Environment Framework that is compatible with the Welsh Government's Sustainable Development and biodiversity duties.

7.2 In keeping with both policy positions these amendments aim to promote the protection of vulnerable species and the protection the public's interest in relation to biodiversity. There is a variety of reasons as to why the existence of native species is being threatened. These include impacts from human activity, non-native species and climate change. Many native plants and animals have become extinct as a result of one or more of the above impacts and more species are in danger of the same fate. The Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 is one part of the strategic approach to the protection of endangered species. We use this to ensure that there is an appropriate legal protection. Where this is not appropriate or possible we have other measures we can use such as providing informed advice and guidance where necessary, encouraging cooperation and promoting best practice.

7.3 During 2008 the JNCC carried out a public consultation in which it sought views on the addition of species to, or removal of species from, Schedules 5 and 8 to the WCA. It also asked whether existing protections should be adjusted. Once the JNCC had summarised the responses to this consultation and evaluated these, it made recommendations to Defra and the Welsh Government in December 2008. After considering these recommendations, Defra and the Welsh Government published a public consultation in January 10 and took into account the responses from this exercise when making final decisions on amendments to Schedules 5 and 8 of the WCA.

8. Consultation outcome

Responses on the Marine Species

8.1 Generally, there was support for listing the proposed marine species for the following reasons:

- A. There has been significant decline of the species in UK waters.
- B. Protection would prohibit targeted fishing and protection from possession and trade.
- C. Protection would require the return of any by-catch individuals to the sea (because possession would be an offence) and if done quickly, survival rates in these cases would be high.
- D. Protection would prevent targeted recreational fishing.
- E. Protection would positively progress the Species Action Plan targets for these species.

8.2 The overriding reason given for not supporting the listing of proposed marine species was that the species is/are already protected under the CFP, and if there were any change to the CFP Total Allowable Catch (TAC), UK fishermen would be disadvantaged.

Responses on other animal species

8.3 There was strong support for JNCC recommendations regarding the proposed scheduling of other animal species. For example, of the seven respondents who replied on the shad species, five agreed with JNCC's recommendation to increase protection of allis under 9(4)(c) and to increase protection for twaite under 9(1) and 9(4)(c) in England and Wales. Furthermore, all respondents who commented on the pool frog agreed with the JNCC recommendation to protect under 9(4)(b) and (c) for England only.

Plant species

8.4 There was strong support for JNCC recommendations regarding the proposed addition and removal of certain plant species. For example, all consultees who commented on the Long-leaved Thread-moss agreed with JNCC's recommendation to remove protection. Both respondents who commented on Tree Lungwort agreed with JNCC's recommendation to protect from sale under 13(2) only.

9. Guidance

9.1 Further information regarding amendments to Schedules 5 & 8 of the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 can be found on either the Defra website at: <http://www.defra.gov.uk/wildlife-pets/wildlife-management/rare-exploited-species/>, or on the Joint Nature Conservation Committee website at: <http://jncc.defra.gov.uk/default.aspx?page=4630> or the Welsh Government's website at: www.wales.gov.uk/environment.

10. Impact

10.1 The impact on business, charities or voluntary bodies is expected to be minimal. Groups whose trade may be affected by the protection of particular marine species include fishermen, collectors of species and Chinese medicine suppliers. Local authorities may also be affected in terms of higher insurance payments.

10.2 The impact on the public sector is expected to be negligible.

10.3 An Impact Assessment is attached to this memorandum and will be published alongside the Explanatory Memorandum on www.legislation.gov.uk.

11. Regulating small business

11.1 The legislation applies to small business.

11.2 The Impact Assessment indicated that any costs to businesses would be negligible.

12. Monitoring & review

12.1 Section 24 of the Wildlife & Countryside Act 1981 requires the GB conservation bodies of Natural England, the Countryside Council for Wales and Scottish Natural Heritage, acting through the Joint Nature Conservation Committee (JNCC), to review Schedules 5 and 8 of the Act every five years and to recommend any changes to the Secretary of State in relation to England, and the Welsh Ministers in relation to Wales.

Summary: Intervention and Options

What is the problem under consideration? Why is government intervention necessary? Plants and animals present in the wild face constant threats from human activity such as land-use changes, amateur and commercial collection, and both recreational and commercial fishing. These threats can impact significantly on species population numbers and, over time, even cause extinction if nothing is done to halt the decline. There are presently a number of species which research suggests are threatened or even critically endangered. It is important that government legislation is used to regulate human activities and prevent further species loss.
What are the policy objectives and the intended effects? Protection for native species at risk due to population decline. Listing on Schedules 5 (animals) or 8 (plants) will make it an offence (depending on the protection detailed on a species by species basis) to kill, injure or take, possess or sell any specimen or destroy any structure or place used for shelter or protection; or to intentionally pick, uproot, possess, sell or destroy listed plants.
What policy options have been considered? Please justify preferred option (further details in Evidence Base) The options considered were whether to provide legislative protection and amend or remove existing legislative protection for the detailed species or not. The preferred option has been to revise Schedules 5 and 8 of the Act as advised by the JNCC unless there is evidence that this is not the most appropriate/effective course of action. The following criteria have been applied in the decision making process: for marine species covered by the Common Fisheries Policy, the Wildlife and Countryside Act will only be used where it offers additional safeguards; is use of legislation the best approach and is the Wildlife and Countryside Act the most effective means of legislating; does the evidence support the decision or is there a need to be precautionary; and is the benefit of protection justified against the potential cost to businesses affected.
When will the policy be reviewed to establish its impact and the extent to which the policy objectives have been achieved?	It will be reviewed in 2013
Are there arrangements in place that will allow a systematic collection of monitoring information for future policy review?	Yes

Description and scale of key monetised costs by 'main affected groups' Overall costs and benefits of listing species are difficult to quantify. Collectors will be impacted by the protection afforded to the moth species as they will no longer be able to sell individuals or larvae of the species concerned. Given that the species concerned only have populations in the hundreds and larvae have been known to trade for £4 per fifteen this is not a huge market. Churches and local authorities may be impacted by protection afforded to the Rock Nail. This is known on only a handful of sites so will involve a very small number of churches. They will potentially be required to adopt less intensive land management practices and may – in circumstances where the species is known to be present - be required to carry out Environmental Impact Assessments and apply for licenses if they intend to carry out activities which could impact the species, for example repairs to gravestones that host them. Chinese medicine suppliers could also be impacted if they intended to harvest tree lungwort (an ingredient for a medicine) in the UK. We believe this is currently imported from countries such as Bulgaria and sells for around £9 per kilo. If they wished to harvest it in this country they would need to apply for a licence to do so.
Other key non-monetised costs by 'main affected groups' Although responses to the consultation did not raise any additional non-monetised costs the most likely group to be affected is recreational anglers who will be affected by the protection afforded to the fish species. Some fishermen may need to change their behaviour by following best practice to ensure that they do not target the protected species and if they catch them they are returned unharmed to the water.

Description and scale of key monetised benefits by 'main affected groups' In cases where protection is provided by the Common Fisheries Policy (CFP), the Wildlife and Countryside Act is filling a 'gap' in protection by protecting the species from recreational fishermen who are not subject to the CFP. The benefits in many cases are likely to be modest but close an important loophole. A number of species have had their protection removed. In cases where the population still exists this will reduce the burden on land managers and conservationists who currently have to apply for a licence to disturb the species. It will have the benefit of facilitating recording and research, and better recording could assist in the conservation of the species, both at sites where it has already been recorded and, potentially, at new localities.
Other key non-monetised benefits by 'main affected groups' The key objective of this review is species protection. Specific objectives include reduction of human impacts on threatened species, increase in species population figures and biodiversity, reduction in the likelihood of threatened fish caught by recreational fishing; ensuring that threatened animals and their habitats are not disturbed by land use change and amateur and commercial collection.
Key assumptions/sensitivities/risks There is an assumption that the Common Fisheries Protection policies for the marine species we will be protecting are long-term and will not be changed in the near future. If they did we would be contravening the Common Fisheries Policy and our legislation would have to be amended quickly.	Discount rate (%)

Problem under consideration

Schedules 5 and 8 of the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 list species of animal and plant respectively, which need protection from human activity to prevent them from becoming endangered or extinct. JNCC has a statutory obligation to review the Schedules every five years and advise the Secretary of State of their recommendations. The Schedules need updating regularly to ensure that it remains relevant, protecting species before it is too late and removing species that no longer require that protection.

Rationale for intervention

Most of the species covered in this review have been identified in recent years as candidates for addition to Schedule 5 and 8 because of the threats which they face to their existence from human activity. The scale of the potential threat justifies the use of regulatory measures to prevent further population decline. Government intervention can be used alone or as part of a suite of mechanisms that would effectively dissuade, discourage or deter people from behaviours that lead to, or could lead to, further population decline and even extinction of these species. The aim is to legislate only where it would be effective to do so. The rest have been identified for removal or reduced protection because they have become extinct, are not threatened or have been reclassified.

Protecting species in the wild which are under threat from human activity is a key element of conserving our native flora and fauna and contributes towards achieving the aim of halting the loss of biodiversity in the EU by 2020.

Policy Objective

It serves our obligation under The Convention on the Conservation of European Wildlife and Natural Habitats (Bern Convention), which states under Article 3 (1) that 'each Contracting Party shall take steps to promote national policies for the conservation of wild flora, wild fauna and natural habitats, with particular attention to endangered and vulnerable species, especially endemic ones, and endangered habitats, in accordance with the provisions of this Convention'.

The purpose of this review is to revisit and, if necessary amend Schedules 5 and 8 to the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 (the Act) to ensure that it is effectively regulating a species which requires protection because it is threatened and its population size is decreasing at a rate that requires action before the species becomes extinct. Alternatively it ensures that a species which no longer requires the protection for whatever reason is removed. This is the fifth review of Schedules 5 and 8 since the Wildlife and Countryside Act was enacted in 1981.

Description of options considered (including do nothing)

1. Update Schedules - Schedules 5 and 8 would be updated to protect animals and plant species proposed by the JNCC. All species on the Schedules or proposed to be included in the Schedules were appraised on a case by case basis as follows:

- for species currently on the schedule the option considered was whether to retain them or not (retaining them was the baseline against which costs and benefits of removal were considered)
- for new potential species the option considered was whether to add them or not (not adding them was the baseline against which costs and benefits addition were considered)

The culmination of these case by case assessments is an updated Schedule 5 and 8, which is our preferred option.

The individual species decisions are explained in Annex 2 to this evidence base, the analysis supported the addition of a number of species of animal and plant, and the removal of some species of animal and plant. The rationale for including or excluding species from the list are presented in the annex with the types of costs and benefits assessed in deciding whether to update or not the list of species.

2. Do nothing – We would not amend the Schedules as advised by the JNCC, our statutory conservation advisors. This would result in rare and endangered species not being protected under Schedule 5 and 8 of the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 contrary to our obligations under the Bern Convention and there would be unnecessary regulatory burdens placed on people as a consequence of protecting species that no longer required this.

Costs and Benefits of each option

Sectors and groups affected

Addition to Schedules 5 and 8 is unlikely to restrict the trade of any sector. While listing a species on the Schedules will restrict or prohibit the capture, killing, sale etc of the species, these are mostly rare species which are not targeted or of low commercial value. The group most likely to be affected are recreational fishermen. However, the species concerned are rare in UK waters and are not subject to targeted fishing, so the effects will be very small. In effect the listing of many species is complementing other measures taken, such as protection under the CFP, and in this case closing off a small but important loophole.

Chinese medicine practitioners may be affected by the ban on possessing for the purpose of sale and actual selling of Tree Lungwort, which is considered to be of benefit in Chinese medicine. There is no evidence that it is being collected in great numbers in the UK at this time.

Churches and local authorities in a very limited number of locations will be impacted by the listing of Rock Nail as it could require them to move to more sensitive estate management and require them to apply for a license to carry out repair work on gravestones where this species is found. Moth collectors will be affected by the protection given to the Talisker Burnet Moth and the Slender Scotch Burnet Moth as they will not be able to sell wild specimens any longer.

Developers may face minor incremental costs as protecting further species under the Wildlife and Countryside Act implies that they would need to examine impacts upon a longer list of species when assessing the environmental impact of new proposals.

NB Specific Impact Tests were considered but were deemed not to be necessary. In particular the listing of these species does not raise any equalities issues and where there were potential impacts on small firms or on competition the species that may have caused concerns have not been listed.

1. Updating the Schedules

Benefits:

This option allows the list of species to be brought up to date and targeted towards those species which are known to be endangered by human activity such as targeted fishing or collection. Conversely it will also remove protection where a species is no longer in danger, for whatever reason, preventing unnecessary public restriction and enforcement action. It is difficult to quantify the benefit of adding species to Schedules 5 and 8 as this is a measure aimed at preventing loss of biodiversity which is not easily quantified. There are no obvious economic benefits, although it could be argued that complementing existing restrictions on commercial fishing legislation under the WCA could increase stock recovery levels in the future.

Environmental benefits: The listing of threatened species on Schedule 5 and 8 will enhance their status and protect them from certain human activities. For example listing the Twaite Shad on Schedule 5 would prevent targeted fishing of the species and would also result in the release, unharmful, of specimens taken accidentally. Protecting fish species in this way will also help to maintain the diversity of marine species.

Protecting further species under the Wildlife and Countryside Act would also raise the awareness of developers and planners about the legal status of such species and therefore is likely to improve the direct protection of the species as well as their habitat. Species such as the Pool Frog, which is a European Protected Species, would benefit because the listing would add to the legal protection the species has under the Habitats Regulations, as it would also allow prosecution for reckless damage to the species' places of shelter which is not possible at present.

Costs:

Protection of Schedule 5 and 8 species would incur only a negligible administrative burden of having to apply for a licence to take, disturb etc. It is unlikely that this will happen for the majority of new species to be protected, however should a licence be required, no charge would be incurred.

A Total Allowable Catch (TAC) of zero under the Common Fisheries Policy (CFP) already applies to the marine species proposed for addition to Schedule 5 (Angel Shark, White Skate). Therefore by listing such species we would not expect any loss to the fishing industry. There was a concern from consultees that if the CFP removed the ban on catching and landing these species they would lose out. However, we are aware that, for the species proposed, the ban is unlikely to be lifted in the foreseeable future. The only costs would therefore be for targeted recreational fishing and we are not aware that these exist.

Rock Nail is usually found on old gravestones and the protection of the species may prevent the movement of gravestones and general graveyard maintenance work. This may affect health and safety policies or other issues regarding graveyard management, although licenses can be granted for public health and safety purposes. The protection of Tree Lungwort would prevent the collection and sale of this species for Chinese medicine. Although there is no evidence of wide-spread collection in the UK at the moment it was felt that action was required to prevent this in the future.

Compliance costs: Offences under the Act are enforced by the police. It is not envisaged that the proposed amendments will impose any significant additional burden upon the enforcement authorities. Though there will be a small one off cost associated with authorities needing to familiarise themselves with the new list of species covered.

2. Not updating the Schedules (Do nothing).

Benefits:

The benefits of not revising the species protection Schedules is that there will be no additional burdens on those who wish to fish recreationally or those who wish to collect wild specimens of the species proposed. There would be a negligible financial benefit of not having to apply for a licence to take, disturb, sell etc any of the proposed species.

Costs:

This would impose no additional immediate financial costs, as it preserves the status quo although, for species which we propose to remove, there may be the maintenance of an unnecessary burden of having to protect the species for no ecological benefit. The other non-monetary cost would be to our reputation. The GB conservation bodies and the JNCC have a statutory obligation to review the Schedules every 5 years. To not act upon the advice we have been given would be contrary to our statutory responsibility to conserve biodiversity. Our failure to do so may be seen by some as a signal of our weakening resolve to abide by our commitments under the BERN Convention. For the species concerned, this would mean greater risk of the continuing decline of populations.

Wider Impacts

As stated earlier our failure to implement this revision may be seen by some as a signal of our weakening resolve to abide by our obligations under The BERN Convention and under The Convention on Biological Diversity; and more importantly as a failure to comply with the general duty to conserve biodiversity in section 40 of the Natural Environment and Rural Communities Act 2006.

Summary and preferred option with description of implementation plan

We propose amending Schedules 5 and 8 in accordance with the table at Annex 2. Certain species in the wild are threatened by human activity such as fishing, habitat destruction (due to housing development or deforestation for example) and the taking of species by collectors. If nothing is done to prevent the further decline of these species, there is a risk that they could become extinct in Great Britain in the near future. Activities leading to their demise such as target fishing of the Shads or collection of tree lungwort are unlikely to be deterred by voluntary approaches such as a code of practice, so consequently government intervention and amendments to legislation is necessary.

Affording legal protection to these species, with which comes the risk of prosecution, will raise awareness of their poor conservation status and the need for particular care to ensure their continued existence as part of our rich fauna and flora. Species protection under the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 is likely to encourage a more cautious approach amongst groups, which could have a potential impact on wildlife. It is difficult to gauge the cost implications for sectors such as the fishing trade or developer, but we believe them to be minimal.

Annexes

Annex 1 should be used to set out the Post Implementation Review Plan as detailed below. Further annexes may be added where the Specific Impact Tests yield information relevant to an overall understanding of policy options.

Annex 1: Post Implementation Review (PIR) Plan

A PIR should be undertaken, usually three to five years after implementation of the policy, but exceptionally a longer period may be more appropriate. A PIR should examine the extent to which the implemented regulations have achieved their objectives, assess their costs and benefits and identify whether they are having any unintended consequences. Please set out the PIR Plan as detailed below. If there is no plan to do a PIR please provide reasons below.

Basis of the review: [The basis of the review could be statutory (forming part of the legislation), it could be to review existing policy or there could be a political commitment to review]; Schedules 5 and 8 are reviewed every 5 years in accordance with section 24(1) of the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981.
Review objective: [Is it intended as a proportionate check that regulation is operating as expected to tackle the problem of concern?; or as a wider exploration of the policy approach taken?; or as a link from policy objective to outcome?] Link from policy objective to outcome.
Review approach and rationale: [e.g. describe here the review approach (in-depth evaluation, scope review of monitoring data, scan of stakeholder views, etc.) and the rationale that made choosing such an approach] Contact with organisations directly involved such as the Environment Agency, conservation agencies, CEFAS and NGO's such as the Shark Trust and Buglife.
Baseline: [The current (baseline) position against which the change introduced by the legislation can be measured] It is extremely difficult to establish a baseline for endangered species, especially the marine species but the research to date which formed the rationale for recommended inclusions and exclusions can be used as a baseline.
Success criteria: [Criteria showing achievement of the policy objectives as set out in the final impact assessment; criteria for modifying or replacing the policy if it does not achieve its objectives] Evidence that the population of species that have been added to the schedules are at least steady if not improving.
Monitoring information arrangements: [Provide further details of the planned/existing arrangements in place that will allow a systematic collection systematic collection of monitoring information for future policy review] The variety and scarcity of species we are protecting makes systematic monitoring specifically for assessing this action prohibitively expensive. However, we will be asking a lead organisation in each case to report back on whether they felt that the inclusion of these species on Schedules 5 or 8 was effective.
Reasons for not planning a PIR: [If there is no plan to do a PIR please provide reasons here]

Annex 2 – Decisions on Individual Species

Species	Recommendation	Cost	Benefit
White Skate	Protect from killing, taking to 12 nautical miles	As the white skate is now extremely rare the costs involved will be minimal and will essentially involve recreational fishermen following best practice to ensure the safe return of the species if caught accidentally. There is no evidence of the species being deliberately targeted in English and Welsh waters.	Protection under the WCA is part of a wider range of measures to help in the recovery of this species. In comparison to protection under the CFP the impact of this measure will be very small.
Angel Shark	Increase protection from killing, taking to 12 nautical miles	As the Angel Shark is extremely rare in English and Welsh waters this is a measure closing a loophole that bans commercial fishing but allows recreational fishing of the species. The costs involved will be minimal as Angel Shark is not seen to have a commercial value. It will essentially involve recreational fishermen following best practice to ensure the safe return of the species if caught accidentally as sale or possession would be banned.	Protection under the WCA is part of a wider range of measures to help in the recovery of these species. In comparison to protection under the CFP the impact of this measure will be very small.
Twaite Shad	Increase protection to s9(1) – protection from killing and taking.	Data does not exist to show the extent of fishing for this species so this is a precautionary measure. Costs involved for anglers will be minimal as the small numbers that deliberately target the species will be able to target other species instead. They will also need to follow best practice to ensure that fish caught accidentally can be safely returned to the	Will protect the species as it moves to its spawning grounds. Will also give further protection to the Allis Shad, which is indistinguishable from the Twaite Shad. This is one measure in a wider range of actions to protect the shad species.

Pool Frog	Protect under 9(4)(a) and (b) only.	This species is present at only one site. There will be no cost involved as the additional protection it will receive here will only prevent reckless damage of it's site.	Will tighten legislation for this European Protected Species which already has full protection under Schedule 2 of the Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010.
Talisker Burnet and Slender Scotch Burnet	Protect under 9(5), preventing sale or possession.	The cost involved would be to those involved in the commercial sale of the species. Advertising in the Entomological Livestock Group Newsletter, List 470 (published on 15 August 1999) offered larvae for sale at £4 per fifteen. It is unlikely that the market is significant in scale as the total population of the species is likely to be in the 100s.	Evidence has been obtained of commercial collecting of larvae, for sale as live stock, at such a large scale as to be a significant threat to this subspecies. Protecting them from sale will reduce the possibility that they will be targeted by collectors.
Rock Nail	Protect under 13(1) and (2)	In England this species has only been recorded on three sites so costs will be very localised. However, where the species is present it could require a more costly maintenance regime which may require consultants input. If Church or local authorities are proposing to stabilise and repair any potentially dangerous gravestones then additional cost will be involved in a) seeking expert advice b) putting together a license application to carry out any work. As even the handling or use of machinery to check the stability of gravestones could be extremely damaging there is likely to be a significant inconvenience.	Protection of an endangered species.
Tree Lungwort	Protect under 13(1) and (2)	Tree lungwort is an	Stamping out a ingredient in Chinese medicine and requires a substantial amount of live plant to be used. Currently it fetches around £9 per kilo. It is believed that it is currently sourced from overseas.	potential commercial operation building up here will help ensure that this species does not quickly become endangered.

Essex Emerald Moth	Remove protection	Extinct so no cost.	Removing protection will prevent unnecessary public restriction and enforcement action.
Tentacled lagoon worm, Lagoon Sand Shrimp, Lagoon Snail	Reduce protection to 9(4)(a) only.	This will result in reduction in cost as licenses will no longer need to be applied for.	Reducing protection will allow recording and research without a licence.
Long-leaved thread-moss, Young's helleborine, Churchyard lecanactis, Dune thread-moss	Remove protection	No cost.	Removing protection will prevent unnecessary public restriction and enforcement action.

Annex 3 – Role of Joint nature Conservation Committee

Under Section 24 of the WCA the JNCC is required to review Schedules 5 and 8 of the WCA every five years and to advise the Secretary of State whether, in the collective opinion of the conservation agencies, any animal or plant should be added to or removed from the Schedules. The JNCC is also empowered to make recommendations at any time, outside the constraints of the five-yearly reviews. Recommendations have to be accompanied by a statement of the reasons that led to the advice.

During 2008 the JNCC carried out a public consultation in which it sought views on the addition of species to, or removal of species from, Schedules 5 and 8 of the WCA. It also asked whether existing protections should be adjusted. Once the JNCC had summarised the responses to this consultation and evaluated these, it made recommendations to the Secretary of State in December 2008.

Adroddiad Drafft y Pwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol a Deddfwriaethol

Teitl: Rheoliadau Codi Tâl am Fagiau Siopa Untro (Cymru) (Diwygio) 2011

Gweithdrefn: Negyddol

Mae'r Rheoliadau hyn yn diwygio Rheoliadau Codi Tâl am Fagiau Siopa Untro (Cymru) 2010. Fe'u gwneir o dan Ddeddf Newid Hinsawdd 2008 a byddant yn dod i rym ar 1 Hydref 2011.

Mae Rheoliadau 2010 yn ei gwneud yn ofynnol bod gwerthwyr yn codi isafswm pris am fagiau siopa untro. Maent yn gorfodi gofynion cadw cofnodion ac adrodd ar werthwyr, yn penodi awdurdodau lleol i weinyddu'r cynllun codi tâl ac yn rhoi pwerau sancsiynau sifil i'r awdurdodau lleol i orfodi'r Rheoliadau.

Ceir crynodeb o'r prif welliannau a wneir i Rheoliadau 2010 yn y Rheoliadau hyn yn y Nodyn Esboniadol sy'n cyflwyno'r Rheoliadau.

Materion technegol: craffu

Ni nodwyd unrhyw bwyntiau i fod yn destun adroddiad o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.2 mewn perthynas â'r offeryn hwn.

Rhinweddau: craffu

Cefndir

Trafodwyd Rheoliadau 2010 gan Bwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol y Trydydd Cynulliad ar 17 Tachwedd 2010. Cytunodd y Pwyllgor i gyhoeddi adroddiad ar rinweddau'r Rheoliadau a cheir copi o'r adroddiad hwnnw fel Atodiad. Gwnaed y pwyntiau a ganlyn, ymhlith rhai eraill, yn yr adroddiad, nad oedd yn beirniadu'r rheoliadau'n ormodol:

- mai yn y rheoliadau y cafwyd y defnydd cyntaf yn y DU o'r pwerau o dan Ddeddf Newid Hinsawdd 2008 i'w gwneud yn ofynnol i godi tâl am fagiau siopa ac mai dyma'r tro cyntaf y rhoddwyd pwerau sancsiynau sifil i awdurdodau lleol yng Nghymru;

ADRODDIAD OS DRAFFT

- bod y pwerau a ddefnyddiwyd i wneud y rheoliadau wedi'u rhoi yn uniongyrchol i Weinidogion Cymru ac nad oedd y Cynulliad wedi craffu arnynt cyn hynny; a
- bod amrywiaeth o bryderon manwl ynghylch sut byddai'r rheoliadau'n gweithio'n ymarferol a sut byddent yn effeithio, yn benodol, ar fanwerthwyr bach.

Gweithdrefn

Gwnaed y Rheoliadau gwreiddiol o dan y weithdrefn gadarnhaol a chawsant eu trafod a'u cymeradwyo yn y Cyfarfod Llawn ar 29 Tachwedd. Gwnaed hyn oherwydd bod y ddeddfwriaeth alluogi yn ei gwneud yn ofynnol bod y weithdrefn gadarnhaol yn cael ei defnyddio lle mae'r pwerau:

- yn cael eu defnyddio am y tro cyntaf;
- yn gosod sanctsiynau sifil newydd;
- yn cynyddu neu'n newid y sail ar gyfer pennu cosbau ariannol; neu
- yn diwygio deddfwriaeth sylfaenol.

Nid yw'r un o'r ffactorau hyn yn berthnasol i'r rheoliadau diwygio hyn ac, felly, cânt eu gwneud o dan y weithdrefn negyddol.

Materion penodol

Yr effaith ar fusnesau bach a chanolig

Mae'r rheoliadau hyn yn mynd i'r afael ag un o'r pwyntiau yn adroddiad y Pwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol a gyhoeddwyd yn 2010. Roedd busnesau bach a chanolig yn pryderu ynghylch effaith y gofyniad i gadw cofnodion ac i'w darparu ar gais i unrhyw aelod o'r cyhoedd. Mae'r rheoliadau diwygio hyn yn diddymu'r gofyniad adrodd ar gyfer busnesau sydd â llai na 10 aelod o staff cyfwerth ag amser llawn.

Costau

Ymddengys bod y rheoliadau hyn hefyd yn mynd i'r afael â mater arall a godwyd gan y Pwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol: a ellir didynnu'r costau a dalwyd yn y cyfnod cyn i'r rheoliadau ddod i rym o'r incwm a gafwyd o godi tâl. Mae'r rheoliadau diwygio'n egluro bod y costau 'sefydlu' yn cyfrif fel 'costau rhesymol' ar gyfer y flwyddyn gyntaf y mae'n rhaid cyflwyno adroddiad ynddi ac y gellir eu didynnu.

Amseru

Daw'r rheoliadau hyn i rym mewn 12 niwrnod, ar 1 Hydref 2011, sef y dyddiad pryd y dechreuir codi tâl am fagiau siopa. Fodd bynnag, deallwn fod Llywodraeth Cymru wedi hysbysu'r rheiny sydd â diddordeb yn y rheoliadau diwygio ynghylch y posibilrwydd y bydd newidiadau ac, felly, y dylent eu disgwyl.

Yn sgil y pwynt blaenorol, mae'r Pwyllgor wedi cytuno bod y rheoliadau diwygio'n codi materion polisi cyhoeddus sy'n debygol o fod o ddiddordeb i'r Cynulliad. Mae'r Pwyllgor wedi cytuno i ddwyn y Gorchymyn drafft a'r Rheoliadau i sylw'r Cynulliad drwy gyhoeddi adroddiad o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3(ii).

