Response from: Angela Sandles, Foster carer

I am a foster carer for Newport CC and received a call from one of the social work team XXXXXXXXXX today asking about how we are managing as a family during lockdown. XXXXX thought you might be interested in what the youngest (age 14) is currently working on.

She is a pupil at XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX School in Newport and as part of her geography work she needed to interview local people to find out people's opinions on the quality of life in our local area.

Clearly she couldn't take a clipboard out into our village so she used the free version of survey monkey and came up with 9 questions.

We posted these with a brief explanation of the purpose on a local community website.

The response has been great.

Using Google classroom she has:

Used her ICT skills to build an Excel database

Used PowerPoint with links to the data

Used maths to create formulae

Collected a wealth of data which she is using to sort responses

Used her communication skills to devise the questions framed in a variety of ways

Learned about her local area

However, the free version of Survey Monkey only allows you access to the first 40 responses, so sadly there is a huge amount of data that she can't access.

If you are interested (and if she agrees) I can send her completed work (once it's finished)
