Inquiry into the impact of the Covid-19 outbreak on children and young people in Wales

COV 143
Response from: Individual

My view is to allow children to attend school full time in September. I feel the risk of Covid to children is minimal and as a mother of 2 their mental health is of greater risk by not being with their friends and teacher. They are desperate to go back full time and I feel their learning is better in the classroom. I feel if England are going back Then us in Wales will fall behind and their education is so important. The lockdown is having an impact on my children's mental health and they just want to be learning with their friends.

Please take this into consideration and allow children back full time in Sept.