CA499: Rheoliadau Codi Tâl am Fagiau Siopa Untro (Cymru) 2010

Gweithdrefn: Cadarnhaol

Mae'r Rheoliadau hyn yn gwneud darpariaeth ynghylch yr isafswm pris (5c) y mae'n rhaid i werthwyr nwyddau ei godi am fagiau siopa untro. Caiff y Rheoliadau eu gwneud o dan adrannau 77 a 90 o Ddeddf Newid Hinsawdd 2008 ac Atodlen 6 iddi.

Materion technegol: craffu

Ni nodwyd unrhyw bwyntiau i fod yn destun adroddiad o dan Reol Sefydlog 15.2 mewn perthynas â'r offeryn hwn.

Rhagoriaethau: Craffu

Cefndir

Mae'r Rheoliadau hyn yn ei gwneud yn ofynnol i werthwyr nwyddau godi tâl am fagiau siopa untro plastig a phapur a ddarperir ar gyfer cwsmeriaid. Mae'r Rheoliadau'n pennu isafswm tâl o 5c ac yn ei gwneud yn ofynnol i werthwyr nwyddau gadw a chyhoeddi cofnodion mewn cysylltiad â nifer y bagiau a gaiff eu gwerthu ganddynt yng Nghymru a sut y defnyddiwyd yr elw.

Mae'r Rheoliadau hyn hefyd yn penodi awdurdodau lleol yng Nghymru yn weinyddwyr ac yn rhoi pwerau i awdurdodau lleol ddefnyddio sanctiynau sifil i ymdrin ag achosion o dorri'r Rheoliadau.

Materion a nodwyd gan y Llywodraeth sydd o ddiddordeb arbennig i'r Pwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol

Y Rheoliadau drafft hyn yw'r rhai cyntaf yn y DU i ddefnyddio'r pŵer i'w gwneud yn ofynnol i werthwyr godi tâl am fagiau siopa untro o dan Ddeddf Newid Hinsawdd 2008.

Y Rheoliadau drafft hyn hefyd yw'r rhai cyntaf i roi pwerau i awdurdodau lleol yng Nghymru mewn perthynas â sanctiynau sifil. Caiff y pwerau sanctiynau sifil eu hategu gan ddyletswyddau i gyhoeddi canllawiau ar sut y defnyddir y pwerau.

Materion eraill

Gostyngiad yn y tâl arfaethedig

ADRODDIAD OS DRAFFT

Roedd tystiolaeth gan fanwerthwyr yn ystod y broses ymgynghori yn dangos y byddai tâl o 5c yn ddigon i rwystro pobl rhag prynu bagiau siopa. Cyn hyn, roedd Llywodraeth Cymru wedi cyfrif hyn i fod yn 7c.

Bellach, mae'r Llywodraeth yn credu y byddai 5c yn decach i grwpiau incwm isel ac y byddai'n atal pobl rhag gorfod talu mwy am fag siopa untro nag am 'fag am oes', a fydd wedi'i eithrio o'r tâl.

Yng ngoleuni'r sylwadau a gafwyd, penderfynwyd gostwng y tâl o 7c i 5c, er gwaethaf y ffaith ei bod yn cydnabod na fydd y tâl is yn 'mewnoli' costau cymdeithasol ac amgylcheddol cynhyrchu a gwerthu bagiau siopa, er y byddai hyn wedi digwydd gyda'r tâl o 7c.

Materion yn ymwneud â diffiniad

Roedd yr ymatebion a gafwyd i'r ymgynghoriad yn cyfeirio at ddryswch parhaus am nifer o faterion nad ydynt yn ymddangos fel pe baent wedi'u hystyried yn llawn yn y Rheoliadau na'r Memorandwm Esboniadol. Mae'r rhain yn cynnwys:

- a fydd bagiau plastig a ddefnyddir ar gyfer nwyddau hyrwyddo, er enghraifft, bagiau a gaiff eu dosbarthu mewn cynadleddau, yn rhan o'r amodau tâl;
- pan fydd nwyddau'n cael eu dychwelyd gan y prynwr, a fydd yn ofynnol i'r gwerthwr ad-dalu tâl y bag siopa ac a allai'r gwerthwr dynnu hyn o'r enillion gros fel costau rhesymol o dan y rheoliadau;
- a yw'n bosibl cael bag newydd am ddim yn lle un sydd wedi torri; a
- dehongliad o'r darpariaethau sy'n eithrio rhai bagiau (er enghraifft am resymau iechyd neu hylendid) ond na fyddent, wedyn, yn cael eu heithrio os caiff eitemau eraill eu rhoi yn y bag.

Costau a chadw cofnodion

Gall manwerthwyr dynnu 'costau rhesymol' o'r enillion gros o'r tâl am fagiau siopa, gan gynnwys costau cydymffurfio a chostau sy'n gysylltiedig â hysbysu staff a chwsmeriaid am y tâl.

Bydd yn ofynnol i fanwerthwyr mwy gadw cofnodion a'u cyhoeddi yn flynyddol, a bydd yn ofynnol i fanwerthwyr llai gadw cofnodion, ond ni fydd angen eu cyhoeddi.

ADRODDIAD OS DRAFFT

Mynegwyd ychydig o bryderon gan rai o'r bobl yr ymgynghorwyd â hwy. Mae'r rhain yn cynnwys:

- nid yw'n glir a ellir didynnu'r costau a dalwyd cyn i'r rheoliadau ddod i rym (ym mis Hydref 2011);
- y bydd y rheoliadau'n cael eu gweithredu mewn gwahanol ffyrdd ym mhob rhan o Gymru, gan ei bod yn bosibl na fydd awdurdodau lleol, a fydd yn gyfrifol am weinyddu a gorfodi'r tâl hwn, yn cysoni'r diffiniad o 'gostau rhesymol'; a
- phryder gan fusnesau bach a chanolig eu maint am effaith y gofyniad i gynnal cofnodion a'u cyflwyno ar gais i unrhyw aelod o'r cyhoedd.

Cosbau

Mae'r rheoliadau yn darparu ar gyfer amrywiaeth o gosbau ariannol penodol, ac nid oes yr un ohonynt yn uwch na £200.

Fodd bynnag, mae darpariaeth hefyd ar gyfer gosod cosbau ariannol amrywiol gan awdurdodau lleol unigol. Uchafswm gwerthoedd y cosbau hyn yw £5,000 ac £20,000, yn dibynnu ar ba reoliad sydd wedi'i dorri.

Nid yw'n glir, eto, i ba raddau y bydd awdurdodau lleol yn gosod cosbau yn ôl gwahanol feini prawf mewn gwahanol rannau o Gymru.

Bagiau siopa papur

Nod y rheoliadau yw lleihau nifer y bagiau siopa untro a gaiff eu defnyddio bob blwyddyn yng Nghymru. Mae 350 miliwn o'r 445 miliwn o fagiau a ddefnyddir yn rhai plastig ac mae 95 miliwn ohonynt yn rhai papur. Bydd y tâl yn cael ei bennu yn ôl lefel sy'n 'mewnoli' costau cymdeithasol defnyddio bag, ac felly'n arwain at lai o ddefnydd.

Bydd y tâl yn berthnasol i fagiau siopa plastig a bagiau siopa papur. Fodd bynnag, nid yw'r Llywodraeth wedi gallu cyfrifo costau cymdeithasol bag papur ar hyn o bryd (fel y llwyddodd i'w wneud ar gyfer bagiau plastig). At ddibenion yr Aseiad Effaith Rheoleiddiol, barnwyd bod y pris yr un fath â'r pris ar gyfer bag plastig. Efallai nad yw'r farn hon yn gywir.

Ystyriaeth y Pwyllgor

Nododd y Pwyllgor y materion uchod ac yn benodol:

ADRODDIAD OS DRAFFT

- mai yn y rheoliadau y cafwyd y defnydd cyntaf yn y DU o'r pwerau o dan Ddeddf Newid Hinsawdd 2008 i'w gwneud yn ofynnol i godi tâl am fagiau siopa ac mai dyma'r tro cyntaf y rhoddwyd pwerau sancsiynau sifil i awdurdodau lleol yng Nghymru;
- bod y pwerau a ddefnyddiwyd i wneud y rheoliadau wedi'u rhoi'n uniongyrchol i Weinidogion Cymru ac nad yw'r Cynulliad wedi craffu arnynt cyn hyn;
- bod amrywiaeth o bryderon manwl ynghylch sut bydd y rheoliadau'n gweithio'n ymarferol a sut byddant yn effeithio, yn benodol, ar fanwerthwyr bach; a
- bod y rheoliadau'n berthnasol i fagiau siopa papur a bagiau siopa plastig. Er y gallai'r costau sylfaenol ar gyfer y ddau fath o fag fod yn wahanol, maent wedi cael eu barnu i fod yr un fath ac mae'r Aseiad Effaith Rheoleiddiol wedi cael ei gyfrifo ar y sail honno.

Cytunodd y Pwyllgor y byddai'n ddefnyddiol i'r Gweinidog fynd i'r afael â'r holl bwyntiau hyn yn uniongyrchol yn ystod trafodaeth yn y Cyfarfod Llawn ar y Gorchymyn drafft.

Yng ngoleuni'r ffactorau hyn, cytunodd y Pwyllgor bod y Gorchymyn drafft a'r Rheoliadau yn codi materion o bolisi cyhoeddus sy'n debygol o fod o ddiddordeb i'r Cynulliad. Cytunodd y Pwyllgor i dynnu sylw'r Cynulliad at y Gorchymyn drafft a'r Rheoliadau drwy gyhoeddi adroddiad o dan Reol Sefydlog 15.3(ii).

NODYN ESBONIADOL

(Nid yw'r nodyn hwn yn rhan o'r Rheoliadau)

Mae'r Rheoliadau hyn yn diwygio Rheoliadau Codi Tâl am Fagiau Siopa Untro (Cymru) 2010. Cânt eu gwneud o dan Ddeddf Newid Hinsawdd 2008, ac maent yn gymwys o ran Cymru ac maent yn dod i rym ar 1 Hydref 2011.

Mae Rheoliadau 2010 yn ei gwneud yn ofynnol i werthwyr godi isafswm tâl am fagiau siopa untro. Maent yn gosod gofynion cadw cofnodion ac adrodd ar werthwyr, penodi awdurdodau lleol i weinyddu'r cynllun codi tâl a gosod pwerau sancsiynu sifil ar awdurdodau lleol i orfodi'r Rheoliadau.

Mae'r prif ddiwygiadau a wneir i Rheoliadau 2010 gan y Rheoliadau hyn fel a ganlyn.

Mae Rheoliad 4 yn rhoi rheoliad 6 newydd yn lle'r rheoliad gwreiddiol. Effaith y newid fydd sicrhau, pan fydd cwsmer yn talu 5 ceiniog am fag siopa untro bod y 5 ceiniog yn cynnwys TAW pan delir ef i werthwr sydd wedi ei gofrestru ar gyfer TAW.

Mae rheoliad 5 yn mewnosod rheoliad 7A newydd yn Rheoliadau 2010. Mae'r rheoliad newydd yn datgymhwysu'r gofynion cadw cofnodion ac adrodd ar gyfer blwyddyn adrodd os yw gwerthwr yn cyflogi llai o staff na'r hyn sy'n cyfateb i ddeg aelod llawnamser ar ddiwrnod cyntaf y flwyddyn adrodd honno.

Mae'r rheoliad 6 yn rhoi rheoliad 8 newydd yn lle'r rheoliad gwreiddiol. Un o brif effeithiau'r newid yw ei gwneud yn ofynnol i werthwyr ddiystyru unrhyw swm dros 5 ceiniog y mae cwsmeriaid yn ei dalu am fagiau siopa untro pan fydd gwerthwyr yn cyflwyno adroddiad am yr enillion net a gafwyd drwy'r tâl a godwyd.

Prif effaith arall y newid yw cynnwys y costau yr aed iddynt cyn 1 Hydref 2011 yn "costau rhesymol". Yn ei dro, effaith hyn fydd pan fo gwerthwyr yn cyflwyno adroddiad am yr enillion net a gafwyd drwy'r tâl a godir yn y flwyddyn gyntaf, na fydd y swm hwnnw'n cynnwys unrhyw gostau y maent yn rhesymol wedi mynd iddynt wrth baratoi at gyflwyno'r tâl.

Mae'r rheoliad 7 yn rhoi rheoliad 13(1) newydd yn lle'r rheoliad gwreiddiol. Effaith hyn yw ychwanegu dau amgylchiad pellach pan na chaniateir cyflwyno hysbysiad o'r bwriad i osod cosb ariannol benodedig. Yr amgylchiadau yw pan fo'r gwerthwr eisoes wedi gwneud taliad rhyddhad rhag atebolrwydd mewn perthynas â'r un toriad o dan Rheoliadau 2010; neu os gosodwyd eisoes gosb ariannol benodedig mewn perthynas â'r un weithred neu anwaith.

Mae rheoliad 8 yn mewnosod paragraff newydd 1(1)(za) yn Atodlen 1. Mae'r paragraff newydd hwn yn dwyn ynghyd yr esemptiadau gwreiddiol a gaed ym mharagraff 1(1)(a) i (ch) a (k) o'r Atodlen honno ac yn diwygio'r ffordd y mae'r esemptiadau hynny'n gweithio. Yr effaith yw y bydd bag siopa untro a ddefnyddir i gynnwys un neu fwy o'r eitemau a restrir yn awr yn y paragraff newydd 1(1)(za) yn esempt rhag y tâl; nid oes angen bellach i fag gael ei ddefnyddio'n unig i gynnwys un o'r eitemau hynny er mwyn cael mantais yr esemptiad.

Mae rheoliad 8 yn tynnu'r esemptiad ar gyfer bagiau wedi eu selio a gyflenwir gan werthwr cyn cyrraedd y man gwerthu. Mae rheoliad 8 hefyd yn rhoi paragraff newydd 1(1)(ff) yn lle'r gwreiddiol. Yr effaith yw esemptio bagiau anfon archeb drwy'r post a bagiau negeseuwyr rhag y gofyniad i godi tâl.

Cafodd yr asesiad effaith rheoleiddiol a luniwyd ar gyfer Rheoliadau 2010 ei ddiweddarau i gynnwys yr effaith a ddaw wrth ddatgymhwyso'r gofynion adrodd i fusnesau micro. Gellir cael copi o'r asesiad effaith hwnnw gan Lywodraeth Cymru, Parc Cathays, Caerdydd CF10 3NQ.

Explanatory Memorandum to the Single Use Carrier Bags Charge (Wales) (Amendment) Regulations 2011.

This Explanatory Memorandum has been prepared by the Department for Environment and Sustainable Development of the Welsh Government and is laid before the National Assembly for Wales in conjunction with the above subordinate legislation and in accordance with Standing Order 27.1.

Minister's Declaration

In my view, this Explanatory Memorandum gives a fair and reasonable view of the expected impact of Amendments to the Single Use Carrier Bags Charge (Wales) Regulations 2010. I am satisfied that the benefits outweigh any costs.

John Griffiths AM

Minister for Environment and Sustainable Development
2 September 2011

Description

1. The Regulations make a number of minor changes to the Single Use Carrier Bags Charge (Wales) Regulations 2010 to ensure that they give effect to the policy consulted on. They also make two substantive changes.
2. The minor changes relate to:
 - clarification of VAT;
 - clarification of how amounts above the 5 pence minimum charge are to be treated for reporting purposes;
 - removing the exemption for sealed bags;
 - clarification of the exemption for packaging and delivery of mail order goods in polythene mailbags;
 - preventing a notice of intent to impose a fixed monetary penalty from being served if a seller has previously discharged liability to a penalty in relation to the same breach of the Regulations.
3. The two substantive changes to the Single Use Carrier Bags Charge (Wales) Regulations 2010 are based on feedback from businesses and the business sector in Wales:
 - one amendment removes the reporting requirements for sellers who employ less than 10 full-time equivalent members of staff on the first day of a reporting year;
 - the other amendment means that costs incurred by sellers prior to implementation are deductible from the amount they report as their net proceeds of the charge in the first year.

Matters of special interest to the Constitutional and Legislative Affairs Committee

4. The former Constitutional Affairs Committee considered the draft Single Use Carrier Bag Charge (Wales) Regulations 2010 at its meeting of 17 November 2011 and its report reflected specific "concern from SMEs about the impact of the requirement to maintain records and provide them on request to any member of the public". The amendment referred to at paragraph 3 above addresses that concern.

Legislative background

5. The Regulations are made under sections 77 and 90 of, and Schedule 6 to, the Climate Change Act 2008, and are subject to the negative procedure.

Purpose & intended effect of the legislation

6. The Single Use Carrier Bags Charge (Wales) Regulations 2010 will come into force in Wales on 01 October 2011. The Regulations make provision for sellers to charge a minimum of 5 pence for single use carrier bags supplied with the intention of enabling goods to be taken away or delivered into Wales. The main purpose of introducing a charge is to substantially reduce the amount of these bags that are taken away from shops each year in Wales, significantly beyond the levels achieved through voluntary action.

7. The Welsh Ministers are making technical amendments to ensure that the Regulations give effect to the intended policy which was developed with the benefit of a rigorous consultation process. The Regulations also give effect to two substantive policy changes which the Government is bringing forward as a result of convincing representations made by the retail sector about the effects of the Regulations in two respects.
8. The Welsh Government proposes to publish non-statutory guidance to accompany the Regulations and consulted on a draft guidance document which reflects the technical amendments being made by these Regulations. The final Guidance document will reflect the substantive policy changes made by the Regulations and will address a number of issues raising during the consultation period. The final guidance document will be published shortly.

9. We need to amend the Regulations to ensure that VAT-registered sellers are not required to charge VAT on top of the 5 pence charge. We have been clear from the outset that the minimum price to the customer should be uniform across the country so we need to make an amendment to ensure that the Regulations produce that result.
10. As the Regulations are currently drafted we think their effect could be to require VAT-registered sellers to price bags at a minimum of 6 pence each (at the current rate of VAT). This was an unintended effect of articulating a single minimum charge across the board. We are amending the requirement to charge so that the minimum price of 5 pence will be inclusive of VAT when paid to a VAT-registered seller, and exclusive of VAT when paid to a non-VAT-registered seller. This was the policy intention.

Exemption to the Record Keeping Requirements for Small Businesses: regulation 5

11. Following the consultation on the draft Regulations we made some changes to the record-keeping requirements in order to reduce the burden they impose and in response to specific comments and recommendations received. For example we limited the retention period for records to three years and now require that any requests for records should be made in writing.
12. We took the view at the time that to exempt small businesses completely from responsibility to account to the public for how the proceeds of the charge are used, and to prevent members of the public from having access to information about how successful the scheme has been, would be to deny the public access to information in which they have a legitimate interest. We considered that it could also result in difficulties for administrators when seeking to establish on the balance of probabilities, whether breaches of the Regulations have occurred.

13. In the Government Response to the consultation exercise we said that we considered at the time, that the public benefit in having access to the records outweighed the burden imposed on SMEs but that we would keep the reporting requirements in relation to SMEs under review.
14. In theory the burden imposed by the record-keeping requirements is minimal. It requires sellers to count the number of chargeable bags they supply; to multiply that number by the 5 pence they charge for each; to deduct the amount of money it costs to train staff, update systems and inform customers; to deduct the 20% VAT that they pay to HMT and to say what they did with the remainder of the money received (very broadly speaking).
15. In practice, this could be quite a burden for a small seller to do accurately if it sells a variety of goods, primarily because of the way exemptions apply. For example, a seller is not obliged to charge for a bag if it is used solely to contain certain items such as unpackaged food, blades or certain medicines, but the same bag must be charged for if it is used for anything else. This means that unless a seller has a relatively sophisticated IT system, the seller will need to keep a manual note of every exempt bag it supplies. This figure is needed so that it can be deducted from the total number of bags a seller supplies to get to the total number of chargeable bags that must be included in the record.
16. We acknowledge that removing the record-keeping requirements for small sellers may complicate the enforcement position. It may prove difficult for example, for authorities to form a view about a small seller's attitude to compliance in the absence of recorded information about what it has cost the seller to do so. We also acknowledge that removing the record-keeping requirements for small sellers will reduce the evidence base available in future about the effect of the legislation.
17. We believe that it is right to weigh the benefit of public accountability and comprehensive evidence against the burden that the reporting requirements will impose on small sellers. In doing so, we have taken into consideration the fact that although small sellers significantly outnumber large sellers in Wales their contribution to the number of bags supplied in Wales is low. We have also taken into consideration the fact that as a result, the amount of additional money that such businesses are likely to gain from the charge will be correspondingly low.
18. On balance, and taking account of further representations, we think that the burdens that record-keeping requirements would impose on the smallest of businesses outweigh the public benefit in having access to those records. We also think that in light of the relatively low contribution that the smallest sellers make to the total number of bags supplied in Wales, removing the record-keeping requirements will not disproportionately impede our ability to measure the impact of the legislation when we come to review it. We are therefore removing the record keeping requirements for sellers who employ less than 10 (full-time equivalent) staff at the beginning of any reporting year.

Net proceeds

19. The “net proceeds of the charge” is a label used in the Climate Change Act to indicate the amount of additional money that accrues to sellers because of the obligation to charge for bags. That figure is arrived at by deducting certain amounts from the “gross proceeds of the charge”. Those amounts are specified in the 2010 Regulations as VAT and reasonable costs. The net proceeds figure is significant because sellers have to record what they do with their net proceeds and make this information available to customers and to the public.
20. We have looked again at how the Act deals with the term “gross proceeds of the charge” and we conclude that there is ambiguity about what that term is intended to mean. The 2010 Regulations were made on the basis that that term meant the total of all 5ps received by a seller for carrier bags. We believe that there is an equally compelling case that that term means any money received by sellers from charging for single use carrier bags. If it is the latter, the effect of the 2010 Regulations would be to include any amounts above the minimum 5 pence charge in a seller’s “net proceeds of the charge” and this would erroneously inflate the amount of additional money that sellers receive by having to charge 5 pence per bag.
21. In view of this we have looked again at the reporting requirements in the Regulations and we believe that the better approach is to specify an additional amount to be deducted from the “gross proceeds of the charge” to arrive at the net proceeds of the charge. This is the amount of any money over and above 5 pence that a seller chooses to charge for bags.
22. If the term “gross proceeds of the charge” does indeed mean the total of all 5ps received, specifying this additional amount to be deducted will have no negative effect; it will simply be superfluous. On the other hand, if “gross proceeds of the charge” means all money received from charging any amount at all for bags and we do not require this additional amount to be discounted, then a seller’s net proceeds of the charge would include any amounts above 5 pence that it chooses to charge its customers. This would produce a false picture of the additional amounts received by sellers as a direct result of having to charge for bags.

Reasonable costs

23. Our intention has always been that the charging scheme should be cost neutral for businesses. This is why the Regulations allow sellers to deduct their compliance costs from the amount they receive from charging 5 pence for bags. We believe that the bulk of these costs will be incurred prior to 01 October as retailers will need to make a number of changes to the way their businesses operate to ensure that they can comply with the requirements of the Regulations when they come into force. These costs will include changes to IT systems, staff training and communication costs.

24. The 2010 Regulations do not currently allow retailers to record these set up costs as 'reasonable costs' because they are not incurred during the actual reporting period (which in the first year covers the period 01 October to 6 April 2012).
25. We are amending the Regulations so that these set up costs count as 'reasonable costs' for the first reporting year and consequently, are to be deducted from the amount sellers receive from charging 5 pence for bags in the first reporting year. This will produce a more accurate picture of the additional money that sellers receive by having to charge 5 pence for bags.

Fixed penalties: notice of intent

26. The 2010 Regulations as currently drafted allow a notice of intent to impose a fixed monetary penalty to be served on a seller even if the seller has previously made a discharge payment in relation to the same breach, or if a fixed penalty has previously been imposed in relation to the same act or omission. This was unintentional and so we are amending the Regulations to prevent this.

Exemptions: bags used solely to contain certain items

27. The requirement to charge for bags does not apply under the 2010 Regulations if a bag is used "solely to contain" certain items (unpacked food and knives or blades are examples). At present, the 2010 Regulations are drafted so that to benefit from this exemption, each particular type of item would have to be contained in a separate bag. We are amending the 2010 Regulations so that the exemption applies where a bag contains one or more of these items so that the Regulations do not inadvertently require sellers to supply free bags where there is no practical need to do so.

Exemption for sealed bags.

28. This exemption was intended to capture sealed bags used as primary packaging before goods are offered for sale to customers. We wanted to avoid requiring sellers to charge for bags in circumstances where customers could not realistically be expected to exercise a choice about whether the bag is supplied or not.
29. We consider now that this exemption is not required. This is because in these cases the principal purpose of supplying the bag is primary packaging. As the Regulations can only require sellers to charge for bags supplied for the purpose of enabling goods to be taken away or delivered, we do not believe that they can require sellers to charge for bags primarily supplied as primary packaging. This being so, no exemption is necessary. The exemption is therefore being removed.

Exemptions: mail order goods

30. The policy intention behind the original mail order exemption was to capture the sealed polythene mailbags that are often used to deliver goods ordered through distance selling and delivered via the mail or by courier service.
31. The original exemption was not wide enough to cover all of the bags we intended it to cover and we think that the extension of the original exemption to mail packaging went beyond the types of bags we could require sellers to charge for. We are therefore amending the Regulations to more accurately capture the types of bags we had in mind.

5. Regulatory Impact Assessment (RIA)

32. A Regulatory Impact Assessment can be found in Part 2 below.

6. Consultation

33. There have been two public consultations in relation to the Single Use Carrier Bags Charge (Wales) Regulations 2010. The first, in June 2009, Proposals for a charge on single use carrier bags sought views on how the charge should work, including who should charge, how much the charge should be and what types of bags should be included. The second consultation in June 2010 sought views on the draft Regulations.
34. There has also been a formal process of stakeholder engagement in order to ensure that businesses are ready for the coming into force date of 1 October 2011.

The key sensitivity is that a ban on SUCBs will completely eliminate their production and consumption, and that this will lead to an equivalent increase in BfL demand of approximately 290%. It is also assumed that retailers currently price the private cost of 'free' SUCBs (estimated at 2p per bag) into the goods they sell, such that consumers are essentially paying for the bags they use. It is therefore assumed that retailers will lower their prices accordingly if a ban on SUCBs is introduced.

Consumers estimated to incur annual costs of around £1 million through loss of convenience where retailers voluntarily place a charge on SUCBs. Participating retailers choosing to impose a charge on all SUCBs are assumed to incur one-off costs in altering till-points to process a charge, and ongoing admin costs of around £0.3m. One-off costs assumed to be £0.3 million, although this is an approximation based on 30% of remaining retailers participating; not all participating retailers will necessarily charge for SUCBs.

Key sensitivity is that 30% of remaining retailers (not already in the existing voluntary agreement) will participate in the extended voluntary agreement; assumes this 30% is proportional to 30% of the consumer base. Estimates an additional reduction in SUCBs of 18% relative to the 445 million current consumption level. All participating retailers assumed to voluntarily impose a charge of 5p. However, in reality Option 4 might not generate an additional 30% participation, and some retailers may choose other methods to reduce SUCB consumption (or differing levels of charge). Even if these assumptions did change there is unlikely to be a significant effect on the overall NPV of the costs and benefits over time (i.e. the policy would still generate an ongoing cost to society).

Evidence Base (for summary sheets)

Background

1. In June 2009 the Welsh Assembly Government consulted¹ on the policy of introducing a charge on single-use carrier bags (SUCBs), considered in this Impact Assessment (IA) as Policy Option 2. A second consultation was undertaken between June and August 2010, to gather views on the draft Single Use Carrier Bags Charge (Wales) Regulations 2010. The responses to the second consultation have thus been considered in the main body of this updated enactment-stage IA.
2. The main objective of introducing a charge is to substantially reduce the number of single-use carrier bags (including paper and plastic bags) produced and consumed annually in Wales, beyond the levels already achieved through voluntary action undertaken by participating retailers. This is consistent with the vision set out in 'One Wales: One Planet' of a sustainable Wales that lives within environmental limits and uses only its fair share of the earth's resources.
3. The voluntary agreement currently in place encompasses seven participating retailers and achieved a reduction in SUCBs given out in Wales of 49% between 2006 and 2009. However, there is still an estimated 445 million SUCBs consumed each year in Wales², with an estimated ongoing cost to the environment – through production emissions and improper waste disposal – valued at around £31 million per annum. Policy action is therefore required, and is outlined in this Impact Assessment, since the ongoing cost to the environment of 'doing nothing' is deemed too high to be sustainable over the longer term. The policy thus aims to substantially reduce this ongoing 'social cost'.

Purpose and Intended Effect

4. The objective of the policy is to:
 - encourage consumers to adapt their behaviour towards achieving a more sustainable level of consumption, both in SUCB usage and indirectly through altering attitudes towards waste in other areas of daily life;
 - cut down on the wasteful use of resources in producing single-use bags;
 - improve the quality of the local environment by reducing the highly visible litter created from single-use bags; and
 - encourage waste reduction and prevention.
5. It is proposed that the charge will be introduced through regulations made under the powers provided in schedule 6 of the Climate Change Act 2008, to apply a charge to single-use carrier bags.

² See Reference 1, Table 11. Estimates the number of bags used annually in Wales under the current voluntary agreement, following a 50% reduction in SUCBs from the 2006 baseline of an estimated 660 million.

