Inquiry into recycling in Wales
Response from: Don Bell

As a Vale of Glamorgan resident, I wish to endorse their co-mingling approach. It is extremely easy to carry out and therefore encourages recycling. This method means less receptacles are needed and less clutter in the street on collection days. The collection cycle works well with the green waste facility an absolute boon. I do have knowledge of the Bridgend system and it is not as comprehensive or straightforward as the Vale one. I cannot comment on the cost implications but The Vale seem happy with their facility and wish to continue as they are. Why upset a system that works!