6. The charge will apply to all those who sell goods in the course of trade or business to customers in Wales, including: supermarkets; high street retailers; small businesses; market stalls; internet grocery deliveries; and those that provide a service and also sell goods (e.g. a hairdressing salon which also sells hair products).
7. A description of bags to be covered by the proposed charge is contained at Annex 2, along with detailed exemptions from and rules for the application of the charge.

Rationale for Government Intervention

8. The rationale for Government intervention is represented by the ongoing 'social cost' of producing single-use carrier bags (SUCBs).
9. The production of SUCBs imposes an external cost on society (estimated at 7p per bag), both through the emissions created during the production process and through the improper disposal of the bags. The cost to society could effectively be higher, since the damage to marine- and wild-life and the aesthetical cost to society of improper disposal could not be quantified.
10. Government intervention is necessary since the cost imposed on society of the production of SUCBs is not captured by the 'private cost' of each bag (estimated at around 2p), i.e. the price at which they are purchased by retailers. For the purpose of this IA it is assumed that the private cost of each SUCB is passed on by retailers to consumers through the price of their shopping.
11. The marginal (additional) cost of purchasing each bag therefore does not reflect the true cost to society of producing each bag. This is said to create a 'negative externality' – essentially an unfavourable side-effect – which Government intervention thus aims to correct through internalising the social cost, i.e. imposing a charge at point of sale to ensure those consumers who choose to purchase SUCBs are paying the full cost to society of their action.

Policy Options

12. Four policy options have been considered in this IA, in order to evaluate whether the introduction of a charge is the best approach to achieving the objective of a lower, more sustainable level of consumption of SUCBs in Wales. The Options are as follows:
 - Option 1: No intervention ('do nothing');
 - Option 2: Introduction of a charge on all single-use carrier bags (with some exemptions);
 - Option 3: Introduction of a ban on all single-use carrier bags (with some exemptions);
 - Option 4: Extension of the existing voluntary agreement to encompass more retailers.

13. The net present value (NPV) of each policy option represents the stream of costs and benefits over a 15-year period, and is appraised relative to a 'do-nothing' option (Option 1) which acts as a reference point for comparison. Doing nothing is not preferable since this option generates an ongoing cost to society related to the number of SUCBs still being consumed annually in Wales. The preferred option (Option 2) is the introduction of a charge on all single-use bags, with some exemptions, since this option generates the highest benefit to society in terms of NPV over a 15-year period.
14. The four options are outlined below, with further analysis of each presented in the subsequent section of the evidence base.

Option 1: 'Do Nothing'

15. Option 1 was evaluated as the reference case, and involves a 'do nothing' approach, whereby the current voluntary agreement encompassing 7 major retailers continues with no further intervention from Government. This option has already achieved a 49% reduction in SUCBs in Wales between 2006 and 2009, through a combination of removing bags from view at till-points and charging for SUCBs (1 out of 7 of the retailers imposed a charge).
16. However, this option still generates a consumption level of around 445 million SUCBs per annum in Wales (330 million plastic and 115 million paper), with an ongoing cost to society of an estimated £31 million per annum. It is anticipated that without further intervention this level of consumption is unlikely to fall substantially further.
17. The NPV of Option 1 is estimated to be around -£390 million and is the baseline cost to which all other options have been compared. This figure represents an overall net cost to society, since each bag has a 'social cost' attached to it (i.e. production and disposal of the bags creates negative environmental effects).

Option 2: Charge

18. Option 2 involves the introduction of a charge on all single-use carrier bags, both paper and plastic (with some exemptions – see Annex 2). Paper bags are included in the charge since they have an even higher detrimental impact on the environment than plastic bags. Although sometimes made from recycled materials – as is now the case for many plastic SUCBs – the emissions generated from the production and transportation processes are estimated to be much higher than for plastic bags. Paper bags are also less durable than plastic bags and are therefore more likely to only be suitable for single use.
19. Introducing a charge is intended to create a disincentive for use and therefore aims to reduce the number of SUCBs consumed annually. This would hence create a net benefit to the environment, through the reduction in both production emissions from, and waste disposal of, single-use carrier bags.

20. A charge on SUCBs was put forward in the second consultation as the preferred policy option since it was estimated to generate the highest net benefit to society, relative to the 'do nothing' option; the recommended level of charge was based on the estimated social cost per SUCB, of 7p. Following consultation, and consideration of all the available information, the charge has been revised to 5p per SUCB. The cost-benefit analysis in this IA has thus been re-worked since the 'Final' (Consultation) stage IA to incorporate a 5p charge per SUCB being implemented rather than a 7p charge.
21. It should be noted that this policy is highly experimental and there are many uncertainties surrounding the assumptions used in this analysis. Hence, there is scope to raise the charge at a later date should the policy fail to reduce demand for SUCBs to a more sustainable level; or, indeed, to lower the charge should demand fall significantly.
22. The NPV of Option 2 depends upon the level of the charge introduced: under a 7p charge the NPV is estimated to be -£180 million (an additional benefit of £210 million compared with doing nothing) and is based on a reduction in SUCBs of around 70% (or 300 million); under a 5p charge the NPV is estimated to be around -£260 million, which is a benefit of £130 million in addition to the reference case (i.e. $-\text{£}390\text{m} + \text{£}130\text{m} = -\text{£}260\text{m}$) and is based on a reduction in SUCBs of around 59% (or 260 million). The NPV is still negative in both cases, representing an overall net cost to society; this reflects the fact that a charge of either 5p or 7p is lower than the estimated optimal level required to completely eliminate the cost to society of producing SUCBs. It is estimated that a charge set somewhere between 10p and 15p could potentially eliminate this cost.
23. The Welsh Assembly Government does not currently have the powers to determine where the net proceeds of a charge are directed. The Assembly Government has proposed the development of a voluntary agreement with retailers regarding the use to which the net receipts from a charge will be put. Under such a voluntary agreement, retailers will manage the collection of the charge and its distribution, having accounted for reasonable costs. The net receipts would then be passed from retailers directly to charities, environmental or other projects. The definition of 'reasonable' costs was a key issue in the consultation responses and is discussed later in this IA.

Option 3: Ban

24. Option 3 involves a ban on all single-use carrier bags (applying the same exemptions as set out for Option 2, outlined at Annex 2), such that it would be an offence to either produce or sell such bags under this option. Option 3 could therefore eliminate the estimated 445 million SUCBs currently consumed per annum in Wales, thereby removing the ongoing social cost associated with single-use carrier bags.
25. This option would result in a net environmental benefit through the reduced production of SUCBs. The NPV of Option 3 is estimated to be around -£310 million, which is a benefit of £80 million relative to the reference case. This is based on the total elimination of the estimated 445 million SUCBs currently consumed per annum. Although a substantial environmental benefit would arise from eliminating single-use carrier bags, it is anticipated that an outright ban on SUCBs would result in a considerable increase in the number of bags-for-life consumed annually. Hence, this increase would generate a cost to the environment which is estimated to offset much of the environmental benefit gained from the reduction in SUCBs.

26. There was some support for a ban on SUCBs in the consultation responses, with the potential environmental benefit highlighted as a fundamental factor. Several responses considered that the figure quoted in the previous 'Final' (Consultation) stage IA did not fully reflect the true potential value of the environmental benefit arising from a ban. However, our best estimate was based on analysis of the social cost per SUCB which included an assessment of the environmental impact per bag. Whilst there exists a degree of uncertainty relating to the valuation of environmental effects, we feel the analysis gives a good representation of the social impacts per bag. Furthermore, it should be noted that the net environmental benefit arising from a ban also takes into consideration the increased environmental cost arising from the relative increase in bags-for-life following a ban on SUCBs.
27. A further key benefit highlighted by the consultation was the elimination of administration costs for retailers which would arise under a charge. However, for the purpose of analysis this would not be an additional monetary benefit relative to doing nothing, since retailers are not currently required to record the number of SUCBs given out to customers. Additional responses to the consultation indicated a ban would be clearer and simpler to understand, since there would be no need for a list of exemptions that could be open to interpretation.

Option 4: Extended Voluntary Agreement

28. Option 4 involves extending the current voluntary agreement through Government intervention, to encompass a greater number of retailers. The objective of Option 4 is thus to encourage a further reduction from the reference case in the number of SUCBs consumed annually. For the purpose of analysis, this additional reduction is estimated to be around 18% relative to the reference case (i.e. 445 million reduced by 18%); this is based on a similar achievement in Australia through an extended voluntary agreement to reduce the number of single-use bags consumed, although the precise extent to which retailers participated is not known.
29. Given that under the existing voluntary agreement the seven participating retailers hold around 75% of the market share³ of food retailers in the UK, it is thus assumed that around a third (or 30%) of the remaining retailers would participate in an extended voluntary agreement. However, since there is no data available on potential participation rates this figure could ultimately be higher or, indeed, lower. For the purpose of this analysis it is also assumed that all participating retailers would voluntarily charge 5p per bag; although, in reality retailers might choose to reduce SUCB consumption using means other than a charge (e.g. removing SUCBs from view at till-points).

30. This option could also generate a net environmental benefit, albeit the lowest net nominal benefit of all the policy options. The NPV of Option 4 is thus estimated to be around -£370 million, which is a benefit of £20 million relative to the reference case and is based on a reduction in SUCBs of around 80 million.
31. Responses to the second consultation indicated that this option would be preferable to a charge since a majority of retailers feel that an extended voluntary agreement could achieve an additional reduction in SUCBs far greater to that outlined in this analysis. However, further evidence would be needed in order to quantify any additional benefit arising from this option, since the only robust evidence available is that of the 49% reduction already achieved by 2009 under the existing voluntary agreement. Although there is some evidence available from specific retailers regarding reductions achieved through their own voluntary agreements, broader evidence of such schemes is needed in order to undertake analysis which is fully representative of the consumer base in Wales.
32. For illustrative purposes, if Option 4 were able to reduce SUCB demand by a further 50% relative to the baseline (i.e. 445 million reduced by 50%, to 223 million) it is estimated that, provided 50% of remaining retailers took part and all voluntarily charged 5p per bag, this could create an additional benefit of around £50 million relative to the original estimated NPV, giving a new overall NPV of -£320 million. If participating retailers only charged 1p per SUCB on this voluntary basis the additional benefit relative to the original NPV would be smaller at around £10 million, generating an overall NPV of an estimated -£360 million. These adjusted NPV figures also account for the anticipated relative increase in bags-for-life that would arise under this option.
33. A description of the assumptions used in the calculation of the costs and benefits for each policy option is included at Annex 3.

Calculation of Costs and Benefits

34. The four policy options are evaluated in terms of the net present value of the stream of costs and benefits resulting from each, over a 15-year period. There are four main categories estimated to be affected by the introduction of each policy option:
 - Consumers
 - Retailers
 - Environment
 - Government

For each policy option, both consumers and the environment incur annual costs and receive annual benefits, resulting in an overall annual net benefit (relative to doing nothing) in each case. One-off costs arise for both retailers and the Government under Option 2, as do annual costs. The Government is estimated to incur one-off and annual costs under Option 3, whereas retailers are likely to incur zero or minimal costs under this option. Assuming all participating retailers impose a charge under Option 4, retailers are estimated to incur both one-off costs and annual costs under this option, whereas the Government does not incur any costs under Option 4.

Cost to Consumers

35. The aim of a charge is to bring about a change in consumer behaviour and to encourage people to use re-usable alternatives wherever possible; hence, this policy should not be seen as intentionally or unjustifiably impacting on lower- or fixed-income groups. Some consultation responses suggested that it is unfair to imply that this policy will affect lower-income groups more than others. Indeed, those people who are still willing to pay the charge in order to receive SUCBs are more likely to be those who can afford to do so.
36. The annual cost to the consumer of introducing a charge (Option 2) results from the inconvenience caused by switching to bags-for-life⁴ (BfL), i.e. in having to bring the bags on each shopping trip. This inconvenience arises for those consumers not willing to pay the charge. Assuming consumers are perfectly rational, those not willing to pay the charge will use alternative bag types such as BfL – thereby incurring this inconvenience.
37. The total cost to consumers under Option 2 can therefore be estimated by the fall in demand for SUCBs following a charge (i.e. the convenience lost from the reduction in SUCB usage), multiplied by the price of a SUCB following a charge. For a charge of 5p per SUCB it is estimated there would be a fall of around 260 million SUCBs. This sum is then divided by two, since this is estimated to be approximately equal to the area under the demand curve for SUCBs. The total cost of this inconvenience to all consumers in Wales is estimated to equate to around £6.5 million per annum ($[\text{£}0.05 \times 260\text{m}] / 2$).
38. The same method is used in calculating the cost to the consumer of both a ban on SUCBs (around £4.5 million per annum with a fall in SUCBs of 445m) and an extended voluntary agreement (around £0.5 million per annum with a fall in SUCBs of 80m). Whereas for Options 2 and 4 the price of a SUCB would equate to the level of charge per bag⁵, under the ban the ‘price’ of a SUCB would equate to the ‘private cost’ of each bag (estimated at 2p).
- 39. The private cost per bag is assumed to be a ‘hidden’ cost charged by retailers and included in the price of shopping. This is assumed to be a cost already incurred by the consumer under the ‘do nothing’ option. For the purpose of this IA it is assumed that retailers would lower their general prices under a ban on SUCBs, since they would no longer incur the cost of purchasing the bags. However, in reality this is not likely to be the case and consumers would therefore carry on paying for a good they are no longer able to receive.

⁴ For the purpose of this IA, all reusable carrier bags used to carry shopping (food or otherwise) are termed ‘bags-for-life’. In this case, this simply means they are intended for re-use. However, the term ‘bag-for-life’, coined by retailers, generally assumes that once this bag has been purchased (usually at a cost of around 10p) the retailer will replace it free of charge once it has reached the end of its life, and will continue to do so without limit.

40. The wholesale cost of a SUCB is not included under the definition of 'reasonable costs' which can be deducted from the gross proceeds of a charge. It is assumed that the wholesale cost of SUCBs is, and will continue to be, a cost which retailers pass on to consumers through the price of their shopping. Responses to the second consultation indicated that several retailers consider SUCBs to be a 'free' reward to customers in return for using their services. However, retailers are profit-making businesses and it is therefore deemed appropriate to assume for the purpose of this IA that the cost of SUCBs is somehow passed on to the consumer.

Benefit to Consumers

41. The annual benefit to the consumer of introducing a charge arises from the transfer of consumption, from 14 SUCBs towards one BfL. This transfer is based on the assumption used in a report by the Environment Agency⁶ on the life-cycle of supermarket carrier bags. The report indicates that in order to carry one month's shopping (483 items) from the supermarket to the home (UK level, 2006/07), 82 SUCBs are required; hence, around 985 SUCBs are used per household, per annum (the same assumption has thus been applied to Wales, for simplicity). This compares with an average requirement of around 70 bags-for-life – consisting of LDPE bags, non-woven PP bags, and cotton bags – such that one BfL equates to 14 SUCBs, i.e. $985/70 = 14$). The benefit to the consumer of this transfer is the difference between the price they would have paid for 14 SUCBs following the introduction of a 5p charge (i.e. £0.70), minus the price they actually pay for one BfL (£0.16 – see paragraph 163) if they are not willing to pay the charge. The total benefit to consumers is therefore the individual gain multiplied by the increase in the number of BfL demanded (around 24 million) under a charge; this is estimated to equate to around £14 million in total, per annum.
42. Under Option 3 (ban), the same method is used for calculating the benefit to consumers, i.e. the difference between willingness to pay for 14 SUCBs and willingness to pay for one BfL; this is estimated to amount to around £5 million in total, per annum. Consumers' willingness to pay for a SUCB under a ban is assumed to equate to the private cost per bag (estimated at 2p) which would have been priced into their shopping in the reference case (see paragraph 39).

Benefit to the Environment

43. The net environmental benefit is calculated by taking the social cost of producing 445 million SUCBs and 14 million BfL in the reference case, and comparing this with the social cost of production of both following the introduction of each policy option.

44. The net environmental benefit is estimated to be highest under Option 3 (a ban). Although the social cost of producing BfL is highest under this option – since the increase in BfL demand is estimated to be substantially higher than under Options 2 or 4 – there is a relatively large environmental benefit from eliminating the social cost of production of SUCBs, thereby increasing the net benefit.
45. There are also aesthetical benefits to the environment from reduced plastic bag litter, which could not be quantified at this stage. A description of the calculation of the social cost of production of both SUCBs and BfL can be found at Annex 3.

Cost to Retailers

46. One-off costs to retailers arise with the introduction of a charge under both Options 2 and 4 (assuming that Option 4 involves voluntarily imposing a charge on SUCBs). These set-up costs involve altering till-points to process the charge (estimated at around £1 million in total for the retail sector) and to ensure the number of bags sold with each purchase is itemised on receipts. Annual costs arise from having to administer the charge (estimated at around £0.9 million for the retail sector); i.e. to record and publish the number of SUCBs sold per annum (further detail of administration costs is provided at Annex 2). However, reasonable administration costs associated with processing the charge can be deducted from the gross proceeds, with the intention of making the charge cost-neutral to retailers.
47. The cost to retailers is assumed to be lower under Option 4 than Option 2, since fewer retailers are assumed to participate under Option 4. Option 3 may involve minimal one-off costs to some retailers in terms of amending till-points to account for offering an alternative to SUCBs. However, since many retailers already offer alternatives, the cost to retailers is estimated to be far lower than for Options 2 and 4 (i.e. is estimated to round down to zero).
48. Responses to the second consultation indicated that a charge might impose additional costs on small businesses and on Quick Service Restaurants (QSRs). Since many items in QSRs or in greetings card shops, for instance, are priced at £0.99 or £1.99 a charge on SUCBs could take the price of a purchase over the next one-pound mark, substantially increasing the amount of change a customer would require if paying in cash. This could generate additional costs to business in terms of handling cash, staff time taken to process transactions and an increase in bank transactions. However, payments by credit or debit card are becoming more prevalent and it is anticipated that this could therefore minimise such impacts on businesses.
49. Additional security costs might also arise to retailers from the increased risk of theft that could be associated with the policy. For example, a purchase is usually verified by ensuring that the good is placed in a store carrier-bag; if a bag is not used it could create uncertainty as to whether goods have actually been purchased. There was some concern that this would place disproportionately high costs upon smaller retailers who cannot necessarily afford to improve their security. On the other hand, it is anticipated that larger firms are likely to incur a higher incidence of theft overall, since they have higher volumes of both consumers and produce. It has not been possible to quantify such impacts at this stage since further information or evidence is required from retailers in order to do so. This could be obtained, for instance, when undertaking the Post Implementation Review following the introduction of a charge.

50. The second consultation indicated there is some concern that the policy could impact upon impulse purchases if consumers are not willing to pay the charge and do not have an alternative carrier bag with them. However, the policy is designed to encourage a fundamental change in consumer behaviour, with the intention of making people more aware of the need to re-use carrier bags and to carry them whenever possible. It is not anticipated that an additional 5p on the total cost of a purchase would substantially affect impulse buying, even in the case of low-cost goods. However, more evidence and research on impulse purchasing is needed in order to quantify this potential impact.
51. Since the total potential costs to retailers of a charge could not be fully quantified at this stage, the costs outlined in the IA could underestimate the true value to retailers on a per annum basis. However, although the impact of additional costs will vary between firms, it is not anticipated that the non-quantified costs outlined above will be substantial as to have a significant impact on the overall annual cost to retailers.

Cost to Government

52. The Government is estimated to incur both one-off and annual costs under Options 2 and 3 (i.e. the introduction of a charge or a ban), with costs assumed to be the same or similar under each policy. It is assumed Option 4 does not involve any costs to Government.
53. One-off costs of an estimated £0.4m arise from communicating / advertising the introduction of a charge, and £0.18m for introducing the legislation. Preparatory work on enforcement is estimated to cost up to £0.33m, with ongoing (annual) costs of around £0.45m assumed to arise from enforcing a charge thereafter (based on a complaint-led enforcement regime). Ongoing management within WAG is estimated to cost £0.18m per annum.

Costs and Benefits by Policy Option

54. Table 1.0 sets out the estimated total costs and benefits arising under each policy option for each of the categories listed previously (Consumers, Environment, Retailers and Government), and using four different levels of charge under Option 2 for comparison. Options 1, 3 and 4 would produce the same outcomes regardless of the level of charge introduced under Option 2.
55. The lowest level of charge considered under Option 2 was 5p and the highest 15p; this range was based on responses to the first consultation⁷ process, which indicated that a majority would find it appropriate to apply a charge of between 5p and 15p per SUCB. Further consideration of the recommended level of charge to be introduced under Option 2 is outlined in the subsequent section.

15p	75.0	31.0	6.0	1.0	1.0	1.0	1.0	230.0

Note: All figures are rounded to the nearest £1 million; costs to Retailers under Option 4 are rounded up to £1 million for indicative purposes (i.e. would round down to zero). NPVs are rounded to the nearest £10 million.

56. The assumptions used in the calculations in Table 1.0 are outlined at Annex 3. Overall a net benefit arises for both Consumers and the Environment under each of the policy options 2, 3 and 4. Therefore, undertaking any policy action is estimated to make both Consumers and the Environment better off, relative to the 'do nothing' option.

57. However, the NPV represents the present value of the stream of costs and benefits over a 15-year period, for each policy option; hence, the higher the NPV, the better the expected outcome of the policy option. Each NPV is calculated relative to the reference case, i.e. Option 2 creates an additional benefit of £130 million, relative to the -£390 million baseline NPV under Option 1, resulting in a negative NPV for Option 2 of £260 million. Option 3, for example, would create a benefit to society of £80 million, but would result overall in an ongoing cost to society of approximately £310 million (-£390 + £80 = -£310).

58. It should thus be noted that Options 3 and 4 are estimated to result in an ongoing cost to society. Table 1.0 indicates that Option 2 might also result in an ongoing cost to society should the level of charge per bag amount to 10p or below; however, a level of charge in the range of 10p to 15p per bag is estimated to produce an overall benefit to society.

59. Regardless of the level of charge introduced under Option 2, Table 1.0 indicates that Options 3 and 4 generate the lowest relative NPVs. Option 2 is thus preferable since it is estimated to produce the highest additional benefit relative to the reference case.
60. The recommended level of charge to be introduced under Option 2 is outlined in detail in the following section.

Recommended Level of Charge on Single-Use Bags

Responses to the Consultation Process

61. The first consultation process (see Reference 8) highlighted the incidence of two retailers having achieved around an 85% reduction in SUCB usage through applying a 5p charge to each single-use bag; others had also achieved reductions through similar charges.
62. However, on balance this data should not be seen as representative for Wales as a whole, since the retailers in question do not represent the average consumer base. For instance, one of the retailers tends to have a clientele from higher income groups who may be more environmentally conscious so as to reduce their consumption of SUCBs, but at the same time could afford to purchase more bags for life which could potentially offset this reduction. If there is a substantial increase in the level of production of BfL (i.e. above that which is used in the calculations for this IA) and this is sustained over the longer term, it could have a detrimental effect on the environment since the social cost of producing a BfL is estimated to be much higher than that of a SUCB.
63. The responses to the first consultation also indicated that a majority would find a charge per bag of between 5p and 15p preferable, with the lower end of the range proving the most popular. However, in attempting to achieve a reduction in the level of SUCBs consumed annually in Wales, a charge is intended to challenge consumers' willingness to pay for each SUCB. The preferable response to a 5p charge suggests, therefore, that this would be too low to prevent consumers from purchasing SUCBs. It was therefore originally proposed that the minimum level of charge should be 7p per SUCB, based on the estimated social cost per bag. This level of charge formed the basis for the second consultation, in 2010.
64. However, responses to the second consultation indicated that the majority of retailers would recommend a charge per bag of 5p or lower, based on a desire to secure a positive response from consumers to the charge and existing evidence of charging. A level of charge of 7p – based on the estimated social cost per SUCB – was seen to be impracticable and 'odd', with either 5p or 10p being preferable.
65. According to the consultation responses, there is a general view that a level of charge which is too high could generate a negative reaction to the policy altogether, and that gentle encouragement to adapt towards more sustainable behaviour is more likely to be effective in the first instance. A lower charge of 5p was therefore suggested, since this level is seen to be less of a 'punishment' to consumers (than a 7p charge) for needing a bag.

66. There was also some concern that several bags-for-life are offered for sale in Wales at 5p per bag; if the price of a SUCB were set higher than the price of a BfL this could simply encourage consumers to use BfL as a substitute for SUCBs and to throw them away after only one use. As outlined at Annex 3 the social cost of a BfL is estimated to be much higher than that of a SUCB; hence, if bags-for-life were simply to be substituted for SUCBs this could generate a greater environmental cost and would therefore reduce the net environmental benefit arising under Option 2. This would place downward pressure on the overall NPV of Option 2 and could make it a less desirable option overall.
67. There is, however, a difficult balance to strike in setting a level of charge, with the need to both fulfil the objectives of the policy whilst at the same time attempting to 'nudge' people towards re-usable alternatives to SUCBs. While economic theory suggests that in order to correct for an externality the 'external' costs of a good should be 'internalised' – i.e. in this case, the consumer should pay the full 'cost' to society should they choose to consume a SUCB – many uncertainties still persist at this stage; other important factors have thus been considered in setting the minimum level of charge.

Internalising the Social Cost per Bag

68. The social cost of producing a single-use bag should be evaluated in assessing the level of charge required. The policy aims to reduce the ongoing cost to society of producing the 445 million SUCBs currently consumed annually in Wales. Therefore, the charge should be set at a level which 'internalises' the social cost of consuming a single-use bag.
69. The estimated social cost of producing each single-use bag is 7p: this consists of the emissions created in the production of each bag, and the disposal costs associated with the consumption of each bag. Further explanation of the calculation of the social cost can be found at Annex 3 (it was not possible to calculate the social cost of a paper bag at this stage; hence, for the purpose of this analysis it was assumed that the social cost is the same as for a single-use plastic bag).
70. Setting the charge at 7p or above could 'internalise' the negative externality created in the consumption of SUCBs, by ensuring consumers pay the 'full price' (i.e. the total external cost, consisting of private cost plus cost to society) of their action. The private cost to retailers (estimated at 2p per bag) is assumed to be already included in the price of shopping.

Generating a Net Benefit to Society

71. It is estimated, however, that any of the policy options outlined above would create an additional benefit to society relative to the reference case, such that any of the charge levels detailed in Table 1.0, including 5p, would be preferable to 'doing nothing'. Nonetheless, a higher level of charge is estimated to result in a greater net benefit to both Consumers and the Environment.
72. However, in terms of generating an overall net benefit to society (i.e. wholly eliminating the ongoing social cost), Table 1.0 indicates that a level of charge somewhere between 10p and 15p would be the minimum required out of the four charges evaluated; i.e. to create an additional net benefit to society, relative to the reference case, which takes the overall net present value of policy action to greater than zero.
73. The aim of the policy, however, is to achieve a more sustainable level of consumption and to cut down on the wasteful use of resources: although an overall net benefit to society would be preferable in terms of improving welfare, reducing the overall social cost would also contribute to achieving these objectives.
74. Furthermore, since it is estimated that the majority of bags-for-life are the heavy gauge 'LDPE'⁸ type which tend to have an average price of 10p, setting the charge above this level could potentially cause a 'shift' in consumption patterns. Consumers could simply replace consumption of the now more-expensive SUCBs with that of BfL, effectively using bags-for-life as single-use bags. Since the estimated social cost of a BfL is higher than that of a SUCB, an increase in BfL demand could ultimately have a detrimental effect on the environment if a higher level of consumption was sustained over the longer term. However, any shift in consumption patterns will depend upon a number of factors, including personal preference, and will also depend upon the average price of an LDPE bag-for-life.
75. A level of charge of between 7p and 15p was therefore recommended in the previous IA, based on the objectives of the policy and the estimated social cost of producing the bags. However, other key factors such as public acceptability also need to be considered in setting the level of charge. Although willingness to pay would need to be challenged in order to reduce consumption of SUCBs to a desirable level, the responses to the second consultation indicated that the majority of larger retailers are confident that a minimum charge of 5p per SUCB would be sufficient to achieve a desirable reduction in demand for SUCBs.

Sensitivity Analysis

76. The estimates for the Costs and Benefits by Policy Option in Table 1.0 are based on a range of assumptions taken from varying sources, including data from studies of the Irish levy on SUCBs (the 'PlasTax'⁹); the Scottish Executive¹⁰; and findings from the Environment Agency¹¹ on the life-cycle analysis of carrier bags.

77. Since the Irish 'PlasTax' is one of only a few real-world examples of a charge on SUCBs, and is the only known example which has produced robust findings, there exists some uncertainty surrounding the assumptions used in the calculations for this IA. It was therefore deemed necessary to undertake sensitivity analysis to determine whether varying the baseline assumptions would alter the outcome of each policy option.

78. The detailed assumptions used in the calculation of costs and benefits for each option are outlined at Annex 3. The main baseline variables used are as follows:

- Percentage change in quantity demanded of SUCBs
- Percentage change in quantity demanded of BfL
- Composition of BfL demand
- Average price of a BfL
- Social cost of a BfL

Using sensitivity analysis, these assumptions were varied under each policy option and evaluated against the four levels of charge shown in Table 1.0, in order to assess their relative impact on the costs and benefits and overall NPV for each option. The assumptions used under Option 4 were also amended for the purpose of sensitivity testing, in response to suggestions resulting from the second consultation (see paragraph 190 for results).

79. The only indicator which had any real effect on the overall ranking of the policy options (in terms of the overall NPV per option) was the composition of bag-for-life (BfL) demand, which altered both the average cost and, subsequently, the social cost of a BfL. The ranking of the policy options in each case also depended upon the level of charge under consideration. The outcome of the analysis is detailed in the following sections.

Percentage Change in Quantity Demanded of SUCBs

80. Using results from the experience in Ireland following the introduction of the 'PlasTax', regression analysis was undertaken in order to evaluate the percentage reduction in SUCBs associated with differing levels of charge. For instance, the Irish levy was €0.15 when it was first introduced in 2002, which corresponded to around a 94% reduction in quantity of SUCBs demanded, relative to the 2001 level, in the first year following implementation (averaging 91% overall by 2008). Using the 2008 exchange rate, which corresponds to the latest available Irish data, the results of the regression analysis showed that the following average percentage reductions in SUCBs demanded were associated with the relative levels of charge:

¹¹ Life Cycle Assessment of Supermarket Carrier Bags (2011), Environment Agency, Bristol..

- 5p (€0.06) = 59% reduction in SUCBs demanded
- 7p (€0.08) = 68% reduction in SUCBs demanded
- 10p (€0.13) = 83% reduction in SUCBs demanded
- 15p (€0.17) = 92% reduction in SUCBs demanded

81. The original recommended level of charge to be introduced under Policy Option 2 was between 7p and 15p. The calculations for Policy Option 2 in the 'Final' (Consultation) stage IA therefore used an associated reduction in SUCBs demanded of 68%, based on the central recommendation of a minimum 7p charge. However, the minimum level of charge has now been proposed at 5p per SUCB, based on the responses to the second consultation. The Costs and Benefits outlined in the 'Summary: Analysis and Evidence' page for Option 2 are therefore now based on a charge per SUCB of 5p, rather than the 7p originally recommended in the previous IA. [Note that the differing levels of charge in Table 1.0 use the associated percentage reductions in SUCB demand].

Reduction in, and New Quantity Demanded of, SUCBs	Total Cost to Consumers	Total Benefit to Consumers	Average Annual Cost	Average Annual Benefit	Overall NPV
59% (185m)	7	14	8	18	-260
68% (145m)	8	16	9	21	-240
83% (75m)	9	19	11	25	-210
92% (40m)	10	21	12	28	-190
100% (0m)	11	23	13	30	-170

Note: Figures are rounded to the nearest £1 million; overall NPV figures are rounded to the nearest £10 million. New quantities demanded of SUCBs are rounded to the nearest five million.

83. Table 2.0 indicates that altering the percentage reduction in quantity of SUCBs demanded affects both the net benefit to consumers and the overall NPV of the policy option. Hence, the outcome of Option 2 is estimated to be largely dependent upon the percentage reduction in demand for SUCBs achieved following the introduction of a charge.

84. For all four levels of charge evaluated in Table 1.0, altering the percentage reduction in quantity of SUCBs demanded had an effect on the overall NPV for Option 2. However, the relative ranking of each policy option was unaffected by this change, i.e. the introduction of a charge had the highest NPV, followed by a ban, with the extended voluntary agreement having the lowest NPV.

Percentage Change in Quantity Demanded of BfL

85. Based on an estimate used in the AEA WAG Single-Use Bag Study, the quantity demanded of BfL was assumed to increase by around 170% following the introduction of a 5p charge. This relative increase corresponded to the percentage reduction in quantity demanded of SUCBs; hence, altering the reduction in SUCBs demanded simultaneously changed the percentage increase in BfL demand.
86. For each level of charge, altering the percentage increase in BfL demand in isolation affected the ranking of Options 3 and 4 after a point, but did not affect the ranking of Option 2 as having the highest overall NPV in each case.

Composition of BfL Demand

87. Based on discussions with retailers, it was estimated that the composition of demand for bags-for-life consists of around 90% heavy gauge LDPE (costing the consumer an average of 10p per bag) and around 10% of the stronger, more durable bags such as jute, cotton or hessian (costing the consumer an average of around 65p per bag). Based on data from the Environment Agency study the 10p (LDPE) bags were assumed to be re-used 5 times, whilst the 65p bags were assumed to be re-used an average of 94 times (i.e. 14 uses for a non-woven PP bag and 173 uses for a cotton bag). Altering this composition of demand for each level of charge had the largest effect on the overall NPVs of each policy option, and had the only real impact on the ranking of the policy options out of all the indicators which were varied in the analysis.
88. Assuming that the composition of demand is as described above (90% LDPE, 10% durable), the weighted average price of a BfL was estimated to be 16p. When the composition of demand was altered (e.g. to 50% of each, and then to 100% of the more expensive 65p bags), however, the weighted average price therefore also changed. In addition, the weighted average social cost increased as the composition of demand tended toward a greater proportion of the more expensive (65p) bags.
89. As a result of increasing both weighted average price and social cost, in most cases the NPVs for each option became increasingly negative, or worsened (i.e. indicating an even higher ongoing social cost of undertaking policy action). However, in the majority of cases, when composition of demand was altered to 50% of each type of BfL, Option 2 was still ranked highest (i.e. it was estimated to be the 'best' policy option in terms of the overall NPV).

Compliance with Hampton Principles

90. The Hampton Review¹² sets out the key principles that should be consistently applied throughout the regulatory system. The Climate Change Act 2008 requires that before any powers in relation to civil sanctions are conferred on local authorities in Wales, the Welsh Assembly Government (WAG) must be satisfied that they will act in accordance with the Hampton principles. The Local Better Regulation Office (LBRO) has been commissioned to establish this and will be reporting back to the Welsh Ministers during the consultation period.

91. For instance, WAG must ensure that enforcement activities are carried out in a fair and transparent manner and that actions taken are appropriate and proportional to the problem. It is anticipated that the enforcement regime relating to the proposed charge on single-use bags will be complaint driven, as has been the experience with the Irish PlasTax. Local Authorities will be required to investigate breaches of regulation related to:

- Not charging for bags;
- Not keeping records;
- Not publicising records.

92. Hampton principles state that businesses should not have to give unnecessary information, nor give the same piece of information twice. Hence, in the case of reporting in relation to a charge on single-use bags, businesses (apart from those exempt from publishing requirements) will be required to produce the necessary information once a year.

EU Requirements

93. There is currently no specific EU requirement to limit the number of single-use bags in circulation. The current legislation of 'Directive 2006/12/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council' on waste states that member states should take measures to restrict the production of waste; in particular by promoting clean technologies and products which can be recycled and reused. However, single-use carrier bags are currently not mentioned in the list of recognised waste types under Decision 2000/532/EC.

94. The proposed charge on single-use carrier bags will therefore go beyond minimum EU requirements relating to waste.

Value of Offsetting Measures

95. When introducing new regulation the need for compensatory simplification measures should be considered, creating a balance between introducing new measures and simplifying or removing existing requirements.

¹² Hampton Review: http://www.hm-treasury.gov.uk/bud_bud05_hampton.htm

96. No offsetting measures have been introduced in this case since the proposed regulation relating to a charge on single-use bags does not overlap with any existing requirements.

Change in Greenhouse Gas Emissions

97. Production of single-use carrier bags creates carbon emissions of approximately 3p per bag. A proposed charge of 5p per bag on all single-use bags is expected to reduce their demand by an estimated 59%, leading to a corresponding reduction in production of SUCBs. This will lead to an anticipated reduction in carbon emissions of an estimated £8 million (i.e. a fall in SUCB demand of around 260 million, multiplied by carbon emissions from production of around 3p per bag).

Impact on Admin Burdens Baseline

98. In respect of the charge on single-use bags, it is proposed that all those who sell goods in the course of trade or business to customers in Wales will be required to keep records and provide returns relating to the number of bags sold annually. This requirement will impose an administrative burden on businesses which would otherwise not necessarily have existed in the absence of the charge; although, it is likely that retailers already keep a record of the number of bags given out, for stock-take purposes. Small businesses operating below a certain threshold and selling fewer than 1000 bags per annum are to be exempt from the requirement to publish records, so could be less affected by this additional administrative burden.

99. It is estimated that the total annual administrative cost of recording and reporting the number of bags sold each year in Wales will amount to around £1.0 million for all businesses combined. In 2005 prices, the additional administrative burden on retailers is estimated to amount to around £0.8 million (although this figure could be lower, since a portion of this admin burden will be accounted for by those businesses already recording the number of SUCBs given out as part of their normal stock control).

Specific Impact Tests

Competition Assessment

100. The policy might have an adverse impact on single-use bag manufacturers, although this is likely to be minimal since there are relatively few of these producers situated in Wales. Positive competition effects may result from the increased demand for reusable bags (BfL) such that manufacturers of these bags would benefit from producing a greater volume of bags-for-life. Positive competition effects may also result from the development of other sustainable alternatives to single-use carrier bags.

Small Firms Impact Test

101. The policy might have a disproportionate effect on SMEs, since a charge may lead to a reduction in impulse purchases from these retailers. However, this might also affect larger retailers, although such effects are not quantifiable at this stage.
102. Larger retailers might also have an unfair advantage with regard to non-compliance and possible court proceedings, and might find it logistically easier to implement new charging and administration systems. However, concessions are being made for small firms operating below a certain threshold and selling fewer than 100 bags per year, in order to reduce the administrative burden on these businesses.

Legal Aid

103. The policy would have a legal impact on firms in cases of non-compliance. The estimated resulting impact on Government of providing legal assistance is accounted for in the calculation of costs and benefits by policy option, in the evidence base; further detail regarding the derivation of the figures is outlined at Annex 3.

Sustainable Development

104. The policy contributes to the principles of sustainable development through both strengthening the emphasis on waste prevention and resource efficiency. The policy would create positive impacts in terms of: litter reduction; reuse of resources; increased awareness of packaging and its impact on waste disposal and climate change; and increased awareness of reuse and recycling. Concerns have been raised with regard to the impacts arising from the possible transfer of consumption, from single-use carrier bags to heavy-gauge LDPE reusable bags (i.e. the 10p bags-for-life). However, it is estimated that BfL consumption will fall, following an initial surge with the introduction of a charge on SUCBs, as consumers become more waste-aware and more likely to reuse carrier bags.

Carbon Assessment

105. The estimated greenhouse gas impacts are accounted for in the calculation of the social cost per bag and are included in the main evidence base.

Other Environment

106. Anticipated environmental impacts resulting from a charge on SUCBs are outlined in the evidence base. The main impacts on the environment will be the reduction in emissions from the production and disposal processes, along with the reduction in SUCB litter. However, wider environmental impacts could result if the policy encourages people to change their behaviour and to become more aware of other environmental issues, for example the need to recycle or to use 'greener' modes of transport.

Health Impact Assessment

107. The policy is expected to result in less single-use plastic bag litter, potentially reducing the number of accidents involving slippages on single-use plastic bags.
108. Responses to the second consultation indicated that a charge on SUCBs could add further complication to the relationship between pharmacists and patients. However, as indicated at Annex 2, to uphold patient confidentiality and safety an exemption has been placed on SUCBs which are used: solely to contain products sold or supplied in accordance with a prescription; provided free as part of other NHS services; or solely for Pharmacy medicines (i.e. restricted over the counter medicines from a qualified pharmacist or 'P medicines'). It is anticipated that a charge could impact upon patient-pharmacist relationships in certain circumstances, although this exemption seeks to minimise that impact.

Race Equality

109. We do not consider that the policy is relevant to the Government's responsibilities under the race equality duty.

Disability Equality

110. Around 30% of disabled respondents to the Office for Disability Issues' survey, 'Experiences and Expectations of Disabled People'¹³, reported that they received assistance with shopping. In implementing the policy it would therefore be necessary to ensure that their support and carers were aware of the charge and considered reusing bags.

Gender Equality

111. According to Defra's (2009) Survey of Public Attitudes and Behaviours towards the Environment¹⁴, there was a higher incidence of females (78%) than males (71%) claiming to have previously reused shopping bags and with the intention of doing so again. The policy might therefore have a slightly larger impact on males than females, since with a lower incidence of bag reuse males are more likely to have to purchase single-use bags following the introduction of a charge.

Human Rights

112. We consider that the policy is compatible with the European Convention on Human Rights.

Rural Proofing

113. We do not consider that the policy will have a significantly different impact in rural areas.

Annex 1: Post Implementation Review (PIR) Plan

A PIR should be undertaken, usually three to five years after implementation of the policy, but exceptionally a longer period may be more appropriate. A PIR should examine the extent to which the implemented regulations have achieved their objectives, assess their costs and benefits and identify whether they are having any unintended consequences. Please set out the PIR Plan as detailed below. If there is no plan to do a PIR please provide reasons below.

Basis of the review:

It is intended that a review of the policy will take place within three years of implementation. This policy review may, in turn, lead to a review of the statutory requirements.

Review objective:

The review is intended to assess the effectiveness of the policy in achieving its objectives of reducing wasteful use of resources and adapting consumer behaviour. It should seek to evaluate the achievement of the policy objectives in terms of reduction in demand for single-use carrier bags against the 2008 level of consumption.

Review approach and rationale:

The main approach for the review will be the monitoring of the number of single-use carrier bags being sold, since the overarching aim of the policy is to significantly reduce the number of SUCBs in circulation in Wales.

Baseline: The review should measure the reduction in the number of single-use carrier bags consumed in Wales, against the 2008 baseline figure of 445 million SUCBs.

Success criteria: Any reduction in the number of SUCBs consumed will be evaluated against the expected percentage reduction associated with the relevant level of charge, to assess the effectiveness of the policy in terms of reducing SUCBs. Should the number of SUCBs consumed begin to rise after an initial fall (as with the Irish 'PlasTax') the policy would need to be reconsidered; for instance, increasing the level of the charge.

Monitoring information arrangements:

Retailers will be required to publish records on the number of bags sold. This will provide an evidence base for the review.

Reasons for not planning a PIR:

Annex 2: Details of the Charge

Contents:

- Description of Bags to be Covered by the Charge
- Exemptions from the Charge
- Impact on Retailers

Description of Bags to be Covered by the Charge

114. The draft regulations defines the term 'single-use carrier bag' (SUCB) as meaning a bag:

- which is made wholly or partly of any type of plastic, paper, plant based material or natural starch; and
- which is not specifically manufactured or intended for multiple reuse.

Therefore 'Bags for Life' and other reusable bags such as cotton, jute and hessian are not covered by the charge.

Exemptions from the Charge

115. It is proposed that the following types of bags will be exempt from the charge:

- bags used solely to contain unpackaged food intended for human or animal consumption. This includes unpackaged meat or fish, unpackaged bread and loose items such as fruit and vegetables, bird seed or dog biscuits etc;
- bags used solely to contain loose, unpackaged seeds, bulbs, corms, or rhizomes;
- bags used solely to contain any unpackaged axe, knife, knife blade or razor blade;
- bags used solely to contain packaged uncooked fish or fish products, uncooked meat or meat products or uncooked poultry or poultry products and the maximum dimensions of which are 205mm (width) x 125mm (gusset width) x 458mm (height including handles);
- sealed bags supplied by a seller before the point of sale;
- bags used to contain purchases made on board ships, trains, aircraft, coaches or buses;
- bags used to contain purchases made in an area designated by the Secretary of State as a restricted zone under section 11A of the Aviation Security Act 1982 (i.e. the area of an airport once you pass through the security search point);

- bags for packaging and delivery of mail or mail order goods;
- bags which are made wholly of paper and the maximum dimensions of which are 175mm (width) x 260mm (height) or less
- bags which are made wholly or partly of plastic and the maximum dimension of which are 125mm (width) x 125mm (height) and which do not have a handle;
- bags which are made wholly of paper and the maximum dimensions of which are 80mm (width) x 50mm (gusset width) x 155mm (height) and which do not have a handle;
- gusseted liners used either to line or cover boxes or other items;
- bags used solely to contain live aquatic creatures in water;
- bags used solely to contain products sold or supplied in accordance with a prescription, provided free as part of other NHS services or Pharmacy medicines (i.e. restricted over the counter medicines from a qualified pharmacist or 'P medicines').

Impact on Retailers

116. The charge will apply to all those who sell goods in the course of trade or business to customers in Wales. This includes: supermarkets; high street retailers; small businesses; market stalls; internet grocery deliveries; and those that provide a service and also sell goods (e.g. a hairdressing salon which also sells hair products).

117. All retailers will be required to keep a record of:

- The number of bags sold in each year;
- The gross proceeds of the charge in each year;
- The net proceeds of the charge in each year;
- The breakdown of the reduction from gross to net proceeds in each year (e.g. amount spent on administration and communications etc.);
- The purposes to which the net proceeds have been put in that year.

118. Concerns have been raised about the administrative burden on small businesses. Particular concern was expressed with regard to the administrative burdens the charge will place on small businesses which give out very few bags in a year relative to the total number of free bags handed out.

119. It is therefore proposed that only retailers which operate above a certain threshold and sell over 1000 SUCBs a year should be required to publish information relating to bag sales.

120. It is intended that local authorities in Wales will be responsible for enforcement of the charge. Enforcement action will take the form of civil sanctions and we propose a range of penalties for breaches of the regulations dependant on size of business and turnover.

Calculating the Social Cost of Single-use Bags (SUCBs)

Negative Externalities from Production and Consumption

121. Single-use carrier bags impose costs on the taxpayer for several reasons: firstly, due to improper disposal they are a source of littering to the environment and, thus, generate costs for local authorities through having to clean up streets, countryside and beaches. Secondly, they fill up land-fill sites due to the fact they can take hundreds of years to decompose. Thirdly they are a hazard to wild- and marine- life when not disposed of in an appropriate manner. Besides the more visible impacts, there are also social costs which arise from the production process, in the form of damage to health and the environment as a result of carbon dioxide emissions as well as air and water pollution.
122. Economists refer to these unfavourable by-products of consumption and production as 'negative externalities' - a source of market failure. For Governments there is a rationale to address the market failure, since the market will not produce the socially desirable quantity of the good or service in question.
123. In the case of single-use carrier bags, the market is deemed to be over-producing the bags, leading to an ongoing cost to society. Although single-use carrier bags are provided 'free', the private cost is essentially 'hidden' by being priced into the retailers' products and is thus not visible to the consumer. Hence, no direct cost is attached to the bag and consumers will therefore demand a larger quantity than if faced with the 'true' cost.
124. Furthermore, even if the consumer were to be charged the cost of a single-use bag as incurred by the retailer (i.e. the 'private' cost), this would not be optimal since the price should be equal to the marginal social cost, reflecting the true cost to society of producing and consuming each additional bag.
125. A market-based approach can therefore be used to 'internalise' the externalities; i.e. to ensure that the full social cost of each bag is passed on to those consumers who choose to purchase them.

Calculating the Social Cost using Life-Cycle Analysis

126. The typical life-cycle of a single-use carrier bag can be considered using the following broad stages:

- Production processes (including extraction and production of raw materials);
- Transportation; and
- Consumption and disposal.

127. Diagram A outlines the life-cycle of a single-use plastic bag, which is the dominant form of carrier bag.

Diagram A – Life cycle of single-use carrier bag and possible sources of externalities

128. Academic literature was reviewed for each of the broad life-cycle stages in order to assess the externalities arising, and to evaluate the subsequent cost to society in order to provide a recommended minimum level of charge per bag.

129. For the purpose of this analysis it was necessary to evaluate the global warming potential of a SUCB in terms of carbon dioxide equivalence emitted throughout the life-cycle of a bag (i.e. during the 'production stage'). For simplicity the 'production stage' has been deemed to cover not only the production processes but also the extraction and production of raw materials; transportation; end-of-life; and avoided products and recycling. The consumption and disposal stage is evaluated separately and assesses the opportunity cost of improper disposal.

Production stage

130. At the 'production' stage the producer of single-use carrier bags would usually pay simply for the cost of inputs to production, such as raw materials and energy. What is omitted during the production process is the wider damage to the environment; this includes the carbon dioxide emissions from production, and pollutants emitted into the air and into water from chemicals used.¹⁵
131. The valuation of carbon emissions per bag is based on findings from a study by the Environment Agency (2010)¹⁶, which concluded that the global warming potential of a single-use carrier bag is around 2.08kg carbon dioxide equivalent (CO₂e). This is based on the potential carbon emissions from each of the production processes listed in paragraph 126. The valuation of global warming potential (GWP) is based on a SUCB being used only once as a carrier bag (having only a 'primary' use) and does not account for any 'secondary' re-use (e.g. re-using a SUCB as a bin-liner in the home). However, if secondary re-use were to be accounted for in the GWP then the CO₂e could be lower, at around 1.58kg per bag (based on 40% secondary re-use); this is discussed in more detail in paragraph 144.
132. The Nolan-ITU Australian study (see Reference 2) estimates the level of global warming potential per bag to be higher than the 2.08kg CO₂e given by the Environment Agency, at 6.08kg carbon dioxide equivalent. This difference could partly be accounted for by differing assumptions having been made regarding the materials used in the production processes, along with the number of SUCBs consumed per household, per annum. Furthermore, production processes may have become more efficient over time (i.e. since the 2002 publication of the Nolan-ITU study).
133. There are difficulties in valuing 'embodied' emissions from the production processes of a product, compared with 'direct' emissions (for example, CO₂ emitted from a car) which can potentially be valued using the traded or non-traded prices of carbon. For the purpose of this analysis it was therefore necessary to use a proxy for the price of embodied carbon emissions. The cost per tonne of CO₂ used in the analysis (approximately £13 per tonne) is based upon the spot price of carbon dioxide given by the European Climate Exchange - a market place for trading carbon dioxide emissions. Based on the carbon dioxide equivalence per SUCB of around 2.08kg, the cost of the CO₂e emitted throughout the 'production' process is estimated to equate to around 3p per bag (see Table A).
134. Based on the global warming potential from the CO₂e emissions, along with the water and air pollutants released throughout the production stage, the proportion of the total external cost per bag owing to this stage is estimated to be around 5 pence (see Table A). The remaining proportion of the total external cost per bag arises from the consumption and disposal stage and is outlined in the following section.

Consumption and Disposal Stage

135. Single-use carrier bags made from HDPE are usually intended for recycling; yet, according to a study from 'Resource Futures'¹⁷, single-use carrier bags made from plastic alone make up approximately 3 per cent of landfill in terms of weight. To approximate the proportion of the external cost per bag owing to improper recycling, the proportion of SUCBs contained in municipal waste intended for landfill in Wales (approximately 1 million tonnes per annum) was multiplied by the current level of landfill tax¹⁸ (£48 per tonne plus VAT). This 'opportunity cost' (i.e. the value of the next best option given up – in this case the opportunity to recycle a bag) equates to approximately 1p per bag (see Table B).
136. According to 'Keep Wales Tidy'¹⁹ single-use carrier bags make up approximately 2.7 per cent of the total volume of littering in Wales. This results in additional costs to local authorities through having to clean up plastic bag litter from recreational areas such as sea- and country-side. According to the AEA WAG Single-Use Bag Study (see Reference 1) the proportion of the total annual cost of street cleaning in Wales (£37 million) associated with SUCB litter is around £1 million per annum.
137. To estimate the associated cost of dealing with plastic bag littering to beaches in Wales, the cost of cleaning UK beaches of such litter (around £290,000 per annum) was proportionately applied to Wales by equating for length of coastline in miles. Given that the UK coastline is approximately 19,500 miles and the Welsh coastline is approximately 1,300 miles, the proportionate cost to Wales of cleaning beaches is estimated to be £20,000 per annum (i.e. approximately 7% of the UK figure). Taking both the cost of street cleaning and the cost of beach cleaning, the cost to society of littering is estimated to amount to around 1p per bag.

138. In total, the externalities arising from improper disposal (through littering and improper recycling) are estimated to be around 2p per bag (see Table B).

Total Social Cost

139. Table C (below) sets out the estimated total social cost of a single-use carrier bag (approximately 7p per bag), based on the life-cycle stages outlined above. The average 'private' cost (i.e. the wholesale price which retailers pay to purchase the bags from producers) is estimated to be 2p per bag. Based on the sum of both the social and private costs (i.e. total external cost per bag), the recommended minimum level of charge would thus amount to around 9p per bag, excluding VAT.

140. However, it is assumed that retailers already include the private cost (2p) in the price of shopping; the 9p would thus account for retailers lowering the price of shopping accordingly, following the introduction of a charge, and passing the 2p per bag on to consumers. In reality, however, this is deemed unlikely. The recommended level of charge based on the social cost per bag alone is therefore a minimum of 7p per bag.

Inclusion of VAT

141. The minimum level of charge is now proposed at 5p per SUCB. Allowing for the addition of VAT at 20% the minimum level of charge per single-use bag could be recommended at around 6p. This level of charge would also hold for VAT levels of 15.0% and 17.5%.

Paper Bags

142. It has not been possible to calculate the social cost of a paper bag at this stage due to lack of available data, relating to both the life-cycle of such a bag and to current usage of such bags in Wales²⁰. For the purpose of this analysis it was assumed that the social cost of a single-use paper bag is the same as that of a single-use plastic bag.

143. However, in reality the social cost of a single-use paper bag is likely to be much higher than that of a single-use plastic bag, due to higher resource intensity in the production process along with the additional cost of transporting and disposing of a typically much larger and heavier bag. This could ultimately lead to the social cost of a single-use carrier bag amounting to more than 7p, although the extent of such an increase is uncertain at this stage.

Global Warming Potential (GWP)

144. The Environment Agency's life-cycle analysis of a single-use carrier bag indicates that the global warming potential per bag amounts to 2.08kg CO₂e; this is based on the assumption that all SUCBs have only one primary use, and does not account for secondary re-use (i.e. re-use in a different function, for instance as a bin-liner in the home). However, SUCBs are often re-used in the home and so have more than one use. The Environment Agency's report suggested that with a 40% secondary re-use rate the GWP per bag amounts to around 1.58kg CO₂e.

145. However, even when this lower GWP figure is accounted for in the analysis, the social cost of a single-use carrier bag remains unchanged, suggesting that SUCBs would need to have a substantially higher re-use rate in order to lower the social cost per bag.

Findings from Australia

146. The Australian Nolan-ITU analysis of plastic bags suggests that a SUCB has a global warming potential of 6.08kg CO₂e, compared with the 2.08kg suggested in the Environment Agency's report. As indicated in paragraph 132, this could be due to differing assumptions between the reports, coupled with the fact that the studies were undertaken almost a decade apart (allowing for developments in production processes, for example).

²⁰ It is estimated that of the approximately 445 million single-use carrier bags consumed annually in Wales, 115 million of those are paper. However, there is considerable uncertainty surrounding the consumption of paper bags, for example what sizes of bags this consumption consists of or how many of those would be included in the charge on SUCBs (since smaller bags will be exempt).

147. Using the 6.08kg figure from the Australian report – instead of the 2.08kg from the Environment Agency report – in the analysis has an effect on the social cost of a single-use carrier bag. Allowing for this higher CO₂e per bag, the social cost could increase to around 12p per bag. This would lead to a 7p charge per bag generating a greater net benefit to society, although the overall NPV would in fact be worse than if the original CO₂e figure was used since the reference case itself would also consist of a higher ongoing cost to society and a greater negative NPV (based on a higher social cost per bag). In this instance, the minimum level of charge needed to generate an overall net benefit to society (i.e. to ensure the overall NPV is greater than zero) is estimated to be just over 15p per bag.

Calculating the Social Cost of Bags-for-Life (BfL)

Life-Cycle Analysis of Carrier Bags

148. Calculating the social cost of a bag-for-life involved a similar process to that undertaken for single-use bags. However, in this case the reference flow of each type of bag-for-life was used, in order to compare the social cost of a BfL relative to that of a SUCB.

149. The reference flow can be described as ‘the number of carrier bags required to fulfil the functional unit’²¹. In the Environment Agency’s life-cycle analysis, the ‘functional unit’ is carrying one month’s shopping, or 483 items, from the supermarket to the home. The reference flows of each bag type are shown in Table D.

Table D Reference Flow of Alternative Bag Types

Alternative Bag Types	Volume per bag (litres)	Weight per bag (g)	Items per bag	Reference Flow
Single-use HDPE	19.10	8.12	5.88	82.14
Reusable LDPE	21.52	34.94	7.96	60.68
Cotton bag	28.65	183.11	10.59	45.59
Non-woven PP bag	19.75	115.83	7.30	66.13

Source: Environment Agency

Note: A Single-use HDPE represents the average single-use plastic bag; a reusable LDPE represents the average 10p bag-for-life

150. The reference flows in Table D allow comparisons to be made between single-use carrier bags and alternative types of reusable ‘bags-for-life’ (i.e.

²¹ Life Cycle Assessment of Supermarket Carrier Bags, Environment Agency (draft report - as yet unpublished).

around 82 SUCBs are required to carry 483 items per month, compared with around 61 reusable LDPE bags). Since the social cost of a single-use bag was calculated previously, each of the reference flow figures for the alternative bag types were hence given an index relative to the baseline (i.e. a single-use bag), for comparison.

151. For example, if the reference flow of a single-use bag (82.14) was given an index of 100, for a reusable LDPE the index would be 73.87 ($[60.68 / 82.14] \times 100$). This essentially means that where 100 single-use bags are needed, only 73.87 LDPE bags would be required if used as an alternative bag type.
152. Using indices, it was thus possible to calculate the average social cost of a BfL by applying the average relative index to the social cost of a single-use bag. For instance, the index for a reusable LDPE was 73.87; based on a life of 5 uses, the social cost of this bag relative to that of a single-use HDPE (7p) equates to around 25p. Hence, a value of 25p was used in the analysis to represent the social cost of a 10p bag-for-life, which was assumed to make up 90% of the composition of BfL demand.
153. The social cost of the stronger, more durable bags-for-life with an estimated average price of 65p was calculated using the same formula; these bags were assumed to make up the remaining 10% of the composition of BfL demand. The individual indices for the remaining bag types (cotton and non-woven PP) were calculated using the same formula as for an LDPE bag. Based on an average life of 173 uses for a cotton bag and 14 uses for a non-woven PP bag, the average social cost of the two bag types (representing the average 65p bag) is around £3.70 per bag.

Average Social Cost based on Composition of BfL Demand

154. It was assumed in the overall analysis that the composition of demand for bags-for-life consisted of 90% reusable HDPE bags (i.e. the heavy-gauge plastic bags which have an average price of 10p) and 10% of the stronger, more durable bags which have an average price of 65p (for example calico, woven and swag bags).
155. Based on this estimated composition of demand, a weighted average was applied to the individual social cost calculations in order to find the average social cost of a bag-for-life. For instance, assuming a 90:10 composition of 10p and 65p bags respectively, the average social cost was estimated to be around 60p ($[0.90 \times 25p] + [0.10 \times £3.70]$).
156. The impact on the NPV of altering this composition of demand (and, hence, the weighted average social cost of a BfL) was examined in the sensitivity analysis, results of which were outlined in the Evidence Base.

Assumptions used in the Calculation of Costs and Benefits

Forecast Period and the use of Discounting

157. The analysis of the costs and benefits for each policy option was based on a 15-year forecast period (from year 0 to year 15, based on mid-year projections) and it was assumed that year zero was the year of implementation of the policy (i.e. the year in which the 'set-up' or one-off costs would arise).
158. Given that there is a general public preference to receive goods and services now rather than in the future (known as 'time preference'), individuals and firms require a return in order to encourage them to invest their money now and defer their present consumption until later. The real rate (i.e. taking account of inflation) of return required can thus be used as the 'discount rate', in order to convert future costs and benefits to present values so that comparisons can be made between them.
159. The net present value of each policy option therefore represents the present value of the stream of costs and benefits over the 15-year period, and is used to determine whether or not Government intervention can be justified. In general, the higher the NPV the better the expected outcome of the policy.
160. In line with the 'Green Book'²² recommendation, the discount rate used in the analysis was 3.5%.

Baseline Assumptions used for all Policy Options

161. Table E outlines the baseline assumptions used in the calculation of costs and benefits for each policy option; these are the baseline indicators from which each policy option varied according to the assumptions used.
162. Table E shows there are an estimated 445 million single-use bags consumed annually in Wales, consisting of 330 million plastic and 115 million paper bags. This assumption was taken from the Welsh Assembly Government-commissioned AEA study on single-use bags (see Reference 1). The single-use figure is based on a 50% reduction, from the 2006 baseline figure of 660 million, following the introduction of the existing voluntary agreement. The same report also estimated that under the current voluntary agreement bag-for-life usage had doubled, from the 2006 baseline figure of 7 million to the current figure of 14 million.

Bags for Life

163. The estimate of the composition of bag-for-life demand was based on discussions with retailers, who approximated that around 90% of bag-for-life sales consisted of the heavy-gauge reusable LDPE bags which have an average price of 10p. Based on this approximation, it was assumed the remaining 10% of demand consisted of the more expensive, more durable bags. The AEA Technology report, produced for the Scottish Executive on the proposed plastic bag levy in Scotland, suggested that the average price of a more durable bag-for-life is around 65p.

164. Based on the composition of BfL demand, a weighted-average price was calculated at 16p ($[0.9 \times 10p] + [0.1 \times 65p]$).

165. The Environment Agency report indicated that a reusable LDPE bag (e.g. with an average price of 10p) had a life of 5 uses. The stronger and more durable bags were assumed to have an average life of 94 uses. The average social cost of a BfL was determined using the life-cycle analysis findings from the Environment Agency report and the weighted-average was based on the composition of BfL demand. Based on the calculations outlined in the previous section the weighted average social cost was estimated to be around 60p.

Voluntary Charge

166. It was assumed that under Option 4 all retailers involved would impose a 5p charge on each single-use bag in order to discourage consumption of the bags. This assumption was based partly on the existing voluntary agreement – which saw one retailer out of seven imposing a 5p charge on SUCBs – and also on results from the consultation process, which found that several retailers are now voluntarily imposing a charge on SUCBs (in the region of 1p to 5p).

Costs to Retailers

167. For Option 2 it was assumed that retailers would incur annual costs through having to report on the number of single-use bags being sold per annum. The estimated costs to retailers are based on figures from the Scottish Executive's Regulatory Impact Assessment (RIA) of an Environmental Levy on plastic bags²³.

168. Table F shows the estimated average cost to each Scottish retail sector of keeping and publishing annual records, and is based on 52,690 retail outlets in Scotland in 2005 (92% of which were SMEs). For example, the average total cost to all 48,000-plus SME food and non-food retailers per annum is around £4.4 million (i.e. the average of the £5.6m for SME food retailers and the £3.2m for SME non-food retailers respectively); this equates to around £90 per individual retailer unit, per annum (i.e. £4.4 million / 48,500 SMEs). For the 4,000-plus large retailers in Scotland the average annual total cost is around £0.3 million, equating to around £80 per individual retailer unit, per annum. Based upon these estimates, the corresponding average annual total cost for the 9,614 food- and non-food retailers²⁴ in Wales is thus estimated at just under £0.9 million.

²⁴ Inter-Departmental Business Register (IDBR). Five-year average from 2005 to 2009 of total food and non-food enterprises in Wales.

169. Taking a five-year average from 2005 to 2009 of all businesses in Wales (from the IDBR), 97% (around 9,300) have fewer than 250 employees. Using this as a measure of SMEs in Wales, based on the costs to Scottish retailers around 9,300 businesses in Wales would therefore face annual costs of an estimated £90 for publishing requirements. For large retailers in Wales (around 300) the average cost is estimated to be around £80 per annum (again based on the Scottish figures).
170. Several responses to the second consultation indicated that the initial Impact Assessment had substantially underestimated the ongoing costs to retailers of administering and processing a charge on SUCBs. The evidence used in the 'Final' stage IA was based on analysis undertaken by the Scottish Executive and is therefore deemed appropriate for the purpose of this IA.
171. There were a few estimates of average costs provided in the consultation responses. These indicated that the total cost to retailers could amount to an average of around £1 million per annum, based on a consumption level of 180 million SUCBs following the introduction of a 5p charge. This figure is based on a suggestion of ongoing admin and operational costs of between $\frac{1}{4}$ p and 1p per SUCB, depending on the retailer, giving an indicative range of costs between £0.46m and £1.8m. Given that the majority of retailers in Wales are SMEs, the total annual cost could be towards the higher end of the scale since SMEs are likely to incur higher costs than larger retailers. The average annual figure of £1m, nonetheless, is similar to that outlined in the 'Final' (Consultation) stage IA, suggesting that the estimated cost to retailers is not substantially different to that expected by a majority of retailers. These indicative figures generated by the consultation will need to be verified by retailers, however, in order to form an accurate picture of the actual costs incurred by retailers under Option 2.
172. The smallest businesses may not be affected by the requirement to submit annual returns, since those businesses selling fewer than 1000 bags and operating below a threshold of £68,000 are to be exempt from the publishing requirements.

Additional Assumptions made under Option 2 (Introduction of a Charge)

173. Table G outlines the additional key assumptions which were used in order to evaluate the effect of a charge on the overall NPV. The main indicator was the percentage reduction in consumption of single-use bags following the introduction of a charge; the derivation of the relative reductions for each level of charge are outlined in the 'Sensitivity Analysis' section of the Evidence Base.

Table G Assumptions under Option 2: Introduction of a Charge

Indicator	Value
• Level of charge for SUCB	5p
• Percentage reduction in SUCB consumption	59%
• Percentage increase in BfL consumption	172%

174. The minimum level of charge recommended under option 2 was originally based on the estimated social cost of a single-use carrier bag (7p). However, taking into account the level of uncertainty and the responses to the second consultation this has now been amended to 5p per SUCB. The corresponding percentage reduction is based on data from the Irish 'PlasTax' and was adjusted according to the level of charge under consideration. The range of values for Costs and Benefits and NPVs given in the 'Summary: Analysis and Evidence' page is based on differing percentage reductions in SUCB consumption following the introduction of a 5p charge (see Table 2.0 in the Evidence Base for more detail).

175. The percentage increase in BfL consumption following the introduction of a charge on SUCBs is based on an assumption used in the AEA WAG Single-Use Bag Study (see Reference 1). The AEA study estimated that demand for reusable LDPE bags would increase by 263% following the introduction of a charge on all single-use paper and plastic carrier bags. This percentage increase, however, corresponded to a 90% reduction in demand for single-use bags, which was based on the reduction in SUCBs experienced by Ireland following their introduction of the 'PlasTax'. The regression analysis outlined in the Evidence Base shows that a 5p charge on SUCBs is estimated to reduce consumption of SUCBs by approximately 59%; therefore, the corresponding percentage increase in BfL consumption was estimated to equate to around 172% ($[(263 / 90) \times 59]$).

176. However, the analysis assumes that the level of BfL demand following the percentage increase will be sustained throughout the 15-year forecast period; in reality, this will not necessarily be the case. It is estimated that there is likely to be an initial surge in BfL demand following the introduction of a charge on SUCBs, provided consumers adapt their behaviour in response and switch consumption to the reusable bags-for-life. But given that many of the more expensive BfL will last for up to a year, or perhaps even longer, this level of demand might fall once consumers have purchased their required volume of BfL.

177. Furthermore, many of the 'bags-for-life' which are sold for 10p are indeed intended to be 'for life': many retailers which sell the 10p BfL offer a promise to replace the bag free of charge once it reaches the end of its life. However, it is not known whether this policy would continue following the introduction of a charge on SUCBs, or whether this will also be extended to the more expensive reusable bags (which we have also termed 'bags-for-life' for the purpose of this analysis), which would reduce the cost to the consumer over time of purchasing BfL.

Additional Assumptions made under Option 3 (a Ban on SUCBs)

178. Table H outlines the additional key assumptions used in the evaluation of the effect of a ban on the overall NPV. As considered under Option 2, the main key indicator was the percentage reduction in consumption of single-use bags following the introduction of the policy and the subsequent percentage increase in BfL.

Table H Assumptions under Option 3: Introduction of a Ban

Indicator	Value
• Percentage reduction in SUCB consumption	100%
• Percentage increase in BfL consumption	292%

179. It was assumed that a ban on SUCBs would result in a 100% reduction in the number of SUCBs consumed. This would ultimately depend upon there being a 100% rate of compliance with the ban.

180. The derivation of the percentage increase in BfL demand following a ban on SUCBs is the same as that described under Option 2; i.e. the increase corresponds to the percentage reduction in SUCBs, based on the assumptions used in the AEA Technology WAG study $([263 / 90] \times 100)$.

Additional Assumptions made under Option 4 (Extended Voluntary Agreement)

181. Table I shows the additional assumptions used under Option 4, the extended voluntary agreement. As with Options 2 and 3, the main key indicators are the percentage changes in consumption of both SUCBs and BfL.

Table I Assumptions under Option 4: Extended Voluntary Agreement

Indicator	Value
• Percentage reduction in SUCB consumption	18%
• Percentage increase in BfL consumption	51%
• Charge imposed under Voluntary Agreement	5p

182. The percentage increase in BfL consumption (51%) was calculated using the same method as for Options 2 and 3, i.e. relative to the percentage reduction in SUCB consumption and based on the AEA estimate $([263 / 90] \times 18)$.

183. The estimate of the percentage reduction in SUCB consumption under Option 4 was based on data from a report by Nolan-ITU²⁵, on plastic bag consumption in Australia between 2002 and 2004. The report indicated that, with a voluntary code of practice encompassing targets for bag usage set by the Environment Protection and Heritage Council, SUCB usage had fallen by between 10% and 25% between 2002 and 2004. Based on the average of this range, it was estimated that with an extended voluntary agreement in Wales which achieved an additional participation rate of 30% of the remaining retailers, a reduction in SUCB usage of 18% could potentially be achieved.

184. It was assumed for the purpose of this analysis that all retailers involved in the agreement would impose a charge of 5p on each single-use bag. This assumption was based on responses to the consultation process, which indicated that several retailers already impose a charge on SUCBs outside of the voluntary agreement which is currently in place.
185. The percentage reduction in SUCBs demanded under Option 4 was not based on the Irish data, since it was assumed that not all retailers would be involved in the extended voluntary agreement. Furthermore, some may choose to reduce SUCB consumption via means other than the imposition of a charge. It should be noted, thus, that the costs and benefits estimated to arise under Option 4 could potentially be over- or under-estimates (for instance, if the percentage reduction in SUCB demand was lower or higher, respectively) and should therefore be considered accordingly.
186. Responses to the second consultation indicated that there was a high level of support for an extended voluntary agreement. However, there was no further evidence provided to support the case for Option 4.
187. For illustrative purposes, sensitivity analysis was undertaken to give an indication of the impact of Option 4 under revised assumptions. For example, if Option 4 were able to reduce SUCB demand by a further 50% relative to the baseline (i.e. 445 million reduced by 50%, to 223 million) it is estimated that, provided 50% of remaining retailers took part (rather than the 30% assumed in the original model) and all voluntarily charged 5p per bag, this could create an additional benefit of around £50 million relative to the original estimated NPV. This would give a new overall NPV of -£320 million. If participating retailers only charged 1p per SUCB on this voluntary basis the additional benefit relative to the original NPV is likely to be smaller at around £10 million, generating an overall NPV of an estimated -£360 million. These adjusted NPV figures also account for the anticipated relative increase in bags-for-life that would arise under this option. These illustrative figures indicate, therefore, that Option 4 is not likely to rank any differently among the policy options even if the modeling assumptions were amended.

Annex 4: Amendments to the Single Use Carrier Bags Charge (Wales) Regulations 2010

188. The Amendment Regulations make a number of minor changes to the Single Use Carrier Bags Charge (Wales) Regulations 2010 to ensure that they give effect to the policy consulted on. They also make two substantive changes.
189. The minor changes relate to:
- clarification of VAT;
 - clarification of how amounts above the 5 pence minimum charge are to be treated for reporting purposes;
 - removing the exemption for sealed bags;
 - clarification of the exemption for packaging and delivery of mail order goods in polythene mailbags;
 - preventing a notice of intent to impose a fixed monetary penalty from being served if a seller has previously discharged liability to a penalty in relation to the same breach of the Regulations.
190. This annex is concerned with the two substantive changes to the Single Use Carrier Bags Charge (Wales) Regulations 2010, which are based on feedback from businesses and the business sector in Wales and relate to:
- removing the reporting requirements for sellers who employ fewer than 10 full-time equivalent (FTE) members of staff on the first day of a reporting year;
 - costs incurred by sellers prior to implementation being deductible from the amount they report as their net proceeds of the charge in the first year.
191. Following the consultation process and feedback from businesses, it is apparent that the requirement to keep records is likely to introduce a level of practical complexity for micro businesses that is disproportionate to the contribution they make to the number of SUCBs supplied in Wales. On balance it is therefore considered that the regulatory burden on the smallest of businesses outweighs the public benefit of having access to those records. Hence, the record-keeping requirements for retailers employing fewer than 10 full-time equivalent (FTE) staff at the beginning of any particular reporting year are being removed (though these businesses will not be exempt from the requirement to charge for SUCBs).
192. The 2010 Regulations do not currently allow set-up costs incurred by retailers to be included in the definition of 'reasonable costs', since they are not incurred during the actual reporting period (which in the first year covers the period 01 October 2011 to 06 April 2012). The Regulations are thus being amended so that these set-up costs count as 'reasonable costs' for the first reporting year and consequently, can be deducted from the amount sellers receive from charging 5 pence each for SUCBs in the first reporting year. This will produce a more accurate picture of the additional money that sellers receive by having to charge 5 pence per single-use carrier bag.

Exemptions from Reporting Requirements

193. The exemption from reporting requirements for micro businesses aims to release the smallest retailers in Wales from the record-keeping duty. The threshold upon which the exemption is set is a headcount of fewer than 10 FTE staff. Data from the UK department for Business Innovation and Skills (BIS) indicates that 95% of businesses in Wales fall within the threshold of fewer than 10 FTE staff, suggesting that the majority of businesses in Wales would be exempt from the reporting requirements (but not from the charge itself).

194. The IDBR²⁶ suggests that in total there are around 9,600 food and non-food retailers in Wales, all of which will be affected by the single-use carrier bag (SUCB) Regulations. Applying the BIS assumption to the number of retailers in Wales, the exemption could mean there would be around 500 retailers (the majority of which will have multiple outlets throughout Wales) having to comply with the reporting requirements (with the remaining 9,100, or 95%, being exempt). Table J shows the reduction in the overall costs to retailers as a result of this amendment to the 2010 Regulations.

Table J Average Annual (Total) Costs to Retailers of Keeping Records and Submitting Returns

	Number of Retailers in Wales	Average Annual Cost of Record-Keeping Requirements, with no exemption (£)	Average Annual Cost of Record-Keeping Requirements, with exemption (£)
Fewer than 10 FTE*	9,100	830,000	0
10 or more FTE	500	40,000	40,000
Total	9,600	870,000	40,000

*Number of retailers with fewer than 10 FTE is estimated to be 95% of all retailers in Wales.

195. As indicated in Table J, the average annual cost to retailers would fall from around £870k to around £40k per annum if 95% of retailers were exempt from the reporting requirements. However, since the charge is intended to be cost-neutral to retailers, the annual cost of the reporting requirements can be recouped from the proceeds of the charge; hence, these amendments will not have any effect on the overall NPV of the policy option (since any reduction in annual costs to retailers will be accompanied by an equivalent reduction in annual benefits).

Non-Quantified Impacts

196. Since there will only be around 500 retailers having to report the number of SUCBs being sold each year, it could be difficult to monitor the impact of the policy according to the original objectives: namely, a reduction in the number of SUCBs being consumed annually. The Post-Implementation Review should seek to identify gaps in information and to assess whether or not the record-keeping requirements are contributing to the overall evaluation process.

²⁶ Inter-Departmental Business Register (IDBR). A five-year average (2005-2009) of total food and non-food enterprises in Wales was used for the purpose of the RIA.

Roedd Mesur Addysg (Cymru) 2009 (“y Mesur”) yn diwygio Rhan 4 o Ddeddf Gwahaniaethu ar sail Anabledd 1995, a oedd yn ymwneud â gwahaniaethu mewn ysgolion, er mwyn galluogi plant eu hunain i wneud hawliad gwahaniaethu ar sail anabledd, i Dribiwnlys Anghenion Addysgol Arbennig Cymru. Diddymir Deddf Gwahaniaethu ar sail Anabledd 1995 gan Ddeddf Cydraddoldeb 2010.

Mae'r Gorchymyn hwn, a wnaed o dan adran 20 o'r Mesur, yn diwygio'r Mesur drwy ddileu'r darpariaethau a oedd yn diwygio Deddf Gwahaniaethu ar sail Anabledd 1995, a gosod darpariaethau cyfatebol a darpariaethau priodol eraill yn eu lle, sy'n diwygio Deddf Cydraddoldeb 2010.

Craffu ar rinweddau

Gwahoddir y Cynulliad i dalu sylw arbennig i'r offeryn hwn o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3 am y rhesymau canlynol -

Gwneir yr offeryn hwn o dan amgylchiadau unigryw. Pan ystyriwyd y Mesur gan y Cynulliad roedd newidiadau eang i ddeddfwriaeth cydraddoldeb yn cael eu hystyried yn San Steffan. Fodd bynnag, nid oedd yn amlwg beth fyddai ffurf derfynol y newidiadau hynny, na'r amserlen ar gyfer eu gweithredu. Oherwydd hynny, rhoddodd y Mesur i Weinidogion Cymru y pŵer anghyffredin y cyfeirir ato uchod i wneud diwygiadau helaeth i fesur a oedd yn cael ei ystyried gan y Cynulliad.

Mae adran 20 o'r Mesur yn cyfyngu ar natur y diwygiadau a ganiateir, ond oherwydd bod y newidiadau yn sgil Deddf Cydraddoldeb 2010 mor eang, nid yw'r diwygiadau yn adlewyrchu'n union y ddeddfwriaeth a basiwyd gan y Cynulliad. Mae'r diwygiadau a wneir i'r Mesur gan y Gorchymyn hwn yn cyfateb mor agos ag sy'n ymarferol i'r hyn a gytunwyd gan y Cynulliad, gan sicrhau bod yr hawliau a roddwyd i blant gan y Mesur yn cael eu gwarchod o dan y gyfundrefn newydd.

Dear First Minister

CA581 - The Waste (Miscellaneous Provisions) (Wales) Regulations 2011

The Committee on Statutory Instruments considered the above regulations at its meeting on 22 June 2011.

The Committee agreed to report to the Assembly under Standing Order 21.3 (ii) that the regulations raised issues of political or legal importance. However, the Committee also asked me to write to you to draw to your attention to one particular aspect of our report.

In her letter of 28 March 2011 to the Presiding Officer, the then Minister for Business and Budget explained that the Welsh Ministers had discretion over whether the Regulations should be made by the negative or the affirmative procedure. The Minister offered the following explanation for the use of the negative procedure in this case:

"...The Wales Regulations do not substantially affect the provisions of an Act of Parliament or Assembly Measure, they do not amend any provision of an Act or Measure, and provide only for consequential updatings of subordinate legislation to reflect changes in Directive terminology and objectives. It was concluded, therefore, that it would not be appropriate to make the Wales Regulations under the affirmative procedure."

The Committee commends this as an important and useful statement of criteria for deciding whether future legislation, under these or similar powers, should be made by the affirmative or negative procedure. It also builds on other statements by the Government on criteria for deciding which scrutiny procedure is appropriate for subordinate legislation including when Ministers are seeking new or amended powers through legislation made by the National Assembly.

The Committee would be grateful if explanatory memorandums, relating to the use of these or similar powers in future, could set out briefly, as a matter of special interest to the Committee, how the criteria have been used in judging whether the negative or affirmative procedures should be used. I would be grateful for your confirmation of this.

I am copying this to the Counsel General for information.

Yours sincerely

Adroddiad Drafft y Pwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol

CA581

Teitl: Rheoliadau Gwastraff (Darpariaethau Amrywiol) (Cymru) 2011

Gweithdrefn: Negyddol

Mae'r Rheoliadau hyn yn atodol i Reoliadau Gwastraff (Cymru a Lloegr) 2011 ("Rheoliadau Cymru a Lloegr"). Maent yn gwneud diwygiadau i nifer o offerynnau statudol Cymru at ddibenion trosi, o ran Cymru, Gyfarwyddeb 2008/98/EC Senedd Ewrop a'r Cyngor ar wastraff (OJ Rhif L 312, 22.11.2008, t3). Maent hefyd, at yr un diben, yn dirymu un offeryn statudol Cymru.

Materion Technegol: Craffu

Rhinweddau: Craffu

O dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3 gwahoddir y Cynulliad i roi sylw arbennig i'r offeryn a ganlyn:-

1. Ni roddwyd y Rheoliadau hyn ar waith yng Nghymru o fewn y fframwaith amser a bennwyd gan y Gyfarwyddeb Fframwaith Gwastraff ddiwygiedig ("y Gyfarwyddwb ddiwygiedig"). Roedd yn ofynnol ar y DU (gan gynnwys y gweinyddiaethau datganoledig) i drosi'r Gyfarwyddeb ddiwygiedig erbyn 12 Rhagfyr 2010. Ni wnaeth Llywodraeth y DU hynny erbyn y terfyn amser. Mae'r Gweinidog dros Fusnes a'r Gyllideb wedi ysgrifennu at y Llywydd i'w hysbysu am y rhesymau dros y diffyg cydymffurfio. Y prif reswm oedd bod angen aros tan i Reoliadau Cymru a Lloegr gael eu gwneud gan mai'r Rheoliadau hynny yn bennaf a oedd yn trosi'r Gyfarwyddeb ddiwygiedig. Mae'r Rheoliadau Gwastraff (Darpariaethau Amrywiol) (Cymru) 2011 ("y Rheoliadau Cymreig") yn gwneud nifer o ddiwygiadau canlyniadol i Offerynnau Statudol Cymru a wnaed yn flaenorol gan Weinidogion Cymru. Roedd angen am ddeddfwriaeth ar wahân gan fod rhaid i offeryn Cymru gael ei wneud yn ddwyieithog, ac nid oedd Llywodraeth y DU, am resymau gweinyddol yng nghyd-destun yr amserlen ar gyfer trosi, yn fodlon cynnwys diwygiadau o'r fath yn Rheoliadau Cymru a Lloegr.

(Rheol Sefydlog 21.3 (iv) – ei fod yn rhoi deddfwriaeth yr Undeb Ewropeaidd ar waith yn amhriodol.)

2. Gellir gwneud rheoliadau o dan adran 2(2) o Ddeddf y Cymunedau Ewropeaidd 1972 gan ddefnyddio'r weithdrefn negyddol neu gadarnhaol. Y sawl sy'n gwneud y rheoliadau (Gweinidogion Cymru yn yr achos hwn) sydd â'r disgresiwn o ran dewis pa weithdrefn i'w defnyddio, ac nid oes unrhyw feini prawf wedi'u nodi mewn cyfraith ar gyfer hynny.

Gwnaed y rheoliadau penodol hyn gan dramgwyddo ar y rheol 21 niwrnod. Nodwyd y rhesymau dros y tramgwydd yn llythyr y Gweinidog dros Fusnes a'r Gyllideb ar y pryd at y Llywydd, dyddiedig 28 Mawrth 2011. Roedd ei llythyr hefyd yn cynnig yr eglurhad a ganlyn dros ddefnyddio'r weithdrefn negyddol yn yr achos hwn:

“...the choice of procedure has depended on the nature of the provision being made rather than procedural considerations. The Wales Regulations do not substantially affect the provisions of an Act of Parliament or Assembly Measure, they do not amend any provision of an Act or Measure, and provide only for consequential updatings of subordinate legislation to reflect changes in Directive terminology and objectives. It was concluded, therefore, that it would not be appropriate to make the Wales Regulations under the affirmative procedure.”

Mae'r Pwyllgor yn gwbl fodlon â'r eglurhad hwn. Yn ogystal, mae'n credu ei fod hefyd yn darparu meini prawf pwysig a defnyddiol ar gyfer barnu a ddylid gwneud unrhyw ddeddfwriaeth yn y dyfodol a wneir o dan y pwerau hyn (neu ddeddfwriaeth lle mae gan Weinidogion ddisgresiwn tebyg o ran y weithdrefn y dylid ei defnyddio) drwy ddefnyddio'r weithdrefn gadarnhaol neu negyddol.

Mae'r Pwyllgor yn credu y byddai'n ddefnyddiol pe gallai'r memoranda esboniadol sy'n cyfeirio at ddefnydd yn y dyfodol o bwerau o'r fath nodi'n gryno, fel mater o ddiddordeb arbennig i'r Pwyllgor, sut y defnyddiwyd y meini prawf a nodwyd yn llythyr y Gweinidog i farnu a ddylid defnyddio'r weithdrefn negyddol neu'r weithdrefn gadarnhaol.

(Rheol Sefydlog 21.3 (ii) – ei fod o bwysigrwydd gwleidyddol neu gyfreithiol.)

Rheoliadau Gwastraff (Darpariaethau Amrywiol) (Cymru) 2011

Mae'r Llywodraeth wedi esbonio, drwy lythyr y Gweinidog dros Fusnes a'r Gyllideb at y Llywydd, pam yr oedd yn angenrheidiol i Reoliadau Cymru gynnwys darpariaethau sy'n cyfeirio at ddarpariaethau yn Rheoliadau Cymru a Lloegr ac yn dibynnu arnynt. O ganlyniad i hyn, nid oedd modd i Reoliadau Cymru gael eu gwneud yn gynt na Rheoliadau Cymru a Lloegr. O ran y Rheoliadau hynny, byddai'r Llywodraeth yn tynnu sylw at y ffaith bod y Gyfarwyddeb Fframwaith Gwastraff ddiwygiedig yn cyflwyno sawl darpariaeth newydd, yn ychwanegol at gydgrynhoi Cyfarwyddebau Gwastraff cynharach, ac yn rhoi pwys ar ymgysylltu â rhanddeiliaid. Yr oedd y Llywodraeth felly o'r farn ei bod yn angenrheidiol ymgysylltu'n effeithiol â rhanddeiliaid drwy ymgynghori'n helaeth â'r cyhoedd cyn cyflwyno'r ddeddfwriaeth angenrheidiol. Er hynny, yr oedd gan y materion a oedd yn codi o'r ymgynghoriadau effaith ar yr amserlen ar gyfer trosi'r Gyfarwyddeb. Mae'n flin gan y Llywodraeth am hyn, ond mae'n credu bod y ffaith ei bod wedi ymgynghori ac wedi ystyried y materion a gododd o'r ymgynghori wedi helpu i sicrhau bod y Gyfarwyddeb yn cael ei gweithredu'n fwy effeithiol yng Nghymru.

25 Gorffennaf 2011

CA581 – Gorchymyn Gwastraff (Darpariaethau Amrywiol) (Cymru) 2011

Ysgrifennaf atoch mewn ymateb i'ch llythyr dyddiedig 4 Gorffennaf yn tynnu fy sylw at adroddiad y Pwyllgor ar Offerynnau Statudol a ystyriodd Reoliadau Gwastraff (Darpariaethau Amrywiol) (Cymru) 2011 ar 22 Mehefin 2011. Cyfeiriodd eich llythyr yn ogystal at sefyllfaoedd lle y gall Gweinidogion Cymru arfer disgresiwn dros y dewis o weithdrefn sy'n berthnasol i ddarn o is-ddeddfwriaeth, a'r angen i gynnwys esboniad yn y Memorandwm Esboniadol.

Nodaf fod y Pwyllgor wedi adrodd o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3 (ii) ar sail y ffaith ei fod o bwysigrwydd gwleidyddol neu gyfreithiol neu'n codi materion ym maes polisi cyhoeddus sy'n debygol o fod o ddiddordeb i'r Cynulliad. Nid oes gennyf unrhyw sylwadau pellach i'w gwneud ynghylch ymateb y Llywodraeth a gynhwysir yn adroddiad y Pwyllgor.

Mewn perthynas â'ch cais ynghylch cynnwys Memoranda Esboniadol yn y dyfodol, os yw'r ddeddfwriaeth alluogi yn rhoi disgresiwn i Weinidogion Cymru ynghylch y weithdrefn i'w defnyddio, cytunaf y dylai'r Memorandwm Esboniadol gynnwys esboniad ynghylch y modd y mae'r disgresiwn hwnnw wedi'i arfer. Yn wir, byddwch wedi nodi bod y Memorandwm Esboniadol a luniwyd i gyd-fynd â'r Gorchymyn Gwastraff (Darpariaethau Amrywiol) (Cymru) yn darparu esboniad o'r fath o dan 'cefnidir deddfwriaethol'. Byddaf yn sicrhau bod y canllawiau i swyddogion yn cael eu diwygio fel bod unrhyw esboniad o'r fath yn y dyfodol yn cael ei gynnwys yn yr adran o'r enw 'Materion sydd o ddiddordeb arbennig i'r Pwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol a Deddfwriaethol'.

Yn gywir,

CS11 - Rheoliadau'r Diwydiant Dŵr (Cynlluniau ar gyfer Mabwysiadu Carthffosydd Preifat) 2011

Bu'r Pwyllgor Offerynnau Statudol yn trafod y Rheoliadau uchod yn ei gyfarfod ar 22 Mehefin 2011 a chytunwyd y dylwn ddwyn i'ch sylw adroddiad y Pwyllgor ar rinweddau'r Rheoliadau, a gyhoeddwyd o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3.

Cytunodd y Pwyllgor y byddai'n gwahodd y Cynulliad i roi sylw arbennig i'r Rheoliadau hyn ar y sail "ei fod o bwysigrwydd gwleidyddol neu gyfreithiol neu ei fod yn codi materion polisi cyhoeddus sy'n debyg o fod o ddiddordeb i'r Cynulliad" (Rheol Sefydlog 21.3(ii)).

Gosodwyd adroddiad y Pwyllgor ar y Rheoliadau yn y Swyddfa Gyflwyno ar 23 Mehefin, ac mae wedi'i atodi er gwybodaeth. Byddwn yn ddiolchgar pe gallech ystyried yr adroddiad a rhoi gwybod i'r Pwyllgor beth yw eich ymateb.

Rwy'n anfon copi o'r adroddiad hwn at y Prif Weinidog er gwybodaeth, ac rwyf hefyd wedi gwneud trefniadau i ddwyn yr adroddiad a'r llythyr hwn i sylw Aelodau'r Cynulliad.

Teitl: Rheoliadau'r Diwydiant Dŵr (Cynlluniau ar gyfer Mabwysiadu Carthffosydd Preifat) 2011

Gweithdrefn: Cadarnhaol

Mae'r Rheoliadau hyn yn darparu bod yr Ysgrifennydd Gwladol a Gweinidogion Cymru yn gwneud cynlluniau i ymgwymerwyr carthffosiaeth yng Nghymru a Lloegr fabwysiadu carthffosydd preifat a draeniau ochrol preifat o dan adran 102 o Ddeddf Diwydiant Dŵr 1991 ("y Ddeddf").

Materion technegol: craffu

O dan Reol Sefydlog 21.2, gwahoddir y Cynulliad i roi sylw arbennig i'r offeryn a ganlyn:-

1. Ni wnaethpwyd y Rheoliadau hyn yn ddwyieithog.

[Rheol Sefydlog 21.2(ix): nad yw wedi'i wneud neu i'w wneud yn Gymraeg ac yn Saesneg].

Rhinweddau: craffu

O dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3, gwahoddir y Cynulliad i roi sylw arbennig i'r offeryn a ganlyn:-

1. Bydd y Rheoliadau hyn yn effeithio'n uniongyrchol ar gyfran helaeth o'r bobl sy'n byw yng Nghymru. Mae Deddf y Diwydiant Dŵr 1991 yn rhoi dyletswydd statudol ar ymgwymerwyr carthffosiaeth i ddarparu, cynnal ac ymestyn system o garthffosydd cyhoeddus i sicrhau bod yr ardal yn cael ei draenio'n effeithiol, a bod hynny'n parhau i ddigwydd. Er bod Deddf 1991 yn darparu ar gyfer mabwysiadu gwirfoddol fel rhan o'r system garthffosiaeth gyhoeddus o ran cysylltu carthffosydd a draeniau ochrol â'r system honno, nid yw hyn yn ofynnol, felly mae system helaeth o garthffosydd preifat wedi datblygu ers 1937. Amcangyfrifir bod 50 y cant o eiddo yng Nghymru a Lloegr wedi'i gysylltu â charthffosydd preifat mewn un ffordd neu'r llall. O ganlyniad, mae'r cyfrifoldeb am y carthffosydd hyn yn cael ei rannu gan berchenogion yr eiddo y mae'r carthffosydd hynny'n eu gwasanaethu. Bydd y Rheoliadau hyn yn trosglwyddo'r cyfrifoldeb am gynnal y carthffosydd a draeniau ochrol i'r cwmnïau dŵr a charthffosiaeth. Bydd hyn yn cynnwys carthffosydd a draeniau ochrol sy'n draenio adeiladau preswyl a masnachol.
2. Mae'r Rheoliadau hyn yn cynnwys cymal machlud. Mae cymal machlud yn darparu bod effaith y Ddeddf yn darfod ar ôl dyddiad penodol. Mae Rheoliad 1(2) yn datgan "these regulations... cease to have effect at the end of 30th June 2018." Mae'r memorandwm esboniadol yn esbonio pam mae cymal machlud yn angenrheidiol yn yr achos hwn. Mae'n datgan:

“the regulations that implement the transfer of private sewers will affect the transfer by requiring water and sewerage companies to use their existing powers under the Water Industry Act 1991 to declare sewerage assets to be vested in them as “public” sewerage assets. They will be required to make declarations in respect of private sewers, laterals and associated pumping stations which are connected to the public sewerage system on a date specified in the regulations. This exercise is a single operation such that, once over the transitional period specified in the regulations they will have no on-going effect.”

Mae'r memorandwm esboniadol yn ddryslyd oherwydd ei fod yn datgan: “no sunset clause is therefore proposed for these regulations.” Mae hyn yn anghywir ac mae cyfreithwyr y Llywodraeth wedi nodi'r gwall.

[Rheol Sefydlog 21.3(ii): ei fod o bwysigrwydd gwleidyddol neu gyfreithiol neu ei fod yn codi materion polisi cyhoeddus sy'n debyg o fod o ddiddordeb i'r Cynulliad].

Mae'r Llywodraeth wedi ymateb fel a ganlyn:

Pwyntiau Technegol:

Rheoliadau'r Diwydiant Dŵr (Cynlluniau ar gyfer Mabwysiadu Carthffosydd Preifat) 2011

Mae'r rheoliadau cyfansawdd hyn yn gymwys i Gymru a Lloegr ac yn ddarostyngedig i gymeradwyaeth gan Gynulliad Cenedlaethol Cymru a Senedd y DU yn unol â gofynion statudol. Bernir felly nad yw'n rhesymol ymarferol i'r rheoliadau hyn gael eu gosod ar ffurf drafft, na'u gwneud, yn ddwyieithog.

Pwyntiau ynglŷn â'r Rhinweddau:

Rheoliadau'r Diwydiant Dŵr (Cynlluniau i Fabwysiadu Carthffosydd Preifat) 2011

Rwy'n ddiolchgar am adroddiad drafft y Pwyllgor. Fel y mae'r adroddiad drafft yn ei nodi, mae'r Aseiad Effaith Rheoleiddiol yn cyfeiliorni wrth ddatgan nad oes cymal machlud yn y Rheoliadau. Er hynny, mae'r Memorandwm Esboniadol yn datgan yn gywir bod cymal machlud yn y

Rheoliadau. Er fy mod yn gresynu at y camgymeriad hwn, nid wyf yn credu y byddai unrhyw gamau i'w gywiro, mewn perthynas â'r Rheoliadau hyn, yn briodol.

Draft Regulations laid before Parliament and the National Assembly for Wales under section 105A of the Water Industry Act 1991, for approval by resolution of each House of Parliament and by the National Assembly for Wales.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations provide for the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers to make schemes for the adoption by sewerage undertakers in England and Wales of private sewers and private lateral drains under section 102 of the Water Industry Act 1991 (“the Act”).

Regulation 3 makes provision in relation to main schemes (which relate to the adoption of private sewers and lateral drains which communicate with a public sewer immediately before 1st July 2011). Regulation 4 makes provision in relation to supplementary schemes (which relate to the adoption of private sewers and lateral drains which communicate with a public sewer immediately before the date of commencement of section 42(1) of the Flood and Water Management Act 2010). Regulation 5 describes sewers and lateral drains which are exempt from adoption under a scheme.

A declaration under section 102 of the Act must specify that adoptable private sewers and lateral drains will vest in an undertaker on 1st October 2011 (pursuant to a main scheme) or 6 months after the date of commencement of section 42(1) of the Flood and Water Management Act 2010 (pursuant to a supplementary scheme), or, in the case of a pumping station which forms part of a private sewer or lateral drain, no later than 1st October 2016 (regulations 3 and 4).

Regulations 7, 8 and 9 make provision in relation to private sewers and lateral drains which are the subject of existing adoption declarations or agreements under section 102 or 104 of the Act (or proposals for such declarations or agreements).

These Regulations cease to have effect on 30th June 2018.

A full impact assessment of the effect that this instrument will have on the costs of business, the voluntary sector and the public sector has been produced and placed in the library of each House of Parliament. It is available from the Private Sewers Transfer Team, Area 2C, Ergon House, Horseferry Road, London SW1P 2AL or on the Defra website at www.defra.gov.uk. Annwyl David,

CS11 – Rheoliadau'r Diwydiant Dŵr (Cynlluniau ar gyfer Mabwysiadu Carthffosydd Preifat) 2011

Diolch am eich llythyr dyddiedig 27 Mehefin yn tynnu fy sylw at adroddiad y Pwyllgor ar Offerynnau Statudol a fu'n ystyried Rheoliadau'r Diwydiant Dŵr (Cynlluniau ar gyfer Mabwysiadu Carthffosydd Preifat) 2011, ("y Rheoliadau") ar 22 Mehefin 2011.

Rwy'n nodi bod y Pwyllgor wedi adrodd o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3 ar y sail nad yw o bwys gwleidyddol na chyfreithiol nac yn arwain at faterion o bolisi cyhoeddus sy'n debygol o fod o ddiddordeb i'r Cynulliad. Mae'r adroddiad sydd ynghlwm yn mynd ymlaen i gynnwys adroddiadau ar faterion 'technegol' yn ogystal â 'rhagoriaethau'.

Gan ystyried yr adroddiad technegol yn gyntaf, nododd y Pwyllgor na chafodd y Rheoliadau eu gwneud yn ddwyieithog. Ymateb y Llywodraeth oedd nad oedd yn rhesymol nac yn ymarferol i wneud y rheoliadau'n ddwyieithog, gan fod y Rheoliadau yn ddarostyngedig i'w cymeradwyo yn Senedd y DU. Mae hyn yn hen arfer. Er y gallai fod achosion lle mae Senedd y DU wedi ystyried offerynnau yr oedd rhannau ohonynt yn Gymraeg, er enghraifft mewn perthynas â rhagnodiad ffurflenni, ni wn i am unrhyw enghraifft lle mae Offerynnau Statudol cyffredinol sy'n gymwys i Gymru a Lloegr fel ei gilydd wedi'u gwneud yn ddwyieithog.

Yn yr achos hwn, hyd yn oed pe byddai'r Rheoliadau hyn wedi'u gwneud gan Weinidogion Cymru ar eu pennau eu hunain, fe fyddent wedi gwneud darpariaeth sy'n croesi'r ffin, oherwydd y ffordd y mae pwerau Gweinidogol wedi'u datganoli mewn perthynas â'r diwydiant dŵr, sy'n golygu y byddai angen cymeradwyaeth Senedd y DU hyd yn oed wedyn yn unol â Deddf Llywodraeth Cymru 2006.

Dylwn bwysleisio, lle mae gan Weinidogion Cymru bŵer i wneud deddfwriaeth ar gyfer Cymru, y rhagdybiaeth bob tro fydd bod y pŵer yn cael ei arfer drwy Offeryn Statudol sy'n berthnasol i Gymru yn unig, oni bai fod rhesymau da i weithredu fel arall. Serch hynny, tybir ei fod yn ddefnydd effeithiol o adnoddau i Weinidogion Cymru gadw'r opsiwn i wneud gorchmynion cyfansawdd lle mae'r pwnc yn hawlio hynny. Enghraifft o hynny fyddai amgylchiadau lle mae angen cyfundrefn orfodi gyffredin neu lle mae angen gweithredu mewn modd cyson.

Gan droi at y pwyntiau 'rhagoriaeth', rwy'n ddiolchgar bod y Pwyllgor wedi tynnu sylw at arwyddocâd y Rheoliadau hyn, ac wedi cydnabod y gwall yn y Memorandwm Esboniadol. Nid oes gennyf unrhyw beth arall i'w ychwanegu at ymateb y Llywodraeth a nodwyd yn eich adroddiad.

Dear First Minister

Statutory Instruments laid before or during the dissolution of the Third Assembly

When it met on 22 June 2011, the Committee on Statutory Instruments considered a number of Statutory Instruments that the then Constitutional Affairs Committee was unable to scrutinise because they were laid late during the Third Assembly.

The Committee accepted that there might be good reasons why these particular instruments were laid so late in the day. The Committee also accepts that there are always likely to be some situations where legislation needs to be made at relatively short notice. However, it is of considerable concern that legislation implementing very significant changes, such as arrangements for Social Care Charges and for the regulation of Care Homes, should not be subject to Committee scrutiny.

The Committee also had drawn to its attention an e-mail from Mr Ian Medlicott of the Wales Branch of the Association of Council Secretaries and Solicitors, which also expressed concern about the matter. I enclose a copy of the text of his e-mail for your information. The Committee shares Mr Medlicott's concerns and would be grateful for your assurance that in future subordinate legislation, particularly legislation that implements significant policy changes, is laid in good time to be scrutinised by the Constitutional and Legislative Affairs Committee.

I am copying this to the Counsel General for information.

Yours sincerely

David Melding AM
Chair
Constitutional and Legislative Affairs Committee

Dear Mr. George,

You will recall that you and I had a hurried exchange of correspondence during the last few days of the last Assembly, about the volume of statutory instruments made and published in that period, most of which came into effect shortly thereafter. I notice that the new Committee on Statutory Instruments will be considering this issue tomorrow, and I would be grateful if you would arrange for the committee members to see this email, and take it into account when considering this item.

I am writing on behalf of the Association of Council Secretaries and Solicitors, Wales Branch ("ACSeS"). ACSeS represents Heads of Legal Services and Monitoring Officers of Unitary, Fire and Rescue, National Park and Police authorities in Wales. Many of the pieces of secondary legislation made by the Assembly are relevant to these authorities, and ACSeS members will be responsible for making relevant staff in their authorities aware of the new regulations, and for advising on their implementation in their authority.

The rush of SIs issued during the last week of the Third Assembly's life caused considerable concern, partly because of the short notice, and the early commencement dates thereafter, but also because they took effect after the dissolution of the Third Assembly, and so could not be subject to effective scrutiny by Assembly members before the SIs came into effect, or in the periods specified in the Assembly's Standing Orders.

The report from the Committee's officials details the legislation involved, and ACSeS welcomes the review by this Committee in the early life of the new Assembly. While the precise situation (publication before the dissolution of the Assembly) will not happen for another five years, this is not an academic situation as there is the potential for it to re-occur where the Assembly is in recess for a longer period – for example, the summer break.

ACSeS invites the Committee to make strong recommendations to Welsh Ministers to ensure that this situation cannot be repeated, and then to monitor its effectiveness.

Would you please acknowledge safe receipt of this email?

Sincerely,
Ian Medicott

Annwyl David,

Offerynnau Statudol a osodwyd cyn neu yn ystod diddymu'r Trydydd Cynulliad

Ysgrifennaf atoch i ymateb i'ch llythyr dyddiedig 7 Gorffennaf yn dilyn cyfarfod y Pwyllgor Offerynnau Statudol a gynhaliwyd ar 22 Mehefin.

Yn eich llythyr, roeddech yn sôn am bryder y Pwyllgor bod eitemau o is-ddeddfwriaeth wedi'u cyflwyno yn rhy hwyr yn nhymor y Cynulliad iddynt gael eu hystyried gan y Pwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol, fel yr oedd bryd hynny. Yr oeddech, yn enwedig, yn cyfeirio at Godi Ffioedd am Wasanaethau Gofal Cymdeithasol a Rheoliadau Cartrefi Gofal.

Rwy'n falch bod y Pwyllgor wedi medru ystyried Rheoliadau Codi Ffioedd am Wasanaethau Gofal Cymdeithasol (Adolygu Penderfyniadau ar Godi Ffioedd) (Cymru) 2011 yn ei gyfarfod olaf ar 30 Mehefin.

Roedd y rheoliadau hyn, ynghyd â Rheoliadau Ffioedd Gofal Cymdeithasol (Taliadau Uniongyrchol) (Asesu Modd a Phenderfynu ar Ad-daliad neu Gyfraniad) (Cymru) 2011, a Rheoliadau Ffioedd Gofal Cymdeithasol (Asesu Modd a Phenderfynu Ffioedd) (Cymru) 2011 yn destun llythyr i'r Llywydd, dyddiedig 29 Mawrth, yn esbonio pam fod angen peidio â chydymffurfio â'r 'rheol 21 diwrnod' (copi ynghlwm er hwylustod).

Yn achos Rheoliadau Cartrefi Gofal (Cymru) (Diwygiadau Amrywiol) 2011, cydnabu'r Pwyllgor arwyddocâd y rheoliadau hyn o gofio pryder y cyhoedd am y modd y rheolir ac y gweithredir cartrefi gofal ar gyfer oedolion. Gan ystyried y byddai'r Rheolau Sefydlog yn caniatáu i'r Cynulliad newydd ystyried y rheoliadau, ac os byddai'n dymuno, eu dirymu, penderfynodd Llywodraeth Cymru fod budd i'r cyhoedd mewn gwneud a gosod y rheoliadau cyn diddymu'r Cynulliad.

Y mae, efallai'n anorfod, tua diwedd tymor Cynulliad, bod y Llywodraeth mewn sefyllfa o geisio sicrhau bod ei blaenoriaethau deddfwriaethol wedi'u cyflawni, ac nad yw'r bwch a achosir gan y cyfnod cyn etholiad yn achosi anfantais i bobl Cymru. Wrth gwrs, nid oes modd gosod unrhyw ddogfennau tra bod y Cynulliad wedi'i ddiddymu. Gall hyn olygu bod angen dwyn ymlaen is-ddeddfwriaeth a fyddai, mewn amgylchiadau eraill, wedi'i gosod yn ystod y cyfnod hwnnw.

Mae Rheolau Sefydlog y Cynulliad, wrth gwrs, yn ei gwneud yn glir y darperir cyfnod o 20 niwrnod i'r Pwyllgor baratoi adroddiad, a 40 niwrnod i'r Cynulliad benderfynu dirymu offeryn, er mwyn cwmpasu adeg pan fo'r Cynulliad wedi'i ddiddymu. Rwy'n cydnabod bod posibilrwydd, pan osodwyd rhai o'r eitemau hyn, y byddai'r 40 niwrnod yn dod i ben cyn i'r Cynulliad newydd bennu'i Bwyllgorau. Serch hynny, nid oedd hyn yn rhagfarnu gallu'r Cynulliad i wneud trefniadau interim ar gyfer craffu ar yr Offerynnau Statudol hyn, pe byddai angen. At hynny, bu'r Pwyllgor Busnes yn ystyried papur ar 29 Mawrth a oedd yn awgrymu y dylid ystyried atal y Rheolau Sefydlog er mwyn medru rhoi'r 20 niwrnod oedd ei angen o'r neilltu lle bo galw am hynny, pe byddai oedi cyn sefydlu'r pwyllgor perthnasol o dan y 4ydd Cynulliad (mae'r papur hwnnw'n amgaeedig er hwylustod).

Hyderaf fod hyn o gymorth i chi.

Annwyl Weinidog

CLA10 - Rheoliadau Trwyddedu Amgylcheddol (Cymru a Lloegr) (Diwygio) 2011

Bu'r Pwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol a Deddfwriaethol yn trafod y Rheoliadau uchod yn ei gyfarfod ar 7 Gorffennaf 2011 a chytunwyd y dylwn ddwyn i'ch sylw adroddiad y Pwyllgor ar rinweddau'r Rheoliadau, a gyhoeddwyd o dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3.

Cytunodd y Pwyllgor y byddai'n gwahodd y Cynulliad i roi sylw arbennig i'r Rheoliadau hyn ar y sail "ei fod o bwysigrwydd gwleidyddol neu gyfreithiol neu ei fod yn codi materion polisi cyhoeddus sy'n debyg o fod o ddiddordeb i'r Cynulliad" (Rheol Sefydlog 21.3(ii)).

Gosodwyd adroddiad y Pwyllgor ar y Rheoliadau yn y Swyddfa Gyflwyno ar 8 Gorffennaf, ac mae wedi'i atodi er gwybodaeth. Byddwn yn ddiolchgar pe gallech ystyried yr adroddiad a rhoi gwybod i'r Pwyllgor beth yw eich ymateb.

Rwy'n anfon copi o'r adroddiad hwn at y Prif Weinidog er gwybodaeth, ac rwyf hefyd wedi gwneud trefniadau i ddwyn yr adroddiad a'r llythyr hwn i sylw Aelodau'r Cynulliad.

Cadeirydd y Pwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol a Deddfwriaethol

CLA10

Teitl: Rheoliadau Trwyddedu Amgylcheddol (Cymru a Lloegr) (Diwygio) 2010

Gweithdrefn: Cadarnhaol

Bydd y Rheoliadau drafft hyn yn berthnasol yng Nghymru ac yn Lloegr.

Mae'r Rheoliadau yn diwygio rhai o'r darpariaethau sy'n ymwneud â rheoleiddio sylweddau ymbelydrol yn Rheoliadau Trwyddedu Amgylcheddol (Cymru a Lloegr) 2010 S.I.2010/675, er mwyn darparu system fwy modern a thryloyw sy'n hawdd ei defnyddio ar gyfer rheoleiddio sylweddau ymbelydrol sy'n peri risg isel iawn i bobl a'r amgylchedd, tra'n cynnal y lefel angenrheidiol o amddiffyniad.

Mae'r rheoliadau drafft hyn hefyd yn trosi darpariaethau'r Gyfarwyddeb Atal a Rheoli Llygredd mewn ffordd Integredig (Cyfarwyddeb 2008/1/EC) a'r Gyfarwyddeb Fframwaith Dŵr (Cyfarwyddeb 2000/60/EC) sydd wedi'u mewnosod gan y Gyfarwyddeb Dal a Storio Carbon (Cyfarwyddeb 2009/31/EC).

Materion technegol: craffu

O dan Reol Sefydlog 15.2, gwahoddir y Cynulliad i roi sylw arbennig i'r offeryn a ganlyn:-

1. Ni wnaethpwyd y Rheoliadau hyn yn ddwyieithog.

[21.2(ix) – nad yw wedi'i wneud neu i'w wneud yn Gymraeg ac yn Saesneg].

Rhinweddau: craffu

O dan Reol Sefydlog 21.3, gwahoddir y Cynullid i roi sylw arbennig i'r offeryn a ganlyn:-

1. Mae rhannau o'r Rheoliadau hyn yn trosi darpariaethau'r Gyfarwyddeb Dal a Storio Carbon. Y terfyn amser ar gyfer trosi'r Gyfarwyddeb Dal a Storio Carbon oedd 25 Mehefin 2011. Mae'r Rheoliadau hyn wedi methu â chael eu gweithredu yng Nghymru a Lloegr o fewn yr amserlen a osodwyd gan y Gyfarwyddeb Dal a Storio Carbon.
2. Mae'r memorandwm esboniadol a luniwyd gan yr Adran Ynni a Newid Hinsawdd yn nodi y bydd y darpariaethau sy'n gweithredu Erthyglau 32 a 37 o'r Gyfarwyddeb Dal a Storio Carbon yn dod i rym drannoeth y diwrnod gwneud y rheoliadau. Mae'n nodi y gellir cyfiawnhau'r cyfnod amser byr yn yr achos hwn, er mwyn gallu rhoi'r Rheoliadau drafft mewn grym cyn gynted â phosibl ar ôl y terfyn amser ar gyfer trosi a nodir yn y Gyfarwyddeb, o ystyried lefel uchel yr ymwybyddiaeth am y newid arfaethedig ymysg y rhai sy'n cael eu heffeithio.

David Melding AC

Cadeirydd y Pwyllgor Materion Cyfansoddiadol a Deddfwriaethol

7 Gorffennaf 2011

Rheoliadau Trwyddedu Amgylcheddol (Cymru a Lloegr) (Diwygio) 2011

Mae'r Rheoliadau cyfansawdd hyn yn diwygio rhai o'r darpariaethau sy'n ymwneud â sylweddau ymbelydrol yn Rheoliadau Trwyddedu Amgylcheddol (Cymru a Lloegr) 2010, Offeryn Statudol 2010.675, ac maent yn newid rhai o Erthyglau'r Gyfarwyddeb Dal a Storio Carbon (Cyfarwyddeb 2009/31/EC) ("y Gyfarwyddeb DSC").

Mae'r drefn Trwyddedu Amgylcheddol yn symleiddio'r rhannau hynny mewn ystod o ddeddfwriaeth hynod dechnegol a chymhleth sy'n ymwneud â gweithdrefnau. Mae hyn wedi'i gwneud yn bosibl symleiddio'r system drwyddedu y mae'r diwydiant a'r rheolyddion yng Nghymru a Lloegr yn ei defnyddio heb beryglu'r safonau amgylcheddol nac iechyd pobl mewn unrhyw ffordd. Oherwydd hyd a lled y ddeddfwriaeth, mae angen ei diwygio o bryd i'w gilydd. Gwnaed y newidiadau hyn drwy'r offerynnau cyfansawdd y cytunwyd arnynt â'r Ysgrifennydd Gwladol er mwyn symleiddio'r system. Mae'r offeryn cyfansawdd hefyd yn lleihau anghyfleustra a dryswch posibl i'r rheini y mae'r Rheoliadau yn effeithio arnynt, yn enwedig o ystyried bod Asiantaeth yr Amgylchedd (un o'r rheolyddion) yn gorff trawsffiniol. Mae'r Rheoliadau cyfansawdd hyn yn berthnasol i Gymru a Lloegr, ac mae'n rhaid i Gynulliad Cenedlaethol Cymru a Senedd y DU eu cymeradwyo. Yn unol â hynny, nid ystyrir ei bod yn rhesymol ymarferol i'r Offeryn hwn gael ei osod ar ffurf drafft, na'i ddarparu'n ddwyieithog.

Mae'r Llywodraeth yn ymddiheuro na wnaed y diwygiadau hyn mewn pryd i fodloni'r dyddiad cau ar gyfer newid y Gyfarwyddeb DSC. Effeithiodd y materion a gododd o'r broses glirio fewnol cyn deddfu ar yr amserlen ar gyfer gweithredu'r Rheoliadau hyn.

- (a) the Environment Agency;
- (b) such bodies or persons appearing to them to be representative of the interests of local government, industry, agriculture and small businesses respectively as they consider appropriate; and
- (c) such other bodies or persons as they consider appropriate.

A draft of this instrument has been approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament and by the National Assembly for Wales pursuant to section 2(8) and (9)(d) and (e) of that Act(c).

Accordingly, the Secretary of State in relation to England, and the Welsh Ministers in relation to Wales, make the following Regulations.

- (a) 1999 c. 24. Paragraph 9A was inserted by S.I. 2005/925, Schedule 6, paragraph 2(2)(a). Paragraph 21A was inserted by section 38 of the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 (c. 33). Paragraph 24 was amended by S.I. 2005/925, Schedule 6, paragraph 2(2)(b). Paragraph 25 was amended by section 105(1)(a) and (b) of the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 (c. 16). Functions of the Secretary of State under section 2 (except in relation to offshore oil and gas exploration and exploitation), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, were transferred to the National Assembly for Wales by article 3 of the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 2005 (S.I. 2005/1958). Those functions were then transferred to the Welsh Ministers by section 162 of, and paragraph 30 of Schedule 11 to, the Government of Wales Act 2006 (c. 32).
 - (b) The requirement in that section to consult the bodies and persons mentioned was transferred from the National Assembly for Wales to the Welsh Ministers by paragraph 30 of Schedule 11 to the Government of Wales Act 2006 (c. 32). The consultation carried out by the National Assembly for Wales has effect as if it were carried out by the Welsh Ministers by virtue of paragraph 39(3) of that Schedule to that Act.
 - (c) The reference in section 2(8) to approval by each House of Parliament has effect in relation to exercise of functions by the Welsh Ministers as if it were a reference to approval by the National Assembly for Wales by virtue of paragraph 33 of Schedule 11 to the Government of Wales Act 2006 (c. 32).

“Previously excluded radioactive material and radioactive waste

72A.—(1) Paragraph (3) applies to a person (“A”) who was carrying on an activity (“the continuing activity”) described in paragraph (2) immediately before 1st October 2011 and who continues to carry on the activity on or after that date.

(2) The continuing activity referred to in paragraph (1) means an activity carried on by A—

- (a) in respect of a substance or article which—
- (i) immediately before 1st October 2011 was not defined as radioactive material or radioactive waste; but
 - (ii) on that date became defined as radioactive material or radioactive waste by virtue of the amendments made to those definitions on that date (“the relevant amendments”);
- and
- (b) which on that date became a radioactive substances activity described in paragraph 11(2), (4) or (5) of Part 2 of Schedule 23 by virtue of the relevant amendments.

(3) Where this paragraph applies, A is exempt from the requirement to hold an environmental permit in respect of the continuing activity until the end time set out in regulation 72C.

Previously exempt radioactive substances activities

72B.—(1) Paragraph (3) applies to a person (“A”) who was carrying on an activity (“the continuing activity”) described in paragraph (2) immediately before 1st October 2011 and who continues to carry on the activity on or after that date.

(2) The continuing activity referred to in paragraph (1) means an activity—

- (a) described in paragraph 11(2), (4) or (5) of Part 2 of Schedule 23; and
- (b) in respect of which, immediately before 1st October 2011, A was exempted under regulation 72 (as in force at that time) from the requirement to hold an environmental permit (“the existing exemption”).

(3) Where this paragraph applies, the existing exemption continues to apply to A until the time set out in paragraph (4), subject to any conditions which applied to that exemption.

(4) The time referred to in paragraph (3) is—

- (a) if A does not become exempt in respect of the continuing activity under a radioactive substances exemption before 1st April 2012, the end time set out in regulation 72C; or
- (b) if A does become so exempt, the time at which the exemption begins to apply.

End time: regulations 72A and 72B

72C.—(1) For the purposes of regulations 72A and 72B, the end time is—

- (a) where, before 1st April 2012, A makes a permit application—

- (i) if that application is granted, the time of grant;
- (ii) if that application is refused and—
 - (aa) A appeals against the refusal under regulation 31, the time at which the appeal is determined or withdrawn;
 - (bb) A does not appeal against the refusal, the end of the day which is the final appeal date;

or

- (b) where no such application is made, the earliest of—
 - (i) 1st April 2012;
 - (ii) the time at which A ceases to carry on the continuing activity; or
 - (iii) for the purposes of regulation 72A only, the time a radioactive substances exemption first applies to A in respect of the continuing activity.

(2) In paragraph (1)—

“final appeal date” means the last day on which an appeal against a refusal to grant an environmental permit could have been brought under regulation 31, but not including any extension of the time limit for making an appeal allowed by the appropriate authority under paragraph 3(2) of Schedule 6; and

“permit application” means—

- (a) an application for an environmental permit under regulation 13 in respect of (as applicable) the continuing activity under regulation 72A or 72B; or

Existing radioactive substances permits

72D.—(1) Paragraph (4) applies to a person (“A”) who was carrying on an activity described in paragraph (2) (“the continuing excluded activity”) or paragraph (3) (“the continuing exempt activity”) immediately before 1st October 2011 and who—

- (a) continues to carry on that activity after that date; and
- (b) holds an environmental permit in respect of the activity (“permit A”).

(2) The continuing excluded activity referred to in paragraph (1) means an activity which—

- (a) was a radioactive substances activity immediately before 1st October 2011; but
- (b) ceases to be such an activity on that date because it was carried on in respect of a substance or article which ceased to be defined as radioactive material or radioactive waste on that date by virtue of the amendments made to the definitions in these Regulations of radioactive material and radioactive waste on that date.

(3) The continuing exempt activity referred to in paragraph (1) means an activity—

- (a) described in paragraph 11(2), 11(4) or 11(5) of Part 2 of Schedule 23 to these Regulations; and

- (b) any substance arising from the production, keeping or use of that material is accumulated in a part of the premises appropriated for the purpose; and
- (c) that substance is retained there for a period of not less than 3 months, that substance, unless the contrary is proved, is presumed to be radioactive waste.

(4) A radioactive substances activity is carried on where, in the course of a person carrying on an undertaking, that person—

- (a) receives radioactive waste for the purposes of disposing of that waste; and
- (b) knows or has reasonable grounds for believing the waste to be radioactive waste.

“underground disposal” means—

- (a) the disposal of solid radioactive waste in an engineered facility, or in part of an engineered facility, which is beneath the surface of the ground, and
- (b) where the natural environment which surrounds the facility acts, in combination with any engineered measures, to inhibit the transit of radionuclides from the facility to the surface, and does not include the disposal of radioactive waste in a facility which is beneath the surface of the ground only by virtue of the placing of rocks or soil above it.

Nuclear sites

12.—(1) Paragraph 11(2)(a) does not apply to the activity carried on by a licensee of a nuclear site on any premises situated on that site at any time—

- (a) while a nuclear site licence is in force in respect of that site; and
 - (b) after the revocation or surrender of such a licence but before the period of responsibility of the licensee has come to an end.
- (2) In respect of any premises which—
- (a) are situated on a nuclear site; but

Any other solid or non-aqueous liquid radionuclide that is not of natural terrestrial or cosmic origin	0.01 or that concentration which gives rise to a dose to a member of the public of 10 microsieverts per year calculated by reference to guidance by Euratom in RP 122 part 1(a).

4. The Table 2 column 2 summation rule means the sum of the quotients A/B where—
- “A” means the concentration of each radionuclide listed in column 1 of Table 2 that is present in the substance or article, and
 - “B” means the concentration of that radionuclide specified in column 2 of Table 2.

5. Where any radionuclide carries the suffix “+” or “sec” in Table 1 or Table 2—
- that radionuclide represents the parent radionuclide in secular equilibrium with the corresponding daughter radionuclides which are identified in column 2 of Table 3 in respect of that parent radionuclide; and
 - a concentration value given in a table in this Part in respect of such a parent radionuclide is the value for the parent radionuclide alone, but already takes into account the daughter radionuclides present.

PART 4

The Basic Safety Standards Directive

SECTION 1

Exposures and doses

Optimisation and dose limits

1. In respect of a radioactive substances activity that relates to radioactive waste, the regulator must exercise its relevant functions to ensure that—

- (a) all exposures to ionising radiation of any member of the public and of the population as a whole resulting from the disposal of radioactive waste are kept as low as reasonably achievable, taking into account economic and social factors; and
- (b) the sum of the doses resulting from the exposure of any member of the public to ionising radiation does not exceed the dose limits set out in Article 13 of the Basic Safety Standards Directive subject to the exclusions set out in Article 6(4) of that Directive.

Specific dose limits and calculation

2.—(1) In exercising those relevant functions in relation to the planning stage of radiation protection, the regulator must have regard to the following maximum doses to individuals which may result from a defined source—

- (a) 0.3 millisieverts per year from any source from which radioactive discharges are first made on or after 13th May 2000; or
- (b) 0.5 millisieverts per year from the discharges from any single site.

(2) In exercising those relevant functions, the regulator must observe the requirements of the following provisions of the Basic Safety Standards Directive—

- (a) in estimating effective dose and equivalent dose, Articles 15 and 16;
- (b) in estimating population doses, Article 45; and
- (c) in relation to the responsibilities of undertakings, Article 47.

Interventions

Radioactive waste: power of the Secretary of State to provide facilities for disposal or accumulation

3.—(1) If it appears to the Secretary of State that adequate facilities are not available for the safe disposal or accumulation of radioactive waste, the Secretary of State may—

- (a) provide such facilities; or

- (b) make arrangements for their provision by such persons as the Secretary of State may think fit.
- (2) Before exercising the power under sub-paragraph (1), the Secretary of State must consult with—
 - (a) any local authority in whose area the facilities would be situated; and
 - (b) such other public or local authorities (if any) as appear to the Secretary of State to be proper to be consulted.
- (3) Reasonable charges for the use of any facilities provided under sub-paragraph (1) may be made by—
 - (a) the Secretary of State; or
 - (b) the person providing such facilities, unless the arrangements made by the Secretary of State with that person provide to the contrary.

Radioactive waste: power of disposal by the regulator

- 4.—(1) Sub-paragraph (2) applies if there is radioactive waste on any premises and the regulator is satisfied that the waste ought to be disposed of but that it is unlikely that the waste will be lawfully disposed of—
- (a) because the premises are unoccupied;
 - (b) because the occupier is absent or insolvent; or
 - (c) for any other reason.
- (2) The regulator may dispose of the waste and recover any expenses it reasonably incurs in that disposal from—
- (a) the occupier of the premises; or
 - (b) if the premises are unoccupied, the owner of the premises.
- (3) In sub-paragraph (2)—
- (a) “owner” has the same meaning as in section 343 of the Public Health Act 1936(a); and
 - (b) the provisions of section 294 of that Act (which limits the liability of owners who are only agents or trustees) apply but as if reference in that section to a council recovering expenses under that Act were to the regulator recovering expenses under sub-paragraph (2).

PART 5

The HASS Directive

SECTION 1

Security of sources

Interpretation

1. In this Part—

“the HASS Directive” means Council Directive 2003/122/EURATOM(b) on the control of high-activity sealed radioactive sources and orphan sources;

“high-activity or similar source” means—

- (a) a high-activity source; or

(a) 1936 c. 49.

(b) OJ No L 346, 31.12.2003, p 57.

(b) such other sealed source which, in the opinion of the regulator, is of a similar level of potential hazard to a high-activity source;

“high-activity source” has the same meaning as in the HASS Directive but excluding any such source once its activity level has fallen below the exemption levels specified in column 2 of Table A to Annex I to the Basic Safety Standards Directive;

“orphan source” has the same meaning as in the HASS Directive; and “sealed source” has the same meaning as in the HASS Directive.

Site security: inspection

2.—(1) In exercising relevant functions in relation to a radioactive substances activity, the regulator must comply with sub-paragraph (3) where a high-activity or similar source is, or will be, kept, used, disposed of or accumulated on any premises.

(2) Sub-paragraph (1) does not apply where the premises are, or are part of, a nuclear site.

(3) In considering if the measures taken, or to be taken, by the operator ensure the adequate security of any premises, the regulator must where appropriate inspect those premises.

(4) Where the regulator inspects any premises under sub-paragraph (3), it may be accompanied by such other persons as are appropriate to assist it in assessing the measures.

(5) An operator must permit the regulator (and any person accompanying it) reasonable access to any premises the regulator wishes to inspect under sub-paragraph (3).

(6) If the operator fails to comply with sub-paragraph (5), the regulator may refuse the application or revoke the permit insofar as it relates to the sources referred to in sub-paragraph (1).

Site security: security measures and advice

3.—(1) In exercising relevant functions in relation to a radioactive substances activity, the regulator must comply with sub-paragraph (2) where a high-activity or similar source is, or will be, kept, used, disposed of or accumulated on any premises.

(2) The regulator—

(a) must satisfy itself that there are in place measures concerning site security, including the security measures in sub-paragraph (3), as are appropriate to the source and premises in question;

(b) where it considers it appropriate to do so, must consult the police, security services or other appropriate persons on site security;

(c) must have regard to any advice given by them, if it is issued within such time as the regulator believes is reasonable before it exercises a relevant function; and

(d) must impose appropriate environmental permit conditions concerning site security.

(3) The security measures referred to in sub-paragraph (2)(a) are—

(a) measures to ensure the physical security of the premises, including the installation of alarm and detection systems, and the retaining of documentary evidence of those measures;

(b) measures, which are evidenced in writing—

(i) to prevent unauthorised access to, or loss or theft of, a high-activity or similar source;

(ii) to detect such matters; and

(iii) to review and enhance the physical security of the premises in response to any increased risk of unauthorised access, loss or theft;

(c) written procedures to ensure that before a person is authorised to have access to a high-activity or similar source—

- (i) that person has passed checks to verify their identity, and
 - (ii) satisfactory written references have been obtained which confirm, as far as reasonably practicable, that there is no information to indicate that the person presents any security risk to the sources; and
- (d) measures to keep secure, and prevent unauthorised access to, information relating to—
- (i) a high-activity or similar source, and
 - (ii) the measures referred to in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c).

SECTION 2

Advice and assistance in relation to orphan sources

Advice and assistance in respect of orphan sources

4.—(1) The relevant person must ensure that specialised technical advice and assistance is promptly made available to persons who—

- (a) are not normally involved in operations subject to radiation protection requirements, and
- (b) suspect the presence of an orphan source.

(2) The relevant person must ensure that the primary aim of such advice and assistance is—

- (a) the safety of the source; and
- (b) protecting the public and workers from radiation.

(3) The relevant person means—

- (a) in relation to the protection of workers, the Secretary of State;
- (b) in relation to the protection of the public (other than workers)—
 - (i) in England, the Secretary of State,
 - (ii) in Wales, the Welsh Ministers.

SECTION 3

Exercise of relevant functions and matters in relation to orphan sources

General

5.—(1) In exercising relevant functions in relation to a radioactive substances activity, the regulator must comply with the following provisions of the HASS Directive—

- (a) Article 3(2) and (3);
- (b) Article 4;
- (c) Article 5(1) and (2);
- (d) Article 6;
- (e) subject to sub-paragraph (2), Article 7(1) and (2).

(2) In relation to a high-activity source placed on the market before 31st December 2005, sub-paragraph (1)(e) has effect as if it referred to the provisions contained in Article 16(1)(b) of the HASS Directive.

Records and inspections

6. In relation to a high-activity source, the regulator must—

- (a) keep records of those matters—

- (i) required by Article 5(3) and (4) of the HASS Directive; and
 - (ii) notified to it under Article 6 of that Directive;
- and
- (b) establish or maintain a system of inspections to enforce the following provisions of the HASS Directive—
 - (i) Articles 3 to 6;
 - (ii) as appropriate, Article 7(1) and (2) or Article 16(1)(b).

Training and information

7.—(1) In relation to a high-activity source, the appropriate training and adequate information required by the Ionising Radiations Regulations 1999(a) must include—

- (a) specific requirements for the safe management of such a source;
- (b) particular emphasis on the necessary safety requirements in relation to such a source; and
- (c) specific information on possible consequences of the loss of adequate control of such a source.

(2) The training and information on the matters in sub-paragraph (1) must be repeated at regular intervals and documented, with a view to preparing the employees and other persons referred to in those Regulations for such matters.

Orphan sources

8.—(1) The regulator must—

- (a) be prepared, or have made provision (including the assignment of responsibilities), to recover any orphan source; and
- (b) have drawn up appropriate response plans and measures.

(2) The regulator may recover any expenses reasonably incurred by it in the recovery and disposal of an orphan source from—

- (a) the person carrying on the radioactive substances activity involving that source; or
- (b) the occupier or owner of the premises where the source is located.

(3) Subject to sub-paragraph (4), the waste referred to in sub-paragraph (1) is aqueous radioactive waste—

- (a) which is not described in an entry in column 1 of Table 6; and

- (b) with a total concentration of radioactivity which does not exceed 100 Bq/ml.
- (4) Sub-paragraph (3) does not apply to aqueous radioactive waste—
 - (a) which a person has diluted with the intention that—
 - (i) the waste has a concentration of radioactivity which is below the value in sub-paragraph (3)(b); or
 - (ii) the condition in paragraph 22(3)(a) or (4)(b) is complied with in respect of that waste;
 - or
 - (b) where the person who generated that waste did not minimise the quantity of radionuclides generated as waste to the extent reasonably practicable.

Conditions in respect of aqueous radioactive waste in paragraph 21

- 22.—(1) The conditions referred to in paragraph 21(1) are that A must—
- (a) subject to sub-paragraph (2), dispose of the waste to which that paragraph applies—
 - (i) directly into a relevant river or the sea;
 - (ii) to a relevant sewer; or
 - (iii) to a waste permitted person.
 - (b) keep an adequate record of the waste which A disposes of from the premises under that paragraph;
 - (c) in respect of the disposal of aqueous non-table 6 waste, comply with sub-paragraph (3) or (4) as appropriate; and
 - (d) allow the regulator access to such records or such premises as the regulator may request in order to determine that all of the preceding conditions are complied with.
- (2) In respect of aqueous non-Table 6 waste disposed of from the premises, A must not use both of the disposal routes described in sub-paragraph (1)(a)(i) and (ii) in a year and where—
- (a) A uses the route in sub-paragraph (1)(a)(i), the conditions in sub-paragraph (3) apply to A; or
 - (b) A uses the route in sub-paragraph (1)(a)(ii), or A does not use the route in either sub-paragraph (1)(a)(i) or (ii), the conditions in sub-paragraph (4) apply to A.
- (3) Where this sub-paragraph applies and A disposes of the aqueous non-table 6 waste directly into a relevant river or the sea, A must—
- (a) in respect of any aqueous non-Table 6 waste which A disposes of, ensure that the concentration of radioactivity does not exceed the value specified in column 2 of Table 7; and
 - (b) in respect of the total amount of aqueous non-Table 6 waste which A disposes of from the premises in a year, ensure that the quantity of radioactivity does not exceed the value specified in column 4 of Table 7.
- (4) Where this sub-paragraph applies and A disposes of the aqueous non-table 6 waste to a relevant sewer (or only to a waste permitted person), A must ensure that, in respect of the total amount of aqueous non-Table 6 waste which is disposed of from those premises in a year, the total quantity of radioactivity does not exceed—
- (a) where any of that waste has a concentration of radioactivity which exceeds the value specified in column 2 of Table 7, the value in sub-paragraph (5); or
 - (b) where none of that waste has a concentration of radioactivity which exceeds the value specified in column 2 of Table 7, the value in sub-paragraph (5) or (6).
- (5) The value referred to in sub-paragraph (4)(a) and (b) is—

(a) 1×10^8 Bq for the sum of the following radionuclides: H-3, C-11, C-14, F-18, P-32, P-33, S-35, Ca-45, Cr-51, Fe-55, Ga-67, Sr-89, Y-90, Tc-99m, In-111, I-123, I-125, I-131, Sm-153, Tl-201; and

(b) 1×10^6 Bq for the sum of all other radionuclides.

(6) The value referred to in sub-paragraph (4)(b) is the value specified in column 3 of Table 7.

(7) In this paragraph, “aqueous non-Table 6 waste” means aqueous radioactive waste which is not described in an entry in column 1 of Table 6.

SECTION 8

Exemption for disposal of gaseous radioactive waste

Exemption for disposal of gaseous radioactive waste

23.—(1) Subject to sub-paragraph (2), a person (“A”) is exempt from the requirement for an environmental permit to carry on the radioactive substances activity described in paragraph 11(2)(b) of Part 2 of this Schedule in respect of gaseous radioactive waste where—

(a) the only radionuclide contained in that waste is Kr-85 and A—

(i) ensures that in respect of the total amount of such waste which is disposed of from the premises in a year, the total quantity of radioactivity does not exceed 10^{11} Bq; and

(ii) complies with the conditions in paragraph 24(1);

or

(b) subject to sub-paragraph (3), that waste—

(i) is released from within a container at the time that the container is opened; and

(ii) is emitted by solid or liquid radioactive material within the container, and A complies with the conditions in paragraph 24(1).

(2) Sub-paragraph (1) does not apply to waste where the person who generated that waste did not minimise the quantity of radionuclides generated as waste to the extent reasonably practicable.

(3) Sub-paragraph (1)(b) does not apply in respect of any gas which arises as a result of a process applied by a person to the contained radioactive material.

Conditions in respect of gaseous radioactive waste

24.—(1) The conditions referred to in paragraph 23(1) are that A must—

(a) to the extent that is reasonably practicable—

(i) in respect of relevant gaseous waste which arises in a building, cause the waste to be disposed of by an extraction system which removes the waste from the area where it arose and which vents the waste into the atmosphere; and

(ii) prevent the entry or, where sub-paragraph (i) applies, the re-entry, of relevant gaseous waste into a building;

and

(b) allow the regulator access to such records or such premises as the regulator may request in order to determine that all of the conditions that apply to A in respect of the relevant exemption in that paragraph are complied with.

(2) In this paragraph “relevant gaseous waste” means waste which is described in paragraph 23(1) and disposed of under the exemption in that paragraph.

Interpretation of this section

34. In this section, where any radionuclide carries the suffix “+” or “sec”—

- (a) that radionuclide represents the parent radionuclide in secular equilibrium with the corresponding daughter radionuclides which are identified in column 2 of Table 8 adjacent to that parent radionuclide; and
- (b) a concentration or activity value given in respect of such a parent radionuclide is the value for the parent radionuclide alone, but already takes into account the daughter radionuclides in column 2 that are present.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations amend the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2010 (S.I. 2010/675) (“the Environmental Permitting Regulations”) by substituting a Schedule 23 to provide a modernised and transparent framework for the regulation of radioactive substances and to demonstrate clearer compliance with Council Directive 96/29/Euratom laying down basic safety standards for the protection of the health of workers and the general public against the dangers arising from ionizing radiation (OJ No L 159, 29.6.1996, p 1).

The amendments also implement amendments which have been made, in respect of carbon capture and storage, to Directive 2008/1/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council concerning integrated pollution prevention and control (OJ No L 24, 29.01.2008, p 8) and to Directive 2000/60/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council establishing a framework for Community action in the field of water policy (OJ No L 327, 22.12.2000, p 1), by Directive 2009/31/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council on the geological storage of carbon dioxide (OJ No L 140, 5.6.2009, p 114.)

Regulations 4, 7, 8 and 13 amend the Environmental Permitting Regulations in consequence of the insertion of the new Schedule 23 by these Regulations.

Regulation 5 makes an amendment to extend the provisions in the Environmental Permitting Regulations relating to groundwater activities to allow a tracer test involving a radioactive substance to fall within the exemption.

Regulation 6 is a technical amendment to clarify the scope of an exception from the requirement to hold an environmental permit which applies to particular persons who dispose of radioactive waste.

Regulations 9 to 11 insert transitional arrangements into the Environmental Permitting Regulations which apply to existing users of radioactive substances (or substances which become radioactive substances by virtue of these Regulations) who are affected by the amendments made by these Regulations. Where a person requires an environmental permit for an activity because of the change to the definitions of radioactive material or waste, that person has until 1st April 2012 to apply for a permit or to comply with a new exemption (if applicable). A person who was exempt but is no longer exempt has until 1st April 2012 to apply for an environmental permit. Until 1st April 2012, a person who, as a consequence of these Regulations, no longer requires a permit in part or whole may, by use of the procedure under regulation 24 of the Environmental Permitting Regulations, surrender that permit or part thereof by notification to the regulator.

Regulation 12 inserts a new regulated activity into Schedule 1 (activities, installations and mobile plant) of the Environmental Permitting Regulations relating to the capture of carbon dioxide.

Regulation 14 inserts into Schedule 22 (groundwater activities) of the Environmental Permitting Regulations a new activity for which the regulator is able to grant a permit, in relation to the geological injection of carbon dioxide.

Regulation 15 replaces Schedule 23 of the Environmental Permitting Regulations with a consolidated version which includes additions and amendments. In particular, the definitions of radioactive material and radioactive waste are amended. Part 7 is inserted into Schedule 23 to provide conditional exemptions from the requirement to hold an environmental permit in respect of certain radioactive substances. Part 8 is inserted to re-enact section 40 of the Radioactive Substances Act 1993.

Three documents are referred to in the tables in the substituted Schedule 23. The document referred to in Table 2 in Part 3 of that Schedule (Radiation Protection 122: Practical use of the concepts of clearance and exemption, Part 1) is available on the European Commission's website (www.ec.europa.eu/energy/nuclear/radiation_protection/doc/publication/122_part1.pdf). The document referred to in Table 5 of Part 7 of that Schedule (Exempt Concentrations and Quantities for Radionuclides not Included in the European Basic Safety Standards Directive) is available to order from the Health Protection Agency (www.hpa.org.uk). The document referred to in Table 7 in Part 7 of that Schedule (Derivation of Liquid Exclusion or Exemption Levels to Support the RSA93 Exemption Order Review) is available on the website of the Health Protection Agency (www.hpa.org.uk/web/HPAwebFile/HPAweb_C/1281952965539).

Regulation 16 makes consequential amendments to other legislation as a consequence of the amendments made to the Environmental Permitting Regulations and the repeal of the Radioactive Substances Act 1993.

Regulations 17 to 19 repeal the majority of the remainder of the Radioactive Substances Act 1993 in England and Wales, and the single exemption order that was not made or deemed to be made under that Act, as well as making savings for the purposes of the transitional arrangements.

The effect of these Regulations is that the Environmental Permitting Regulations regulate, and include exemptions from regulation of, activities in respect of radioactive substances and replace the system which previously existed under the Radioactive Substances Act 1993.

A transposition note and a full regulatory impact assessment of the effect that this instrument will have on the costs of business and the voluntary sector is available and is annexed to the Explanatory Memorandum which is available alongside the instrument on www.legislation.gov.uk.

Business Committee Correspondence

Date: July 2011

Dear David,

Committee Portfolios and Responsibilities in the 4th Assembly

I would like to draw your attention to the Report laid by the Business Committee on 14 July 2011, setting out the committee portfolios and responsibilities, the role of committees and your role as committee Chair (CR-LD8605: Committee Portfolios and Responsibilities in the 4th Assembly, Business Committee, 12 July 2011).

The new Committee system agreed by the Assembly on 22 June introduces a new approach to scrutiny within the Assembly. It simplifies the system, but also brings about challenges to ensure that committees prioritise and manage their activity so as to deliver a balanced, comprehensive and effective programme of legislative, policy and financial scrutiny within the time slots allocated to them in the Assembly timetable.

The Business Committee agreed to review the operation of the new committee system within 12 months. We will pay particular attention to the scope of the remit of each committee as part of the 12 month review, to ensure that broadly all areas are being addressed. We will also consider how the scrutiny of European matters is addressed within the committee system.

Given that we are embarking on this new approach for committee scrutiny, I would like to hold termly meetings with committee chairs to discuss how the system is evolving and any issues arising. I intend to hold the first in the autumn term and will contact your office to arrange this in due course.

In the meantime, please do not hesitate to contact me if you wish to discuss further any matters relating to your role as Chair.

Gohebiaeth gan y Pwyllgor Busnes

Dyddiad: Gorffennaf 2011

Annwyl David,

Portffolios a Chyfrifoldebau'r Pwyllgorau yn y Pedwerydd Cynulliad

Hoffwn ddwyn i'ch sylw yr adroddiad a osodwyd gan y Pwyllgor Busnes ar 14 Gorffennaf 2011 sy'n amlinellu portffolios a chyfrifoldebau'r pwyllgorau, rôl y pwyllgorau a'ch rôl chi fel Cadeirydd pwyllgor (CR-LD8605: Portffolios a Chyfrifoldebau'r Pwyllgorau yn y Pedwerydd Cynulliad, y Pwyllgor Busnes, 12 Gorffennaf 2011).

Mae system newydd y pwyllgorau a gytunwyd gan y Cynulliad ar 22 Mehefin yn cyflwyno agwedd newydd tuag at graffu gan y Cynulliad. Mae'n symleiddio'r system, gan hefyd gyflwyno her i sicrhau bod pwyllgorau'n blaenoriaethu ac yn rheoli eu gweithgareddau er mwyn darparu rhaglen gytbwys, gynhwysfawr ac effeithiol o graffu ar ddeddfwriaeth a pholisi, a gwaith craffu ariannol, yn yr amser sy'n cael ei neilltuo ar eu cyfer o fewn amserlen y Cynulliad.

Cytunodd y Pwyllgor Busnes i adolygu hynt y system newydd o fewn 12 mis. Byddwn yn rhoi sylw arbennig i gylch gwaith pob pwyllgor fel rhan o'r adolygiad hwnnw, er mwyn sicrhau bod pob maes pwnc yn cael ei drafod i ryw raddau. Byddwn hefyd yn ystyried i ba raddau mae'r system newydd yn cynnwys gwaith craffu ar faterion Ewropeaidd.

Dear Mr Melding

COMMISSION ON A BILL OF RIGHTS: DISCUSSION PAPER

As you know, in March of this year the UK Government established a Commission on a Bill of Rights to investigate the creation of a UK Bill of Rights. I was appointed as the Commission's Chair.

The Commission is today launching a discussion paper, Do we need a UK Bill of Rights?, to begin to gather the views of the public in the UK and of organisations which would like to contribute to the Commission's work. This paper is the first part of a wide-ranging work programme that will include public engagement and consultation. We have also posted the paper on the Commission's website (see <http://www.justice.gov.uk/about/cbr/index.htm>), and have requested responses to it by Friday 11 November. I should note that while the discussion paper is endorsed by all members of the Commission, one member, Dr Michael Pinto-Duschinsky, is intending to publish a note setting out his comments on the paper. A link to Dr Pinto-Duschinsky's note, once it is available, will be provided on the Commission's website at the address noted above.

I am writing both to provide you with a copy of the paper and to invite any input which your committee members might wish to provide. I have also written to the First Minister of Wales, Counsel General for the Welsh Government, and to the Chair of the Communities, Equality and Local Government Committee.

As I and other members of the Commission stated in our evidence to the House of Commons Political and Constitutional Reform Committee on 9 and 16 June, and as the minutes of the Commission's first meeting reflect (copy attached), the Commission is very conscious of the particular position of Wales with regard to a possible UK Bill of Rights.

As you will see from my evidence to the Political and Constitutional Reform Committee, and as is reflected in the minutes of our first meeting, the Commission also intends to visit Cardiff later this year. We would very much welcome meetings with you representatives of the Welsh Government and Welsh Assembly at that point, including with your Committee. If you agree that this would be useful, perhaps I could ask the Commission's Secretariat to contact your office directly to discuss the possibility of arranging such meetings.

I should note that I recently wrote to the Welsh Government's nominees to the advisory panel to the Commission, Clive Lewis QC and Reverend Aled Edwards, to congratulate them on their appointment and to propose an initial meeting. I and other members of the Commission are very much looking forward to working with Mr Lewis and Reverend Edwards and the other members of the advisory panel.

I should also note that I have written to the leaders or constitutional spokespeople of every party represented in the parliaments and assemblies of the United Kingdom in order to seek responses to our paper from across the political spectrum and the countries of the UK. I have also asked the Commission's Secretariat to send a copy of the paper to all members of the devolved legislatures and the Westminster Parliament.

I look forward to receiving your views.

Yours sincerely,

Introduction

1. The Commission on a Bill of Rights is an independent Commission set up by the Government¹ and required by our Terms of Reference²

"To investigate the creation of a UK Bill of Rights that incorporates and builds on all our obligations under the European Convention on Human Rights, ensures that these rights continue to be enshrined in UK law, and protects and extends our liberties.

"To examine the operation and implementation of these obligations, and consider ways to promote a better understanding of the true scope of these obligations and liberties.

"To provide advice to the Government on the ongoing Interlaken process to reform the Strasbourg court ahead of and following the UK's Chairmanship of the Council of Europe.

"To consult, including with the public, judiciary and devolved administrations and legislatures, and aim to report no later than by the end of 2012."

2. The Commission has decided to begin to consult by seeking views from the public on the four questions set out in paragraph 5.
3. As regards the need to reform the European Court of Human Rights, on which we are also asked to give advice to the Government, we are not asking detailed questions at this stage. The Government has asked for our preliminary views on this within a limited timeframe, and our further views will be given at a later stage, when we may consult further. Any views on this aspect of our work which you would like to give us at this stage would, however, be welcome. As background we include the text of the Interlaken Declaration and a subsequent Declaration agreed by the forty seven Member States of the Council of Europe at Izmir.
4. The purpose of this Discussion Paper is to begin the process of public consultation.

Questions for Public Consultation

5. The four questions on which we seek your views are:

(1) do you think we need a UK Bill of Rights?

If so,

(2) what do you think a UK Bill of Rights should contain?

(3) how do you think it should apply to the UK as a whole, including its four component countries of England, Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales?

(4) having regard to our terms of reference, are there any other views which you would like to put forward at this stage?

6. The remainder of this paper sets out background to these questions, and is put forward as an aid to understanding. It aims to describe the current position in purely factual terms.

Background

The UK Constitution

7. The United Kingdom is unlike most other democratic countries in Europe and the Commonwealth (apart from New Zealand) in having neither a comprehensive written constitution nor a constitutional charter of fundamental rights which is supreme over ordinary law and able to be amended only by a special prescribed procedure. We have no comprehensive constitutional charter which establishes and gives limited powers to the institutions of government, or which confers and protects the civil and political rights of citizens, or which restricts Parliamentary sovereignty.
8. There are thus no British rights that are 'fundamental' in the sense that they enjoy special constitutional protection against Parliament. The liberties of the subject are implications derived from two principles. The first principle is that we may say or do as we please, provided that we do not transgress the substantive law or the legal rights of others. The second principle is that the Crown and public authorities may only act if they have the power to do so. These powers can derive from legislation, common law and – as far as the Crown is concerned – the royal prerogative. Our laws are a combination of statute law and the principles of the common law and equity developed by our courts. Our system is based upon the constitutional principles of Parliamentary sovereignty and the Rule of Law.

Parliamentary sovereignty

9. The principle of Parliamentary sovereignty means that the power to legislate may be exercised only by Parliament. The principle of Parliamentary sovereignty also means that Parliament cannot limit the power of a future Parliament to amend or repeal legislation.

The Rule of Law

10. The Rule of Law means, among other things, that it is the responsibility of the independent judiciary to interpret and apply the law impartially and fairly, free from government influence or interference.
11. Our constitutional system is also different from that of some other countries in that international treaties do not automatically become part of our law. Parliamentary legislation, such as the European Communities Act 1972, is passed to bring international obligations into domestic law.

International Human Rights Conventions

12. In December 1948, the UN General Assembly adopted the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, recognising the universality of human rights. In 1976, two UN International Covenants – a Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, and a Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights – came into force. They are reinforced by several UN human rights conventions, for example, against torture, race and sex discrimination, and protecting the rights of the child and of the disabled.

13. These international treaties are binding in international law on the UK, but they have not been directly incorporated by legislation into UK law. However, their reporting mechanisms and comments influence UK policy and practice and are taken into account by our courts and lawmakers where relevant. Our courts operate a presumption that where a treaty has been accepted by the Government on behalf of the UK and its citizens, Parliament is presumed to legislate to give effect to the terms of the treaty when introducing legislation in that area.

The Origins of the European Convention on Human Rights

14. The Convention was created in the aftermath of the Second World War which convinced many European politicians and jurists of the need to guard against the rise of dictatorships and to reduce the risk of relapse into another European war. This led to the creation, in 1949, of the Council of Europe. Members of the Council are obliged to accept the principles of the rule of law and the enjoyment by all peoples within their jurisdiction of human rights and fundamental freedoms.
15. One of the Council of Europe's first acts was to draft a human rights Convention for Europe, conferring enforceable rights upon individuals against sovereign states, intended to provide a European mechanism for the enforcement of certain rights.
16. On 23 January 1951,³ in accordance with standard UK practice for the ratification of treaties, the text of the Convention was laid before both Houses of Parliament for 21 sitting days in accordance with the 'Ponsonby Rule'.⁴ No member of either House of Parliament prayed against it, thus there was no Parliamentary debate. However, the Convention was discussed during a House of Commons debate on the Council of Europe on 13 November 1950, one week after the UK's signature of the Convention.⁵ The UK was the first state to ratify the Convention, on 8 March 1951.
17. The Convention came into force on 23 September 1953. The Convention has now been ratified by the forty-seven Member States of the Council of Europe, with a population of over 800 million people, including Russia and the majority of former countries of the Soviet bloc.
18. Subsequent to its introduction, the Convention has been amended or supplemented by several Protocols. Additional rights to protection of property, education and free elections were added by Protocol No.1 to the Convention, ratified by the UK on 3 November 1952. The UK has since ratified Protocol No. 6 on abolishing the death penalty⁶ and Protocols Nos. 11 and 14 which have amended the Convention enforcement machinery.⁷ It has not ratified Protocols Nos. 4, 7 nor 12 which contain further rights.⁸
19. At its inception, only countries, and not individuals, could bring complaints under the Convention. However, the right of individual complaint or petition to the European Commission of Human Rights (as it then was) was accepted by the UK in January 1966 without Parliamentary debate.

Convention rights and freedoms

20. The Convention identifies the following human rights and freedoms:

- Right to life (Article 2);
- Prohibition of torture or inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment (Article 3);
- Prohibition of slavery or servitude, or forced or compulsory labour (Article 4);
- Right to liberty and security (Article 5);
- Right to a fair trial (Article 6);
- No punishment without law (Article 7);
- Right to respect for private and family life, home and correspondence (Article 8);
- Freedom of thought, conscience and religion (Article 9);
- Freedom of expression (Article 10);
- Freedom of peaceful assembly and association (Article 11);
- Right to marry (Article 12);
- Right to an effective remedy (Article 13);
- Prohibition of discrimination (Article 14).

21. Protocol No. 1 includes the following:

- Protection of property (Article 1);
- Right to education (Article 2);
- Right to free elections (Article 3).

Giving effect to the Convention

22. Article 1 of the Convention provides that contracting states must “secure to everyone within their jurisdiction” the Convention rights. States and their public authorities – legislative, executive, and judicial – are required to respect these Convention rights and freedoms and have positive obligations to secure them within their national legal systems. Article 13 of the Convention obliges States and their public authorities to provide effective remedies for violations of the Convention rights.

23. At the same time, Article 35(1) of the Convention provides that (unless they are ineffective) domestic remedies must have been exhausted before an application may be made to the Strasbourg Court. This is to provide the State with the opportunity to remedy the matter itself. The Strasbourg Court is thus intended mainly to be a supervisory Court of last resort, and the main responsibility for enforcing human rights is meant to be that of the domestic authorities, who are in the best position to do so.

24. Article 46 of the Convention also imposes a duty on contracting states to abide by final judgments of the European Court of Human Rights where the Court decides that there has been a violation of the Convention. The supervision of the execution of final judgments of the Strasbourg Court is carried out by the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe, which decides whether the State has adopted sufficient individual and general measures to enable the case to be closed.⁹ If a state were unwilling or unable to abide by a final judgment, it would have the option of withdrawing from the Convention system. Article 58 of the Convention provides that a state has to give six months' notice in order to denounce the Convention.

How the Convention rights are given effect in UK law¹⁰

25. The obligation to provide effective remedies under Article 13 of the Convention is met in the UK by a combination of common law and statute law.
26. Statutes and other documents such as Magna Carta in 1215 and the Declaration of Arbroath in 1320, the later Bill of Rights and Scottish Claim of Right in 1689, and the Reform Acts of the 19th and early 20th centuries, hand in hand with developments of the common law reflect the traditions of liberty on which our current framework of rights and responsibilities is built. The Convention sought to reflect that tradition. Our courts have recognised constitutional rights inherent in the common law as matching some Convention rights, including a right of access to justice, a right to freedom of expression, a right to respect for private life, and a right to equal treatment without discrimination.
27. Apart from specific legislation giving direct or indirect effect to particular Convention rights, the main legislative ways in which the Convention rights have been given effect is by means of the Human Rights Act 1998 and the devolution legislation for Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

The Human Rights Act 1998

28. The Human Rights Act provides legal remedies for violations of Convention rights while adhering to the doctrine of Parliamentary sovereignty by withholding from our courts the power to strike down Acts of Parliament that are held to be incompatible with Convention rights.
29. The Act requires our courts and tribunals to take into account judgments of the European Court of Human Rights where they are relevant. So far as possible, it also requires legislation to be read and given effect in a way which is compatible with the Convention rights. Where a specified higher court considers that a provision in an Act of Parliament is not compatible with a Convention right, the Human Rights Act empowers the court to make a declaration of incompatibility.
30. A declaration of incompatibility does not affect the validity, continuing operation or enforcement of the provision in respect of which it is given. So the relevant legislative provision continues to have force and effect, despite its incompatibility with Convention rights, until such time as it is amended. It is for the Government to decide whether to seek to amend the law. If it decides not to do so, the alleged victim of a violation may have recourse to the European Court of Human Rights, but has no further remedy under UK law.

31. The Human Rights Act also makes it unlawful for any public authority (which includes courts and tribunals but excludes Parliament) to act in a way which is incompatible with a Convention right (apart from where they are required by primary legislation to act in that way).
32. A person who claims that a public authority has acted or proposes to act in a manner made unlawful by the Act may bring proceedings provided that the claimant is a victim within the meaning of the Convention. The Act empowers a court or tribunal to grant appropriate remedies when it finds that a public authority has acted or proposes to act in a way which is incompatible with Convention rights and has therefore acted unlawfully. However, no award of damages may be made unless it is necessary, having regard to any other remedy, to afford 'just satisfaction' to the claimant. When deciding whether to award damages, or the amount of an award, the court or tribunal must take into account the principles applied by the Strasbourg Court in awarding compensation under Article 41 of the Convention.
33. The Act provides that a person's reliance on a Convention right does not restrict any other right or freedom conferred on him by or under any law having effect in any part of the UK. The purpose of this is to safeguard more generous rights which may be enjoyed apart from the Human Rights Act, whether at common law or under other legislation.
34. Section 19 of the Act requires a Minister in charge of a Bill to make a statement before the second reading of the Bill that in his or her view its provisions are compatible with Convention rights, or, if unable to make such a statement of compatibility, that the Government nevertheless wishes the House to proceed with the Bill. The purpose is to ensure that in the preparation of a Bill and its passage through Parliament, consideration is given to any implications the Bill may have in relation to Convention rights, and to ensure that any relevant issues are identified at an early stage so that they can be the subject of informed debate in Parliament.

The Joint Parliamentary Human Rights Committee

35. So far as the work of Parliament is concerned, an independent cross-party Joint Parliamentary Committee of both Houses of Parliament (the JCHR) enables systematic Parliamentary scrutiny of government measures for their compatibility with the Convention rights and the other human rights conventions to which the UK is party.¹¹ The JCHR scrutinises proposed legislation for compatibility with the UK's obligations under the Convention and other human rights treaties by which the UK is bound. Where necessary it questions Ministers. The JCHR also monitors the Government's response to judgments on human rights from the European and UK courts, and conducts thematic inquiries into particular human rights issues (for example, deaths in custody, care for the elderly, business and human rights, human trafficking, extradition and deportation procedures, the operation of anti-terrorist legislation, and the right of disabled people to independent living).

The Equality and Human Rights Commission

36. The Equality and Human Rights Commission (EHRC) was set up by the Equality Act 2006 with duties not only as regards equality and diversity, but also as regards Convention and other human rights.¹² It has monitoring and advisory powers. The EHRC may institute or intervene in legal proceedings, and may rely in judicial review on alleged breaches of the Convention rights, even though it is not a victim or potential victim.¹³

Scotland

37. Scotland is a separate jurisdiction from England and Wales and from Northern Ireland, with its own distinctive legal history and traditions, its own body of common law and statute law, its own system of courts and its own legal profession. However, the Human Rights Act applies to Scottish public authorities in the same way as it applies to public authorities elsewhere in the UK.
38. The Convention has been given further effect in Scotland by virtue of the devolution settlement. Under the Scotland Act 1998, actions by members of the Scottish Government¹⁴ and legislation enacted by the Scottish Parliament¹⁵ must be compatible with the Convention. Legislation or actions which are found to be incompatible by the courts are liable to be declared to be beyond the powers conferred and to be held invalid.
39. A Scottish Commission for Human Rights was set up by Act of the Scottish Parliament in 2006¹⁶ with a general duty to promote human rights and to encourage best practice in relation to human rights, including not only the Convention rights but those in other human rights treaties ratified by the UK.¹⁷

Northern Ireland

40. Under the terms of the Northern Ireland Act 1998, Ministers and Northern Ireland departments are not permitted to act in a way which is incompatible with the Convention.¹⁸ Similarly the Northern Ireland Assembly does not have competence to legislate in a manner incompatible with the Convention.¹⁹
41. The Northern Ireland Human Rights Commission (NIHRC) is an independent statutory body set up in 1999 with wide functions, including giving assistance to individuals in court proceedings, and bringing proceedings itself. It is required by statute to advise the Secretary of State for Northern Ireland on the scope for defining, in a Bill of Rights for Northern Ireland to be enacted by the Westminster Parliament, rights supplementary to those in the Convention. The Belfast (Good Friday) Agreement of 1998 states that the Bill should reflect the particular circumstances of Northern Ireland, drawing as appropriate on international law and experience.
42. On 10 December 2008, the NIHRC presented its Advice on a Bill of Rights for Northern Ireland to the Government. It made a number of recommendations for inclusion in a Bill of Rights.²⁰
43. The Government published its paper "A Bill of Rights for Northern Ireland: Next Steps" for consultation, and the NIHRC made a written response to that paper on 17 February 2010.²¹

Wales

44. The Laws in Wales Act 1535 provided that England and Wales were united and the Welsh and the English were to be subject to the same laws and have the same privileges. Since that time, there has been one legal system for England and Wales. However, the Government of Wales Act 1998, which has since been modified by the Government of Wales Act 2006, provides an additional route for the application of the Convention to Wales.
45. The devolution arrangements set out in the Government of Wales Act 2006 place a requirement upon the Welsh Assembly²² and the Welsh Ministers²³ to act compatibly with the Convention.

European Union rights

46. In 2007 the institutions of the European Union proclaimed the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights.²⁴ This includes a number of social, economic and political rights and principles that do not appear in the Convention. The Charter applies to the institutions of the European Union, and to the Member States "only when they are implementing Union law".²⁵ The Charter, where it applies, has the same legal force as the Treaties.²⁶ Under Protocol 30 to the Lisbon Treaty, the Charter does not contain any new justiciable rights applicable to the United Kingdom or Poland. The Treaties also provide that fundamental rights guaranteed by the Convention and the common constitutional traditions of the Member States are general principles of EU law.²⁷

Endnotes

¹ The Commission's creation was announced by Mr Mark Harper MP (Parliamentary Secretary, Cabinet Office) on 18 March 2011 in a written Ministerial Statement (HC Deb 18 March 2011 c 32WS) as follows:

"The Government have established an independent Commission to investigate the creation of a UK Bill of Rights, fulfilling a commitment we made in our Programme for Government. The Commission will explore a range of issues surrounding human rights law in the UK and will also play an advisory role in our continuing work to press for reform of the European Court of Human Rights in Strasbourg.

"The UK will be pressing for significant reform of the European Court of Human Rights, building on the reform process underway in the lead up to our Chairmanship of the Council of Europe later this year. We will be pressing in particular to reinforce the principle that states rather than the European Court of Human Rights have the primary responsibility for protecting Convention rights.

"The Commission will be chaired by Sir Leigh Lewis KCB, a former permanent secretary at the Department for Work and Pensions with a long career in public service. He will be joined on the Commission by Jonathan Fisher QC, Martin Howe QC, Baroness Kennedy of The Shaws QC, Lord Lester of Herne Hill QC, Philippe Sands QC, Anthony Speaight QC, Professor Sir David Edward QC and Dr Michael Pinto-Duschinsky.

"The Commission members have, between them, extensive legal expertise and experience, and we expect the Commission to take into account a broad range of views as it fulfils its remit. In addition, an advisory panel will be established to provide advice and expertise to the Commission on issues arising in relation to Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland. The Commission will report jointly to the Deputy Prime Minister and the Secretary of State for Justice. The Commission will be supported by a small secretariat of civil servants."

² The Coalition's Programme for Government said: "We will establish a Commission to investigate the creation of a British Bill of Rights that incorporates and builds on all our obligations under the European Convention on Human Rights, ensures that these rights continue to be enshrined in British law, and protects and extends British liberties. 1 Introduction by the Chair

1.1 Sir Leigh Lewis welcomed members of the Commission to the first meeting of the Commission on a Bill of Rights. He thanked members for their early individual discussions with him as Chair and welcomed the sentiment shared by all members to participate in collegiate and productive discussion and debate.

1.2 Sir Leigh Lewis noted that he saw his primary role as Chair as being to facilitate the work of the Commission. The role of the Secretariat to the Commission would be to support members in carrying out the work of the Commission.

2 Round-table discussion

2.1 Sir Leigh Lewis invited members to outline their ambitions for the Commission. Points raised in the discussion included:

(a) there was a desire, as far as possible, to produce a report that forged consensus among members and which would contribute to a well-informed public discussion;

(b) there was a need to be, and to be seen to be, independent from Government;

(c) there was a need to ensure public engagement with the work of the Commission, and therefore a need to conduct a wide-ranging consultation with the public that took account of the diversity of the UK;

(d) there was a need to secure greater public ownership of human rights in the United Kingdom;

(e) the Commission would need to consider fully the implications of the devolution settlements in its work, and consult with the devolved administrations and others in Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales;

(f) the Commission should consider whether and how a Bill of Rights could address concerns about the Human Rights Act 1998, including the concerns of some that its incorporation of ECHR rights had resulted in it being viewed as a foreign import;

(g) the Commission should consider both the historical provenance of human rights protection and its common law heritage; in particular the Commission should consider the role of the common law in domestic human rights judgments in addition to the requirement to take account of the jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights;

(h) the Commission should consider the relationship between Parliament, the executive and the judiciary in terms of the respective roles of each in any system of human rights protection;

(i) the Commission should consider the margin of appreciation and what impact a UK Bill of Rights might or should have on the approach of the European Court of Human Rights in this respect;

(j) the Commission should consider:

- whether existing rights could or should be rebalanced, for example as regards the relationship between Articles 8 and 10;
- whether existing rights could or should be modernised to take account of technological advances;
- whether any additional rights could or should be included in any UK Bill of Rights such as the right to jury trial, habeas corpus (although mindful of the need to reflect the position under Scots law), a right to equal protection of the law, and a right to administrative justice;
- whether rights should be accompanied by responsibilities;
- the remedies provided for in the Human Rights Act 1998 and the balance struck by that Act between Parliament (including the JCHR), the executive branch and the legislature;

(k) the Commission should prioritise the work on its interim advice on the reform of the European Court of Human Rights, given that its Terms of Reference requested such advice ahead of the UK's forthcoming Chairmanship of the Council of Europe;

(l) the Commission's advice on reform of the European Court of Human Rights should try to look at the big picture and the future possibility of fundamental reforms, rather than at changes that simply tinkered with the existing system.

2.2 Summing up the discussion, Sir Leigh Lewis thanked members for their initial contributions. He said that he was encouraged by the degree to which members appeared willing to look for agreement on the issues facing the Commission.

3 Ways of working

3.1 Introducing the item, Sir Leigh Lewis noted that certain members had already touched in their contributions on ways in which the Commission should approach its work. The main points raised in discussion were:

(a) members agreed that all discussion in meetings of the Commission should remain confidential;

(b) members agreed that for reasons of practicality, the Commission would need at times to operate without all its members being present, with those members who were present conducting certain meetings or consultations or other work on behalf of the Commission as a whole;

(c) members agreed that teleconference facilities should be used in its work where this was necessary;

(d) members agreed that the Commission should have its own public website. Members also agreed that they would benefit from access to a private intranet forum where confidential discussion threads could be conducted and where documents could be made available confidentially to members. Sir Leigh noted the distinction between a public website hosted by the existing Ministry of Justice domain and a website created outside the existing Ministry of Justice infrastructure, in particular the fact that the latter would cost more and take longer to launch. Members agreed that a public website within the existing Ministry of Justice domain would be acceptable on that basis, provided the independence of the Commission was made clear and explicit;

Action: the Secretariat to continue work on the development of a public website for the Commission and to investigate the options for creating a secure intranet forum

(e) a number of members noted that they had been invited to appear before the House of Commons Political and Constitutional Reform Committee on 9 and 16 June 2011. Members agreed that Sir Leigh Lewis would contact the Chair of the Committee to discuss the appearances and would report back to members;

Action: the Secretariat to arrange a discussion between Sir Leigh Lewis and the Chair of the Political and Constitutional Reform Committee

(f) members agreed to issue a short press statement following the first meeting of the Commission. This statement should report the fact that the Commission had met for the first time and highlight its intention to engage in substantial public consultation and outreach;

Action: the Secretariat to circulate a draft press statement to members on Monday 9 May 2011

(g) members agreed that future meetings of the Commission should, where possible, be held in the House of Lords.

Action: the Secretariat to proceed accordingly and to liaise with Baroness Kennedy and Lord Lester to facilitate access to the House of Lords for future meetings

4 Draft work programme and public consultation

4.1 Introducing the item, Sir Leigh Lewis invited members to note papers 1 and 2.

Proposed dates of future meetings

4.2 Members agreed that the next meeting would take place on Tuesday 28 (commencing 3.30pm) and Wednesday 29 June 2011 (ending 4pm) at a location within commuting distance of central London.

4.3 Members agreed to reschedule the July meeting in the light of the revised meeting dates for June. The July meeting will now take place from 10am until 2pm on Monday 11 July 2011. The meeting will be followed by an optional lunch in the House of Lords.

Action: the Secretariat to confirm members' availability for the optional lunch on 11 July 2011, and for further meeting dates for 2011

Issues paper

4.4 It was suggested that one method of setting out the many issues facing the Commission and engaging early with the public would be to produce an issues paper. This approach had been useful and effective in previous similar work undertaken by some members.

4.5 Members agreed that the paper should be a neutral and brief exposition of the issues before the Commission, and should pose open questions. The paper should not purport to be an exhaustive survey of all of the issues but would invite input and views.

Action: the Secretariat to prepare a draft issues paper for consideration at the next meeting of the Commission. Lord Lester and Professor Sir David Edward to provide the Secretariat with examples of previous papers by way of background

Consultation and 'outreach strategy'

4.6 Members agreed that comprehensive public consultation would be important in order to ensure that the Commission's work was fully informed by a diverse range of views from across the United Kingdom. The main points raised in discussion were:

- (a) the current devolution settlements had particular implications for the creation of any UK Bill of Rights. It was essential that the Commission visit Belfast, Cardiff and Edinburgh, and that it consulted fully with the devolved administrations and with other stakeholders in those jurisdictions;
- (b) more generally it would be important to seek the views of a diverse range of individuals and organisations representative of a wide range of interests and backgrounds;
- (c) previous similar Commissions had used various strategies for public consultation that would be useful to consider;
- (d) the Commission should consider whether and how to engage with the academic community;
- (e) the Commission would need to consult with the judiciary.

4.7 Summing up the discussion, Sir Leigh Lewis noted that members were agreed that the Commission needed to develop a robust strategy for consultation and outreach.

Action: the Secretariat to prepare a draft 'outreach strategy' for consideration at the next meeting of the Commission. The Secretariat to liaise with Professor Sir David Edward and Baroness Kennedy who have experience in conducting similar exercises.

5 Factual update on Interlaken

Commission's mandate to provide advice on reform of the European Court of Human Rights

5.1 Introducing the item, Sir Leigh Lewis invited members to note paper 3. Members had already referred to the issue of court reform as part of the discussions on the terms of reference under item 2. The main points raised in that discussion had been that:

- (a) the Commission should examine fundamental questions such as the role of the Strasbourg court, as opposed to the minutiae of proposed reform;
- (b) it would be important for the Commission to consider the implications of any recommendations for reform in terms of available resources and practical impact;

(c) the timing of the United Kingdom's Chairmanship of the Council of Europe meant that the Commission would need to provide advice quickly on this issue.

5.2 Summing up the discussion, Sir Leigh Lewis invited members to work with the Secretariat to prepare a draft paper on court reform.

Action: the Secretariat to prepare a draft paper on court reform for consideration at the next meeting

Visit to the European Court of Human Rights

5.3 Members agreed that an early visit to Strasbourg would be important in informing the Commission's work in this area. Members discussed possible individuals with whom to meet in Strasbourg. It was noted that the Joint Committee on Human Rights was due to visit Strasbourg on 22-23 June 2011.

5.4 Summing up the discussion, Sir Leigh Lewis asked the Secretariat to propose a schedule for the visit and to liaise with the British Ambassador to the Council of Europe with a view to arranging a visit by the Commission to the European Court of Human Rights.

Action: the Secretariat to proceed accordingly

6. AOB and date of next meeting

6.1 Dr Michael Pinto-Duschinsky invited any members who would like to do so to attend a seminar which he has been involved in organising to be held on 20 May 2011 in Oxford. The seminar would deal with issues of relevance to the Commission's work.

Action: the Secretariat to circulate further information on the seminar to members

6.2 The next meeting would be held on 28-29 June 2011 at a venue to be agreed by the Chair with the Secretariat.
